NISUR Rahman, a staff photographer of The L Daily Star, whose twoday exhibition of 53 photos of acid victims began at the National Press Club on 3rd July, said, "This is my collection of four years and I admit that this exhibition is different from what one sees normally. During my routine work I often go to DMCH and there I was accosted by a patient who gave me Tk 30, a slip and asked me to get him some medicines. I eventually found that the medicines cost over Tk 400 and I decided from then on that I would help the sick people in some way or another. I decided that through my photography I would somehow raise funds for the needy and deprived. In this exhibition I've Talking to some of the acid victims whose photographs had been taken and who had gathered there that morning for the opening of the exhibition, one was even more aware of the suffering and determination of these women. Some spoke of having been in Europe and having had treatments. One of them, a 17 year old student, spoke of having been in Spain and said that she wanted to fight against the evil even though she herself was a victim. Reba Yasmeen, who finished her college studies is who has had acid thrown on her. Her mother was suspected of now on the look out for a job.

Concert

Singing 'No to drugs'

NAFID IMRAN AHMED

JUNE 26 was the 'International day for Drug Awareness and Illicit Trafficking'. To commemorate this day and to create awareness of drugs, ALO, a social organisation organised a charity concert on June 27 at the Scholastica STM auditorium.

ALO is a non profitable organisation registered with the Department of Social Welfare and its main focus is to spread the message of drug awareness among the various groups of the society including the grass root levels. The members of ALO are all volunteers and the organisation includes physicians, educationists and other prominent members of the society.

This year three bands per formed at the concert, Ajob, Dol Chut and Bangla.

The show titled 'Light with Hope' started off with the welcoming speech from ALO organisers. The first band to perform was 'Ajob', a new band on the block. 'Dasher Pane Ekbar Chao Re..' was the first number. Pure Bengali folk with fused alternative music was their type. Next was the famous number 'Ke Jas Re'. This number was followed by 'Tasher Moto Ghor' and 'Dil Doriyar Maze Re Tui'.

Dol Chut took the stage next.

'Ajob' performing at the show

They started with 'Brishti Pore Jole Bhije'. Next they performed 'Ami Fire Jete Chai' and 'Tumi

An amazing 'fire show' stunned the audience after 'Dol Chut's' performance. ALO wanted to show the audience that there are natural ways to get high, not with the help of drugs.

The long awaiting band 'Bangla' came on stage finally. The audience greeted them. Anushe, Bangla's vocal shared her dark experience with the audience. Then she started with 'Shohoj Manush'. One after another they enthralled the crowd with songs like 'Shona diya..', 'Shabash Manush', 'Nokol Chini' and new numbers like 'Pagol Chara Duniya Chole Na', 'Jodi Allahr Shakkhat Chao' and 'Pakhita Bondho Ache Deher Khachay'. The crowd enjoyed their performance.

Overall it was a highly enjoyable evening, with great music and a tremendous amount of fun, and it surely created some awareness among the people who were present there.
