Optimism drives Asian stocks

AFP, Hong Kong

Asian share markets gained ground Tuesday on new hopes the downturn might be nearing an end, but profit-taking capped gains with many investors still jittery about the short-term situation.

HONG KONG: Up 0.3 percent. The Hang Seng gained 49.03 points to 16,430.08.

SYDNEY: Up 0.19 percent. The S&P/ASX200 added 7.4 points to 3,890.4.

SHANGHAI: Up 0.29 percent. The composite added 7.43 points to 2,567.34.

The market got a boost from a cabinet announcement of plans to further develop a coastal economic zone near Taiwan, amid broader speculation of a turnaround in the global downturn.

"The consensus is that the worst is over. First-quarter results were weak, but were a dramatic improvement from the fourth quarter," said Huatai Securities analyst Chen Jinren.

TAIPEI: Up 0.78 percent. The weighted index gained 49.54 points to 6,379.94.

SINGAPORE: Up 2.25 percent. The STI added 45.64 points to 2,074.35.

It was another strong day for Singapore, which saw a 5.65 percent bump on Monday.

KUALA LUMPUR: Down 0.05 percent. The KLCI lost 0.49 points to 1,008.87.

The market saw profit-taking after a previous rally pushed the index past the 1,000-point level.

KNM gained 6.2 percent to 68.5 sen.

JAKARTA: Down 0.90 percent. The composite lost 16.08 points to 1,772.07.

The drop came despite a decision by the central bank Indonesia to cut its key interest rate by 25 basis points to 7.25 percent to mitigate the impact of the global crisis on Southeast Asia's biggest economy.

MANILA: Up 2.8 percent. The composite added 59.61 points to 2,197.23.

Investors welcomed news that Philippine inflation had slowed to 4.8 percent, and said overseas players were buying in.

WELLINGTON: Up 1.9 percent. The NZX-50 gained 52.78 points to 2,819.05.

New Zealand took its cue from the strong performances in the United States the previous day.

Market leader Telecom gained four cents to a seven-month high of 2.78 New Zealand dollars, Contact Energy jumped 26 cents to 6.10, and Fletcher Building was up three cents at 6.93.

Auckland International Airport rose two cents to 1.71, while casino operator Sky City gained seven cents to to 2.77.

Just five of the top-50 stocks lost ground, including discount retailer The Warehouse.

Euro dips against dollar

AFP, London

The euro slid against the dollar Tuesday as traders awaited this week's interest rate decision from the European Central Bank and crucial results of "stress tests" on the US banking sector.

Trading was somewhat muted with Tokyo's financial markets shut until Thursday because of the "Golden Week" holiday.

In London morning trade on Tuesday, the European single currency fell to 1.3376 dollars from 1.3408 dollars late on Monday in New York.

Against the Japanese currency, the dollar rose to 99.09 yen from 98.78 yen late Monday.

The European Central Bank (ECB) will unveil its latest monetary policy decision on Thursday, with analysts predicting record low interest rates and other ways to pull eurozone members from their worst recession in six decades.

The central bank was forecast to lower its key lending rate by a quarter point to an all-time low of 1.0 percent, while it could also issue more unconventional means of boosting eurozone lending.

"Investors are lying low ahead of Thursday's ECB rate decision," said Dresdner Kleinwort analyst Ulrich Leuchtmann.

"Even though a 25-basis-point key rate cut is generally expected the question remains which unconventional measures the ECB will pluck up the courage to take."

Global stock markets had risen sharply Monday and extended their gains Tuesday on signs the worst may be over for the recession-hit US economy, according to analysts.

Oil prices fall in Asian trade

AFP, Singapore

Oil prices were lower in Asian trade Tuesday ahead of the release of the weekly energy inventory report in the United States, dealers said.

New York's main futures contract, light sweet crude for delivery in June, eased 40 cents to 54.07 dollars a barrel in the afternoon.

Brent North Sea crude for June delivery fell 39 cents to 54.19 dollars.
