Presidency University launched

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Presidency University, a private institution, was launched at a ceremony at Hotel Sheraton yesterday.

The university will start its academic activities at its campus at Gulshan-2 from September 2003.

"Presidency University is a non-profit institution and its members do not receive a single penny from its earnings," Chairperson of the Presidency University Foundation Rokia A Rahman said, dispelling 'negative projections' of private universities in the country.

The net revenue from the university fees will be recycled towards education development, she added.

Thanking the government for its major overhaul of the education system, Rokia said that Presidency University will extend its support to the overhaul by preventing 'brain drain' of academics leaving for foreign countries.

Vice-Chancellor (designate) Muslehuddin Ahmad said Presidency University will continue the ideal of a 'politics-free' educational environment that comes from its deep commitment to quality education.

He urged the World Bank to set up a global 'Education Window' - an interest-free loan scheme - for the students from developing countries.

He also urged the government to set up a body to provide internationally recognised accreditation for Bangladeshi universities.

Speaking as chief guest, Education Minister Dr Osman Faruk hoped that the Presidency University would add to the competitive edge of private universities.

Minister for Science and ICT Dr Abdul Moyeen Khan and Moazzam Hossain, vice-chairman of the Presidency University Foundation, also spoke.

At present, the university has six academic programmes under four faculties: Azimur Rahman School of Engineering, Moazzam Hossain School of Business, School of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences, and School of Information Technology and Applied Sciences.

Chairperson of Presidency University Foundation Rokia A Rahman presents a crest to Education Minister Dr Osman Faruk at the inaugural ceremony of the university at a city hotel yesterday. Minister for Science and Information and Communication Technology Dr Abdul Moyeen Khan (extreme right) is also seen in the picture.
