Asian currencies up against dollar

AFP, Hong Kong

Asian currencies were mostly up against the struggling US dollar, which weakened further after the US central bank chief expressed concern over the country's economy, saying it faced multiple challenges.

JAPANESE YEN: The yen surged to the highest level in almost three years against the dollar, which was faced with strong selling pressure after US central bank chief Ben Bernanke warned the economy faced complex problems, dealers said.

The Japanese currency stood at 104.84 to the dollar on Friday, rising from 107.52 a week earlier.

Early Friday in Tokyo, the yen was bidding as high as 104.66 against the dollar, its highest level since May 2005 when it touched 104.37.

"The market's insecurity over the US economy strengthened" after Bernanke's comments, said Masaki Fukui, senior market economist at the forex division of Mizuho Corporate Bank.

The greenback was also on the back foot on renewed fears of a credit crunch after Bernanke said that smaller firms could fail from the credit crisis although large US banks were likely to recover, dealers said.

CHINESE YUAN: The yuan closed at 7.1107 to the dollar Friday on the exchange-traded market, compared with Thursday's close of 7.1130, and a closing price of 7.1420 to the dollar the week before.

On the over-the-counter market, it ended at 7.1115 to the dollar against 7.1133 the previous day.

The central bank had set the yuan central parity rate at 7.1058 to the dollar Friday, compared with 7.1209 on Thursday.

HONG KONG DOLLAR: The city's currency finished the week at 7.779 to the US dollar, compared with 7.79 the previous Friday.

INDONESIAN RUPIAH: The rupiah ended the week trading at 9,062/9,068 rupiah to the dollar, compared to 9,175/9,180 to the dollar a week earlier.

PHILIPPINE PESO: The Philippine peso rose to 40.455 to the dollar on Friday from 40.640 on February 22.

SINGAPORE DOLLAR: The dollar was at 1.3920 Singapore dollars on Friday from 1.4075 the previous week.

SOUTH KOREAN WON: The won closed at 939.00 won per dollar Friday, compared with 948.50 won a week earlier, as the greenback weakened globally on expectation that the United States may again lower interest rates.

TAIWAN DOLLAR: The Taiwan dollar rose 1.73 percent in the week to February 29 to close at 30.950 against the US dollar. The local currency closed at 31.495 a week ago.

THAI BAHT: The Thai baht hit fresh 10-year highs against the dollar over the past week amid speculation that the central bank would lift stringent capital controls, dealers said.

The Thai currency closed at 31.96-98 to the greenback on Friday, up from 32.52-54 a weeklier.

HSBC posts 12.4pc profit rise

AFP, Hong Kong

HSBC has been tipped by analysts to report on Monday a 12.4 percent profit increase for 2007 as a strong performance in Asia helped offset rising US bad debts and asset write-downs from the credit crunch.

The global banking giant is expected to post a 2007 pretax profit of 24.823 billion US dollars, up from 22.086 billion dollars the year before, according to the average of six analyst forecasts compiled by Thomson Financial.

Investors are likely to focus on the group's US bad debts, which are expected to rise sharply on the back of higher defaults by sub-prime mortgage customers at US subsidiary HSBC Finance Corporation.

HSBC, Europe's largest bank, had said in December that HSBC Finance incurred a bad debt charge of 3.4 billion dollars in the third quarter, up from about 2 billion dollars in each of the preceding three-month periods.

Analysts at Credit Suisse believe the US business will report full-year bad debts of 10.8 billion dollars, pushing the group impairment charge up by 52 percent to 16.059 billion dollars.
