Pathfinders in print making

Exhibition of 30 artists at "Shilpangan"

FAYZA HAQ

THE recent exhibition of contemporary printmakers at "Shilpangan" included the ones of artists abroad such as Monirul Islam and Shahid Kabir from Spain, Wakilur Rahman from Germany and Munirul Islam from New York.

Mohammed Kibria had a rectangle in gray surrounded by forms -- circles, discs and squares -- that were suggested. One side of the rectangle had diagonal lines. The work was bluish black and gray.

Monirul Islam's etchings, "Shad-flowers he had brought "kodom" blossoms were white, couched in beige and blue. The encircling, curling clouds were blue, black and brown.

Mahmudul Haque's work had a cross in the centre with etching work all around forming a bigger image. In another of his compositions one found a rectangle in gray, surrounded by strips of white on a background of white.

Abdus Sattar's print had a flower bud on dull green with a circle around it. There were scattered bits like torn fragments of paper surrounding it. There was a semicircle

Benson & Hedges Star Search 2003 Final picks up the promising musical youths

HARUN UR RASHID, Chittagong

A very cheerful and cooperating crowd, some genuine tints of talent among the participants and, above all, the satisfactorily predictable results marked this year's Benson & Hedges Star Search Final.

Sultana Shumi and Rezaul Karim Limon were appreciated the most by the audience. With Nigar's high-Search 2003 held at the Engineers' Institute in Chittagong on October 03. Among them, nine were bands and seven solo performers.

The panel of judges for the final event included seven popular performers and singers, namely Andrew Kishore, Nakib Khan, Omar Khaled Rumi, Feisal Siddiqi, Partha Barua, Fuad Naser Babu and Manam Ahmed.

pitched vocal and presentation, the folk music of the country might achieve a notable boost, especially amongst the young audience.

After the competition, the judges took to the stage and gave an informal but perfectly entertaining pre-

Director of British American Tobacco, Bangladesh, and Subir Chowdhury, National Sales Manager of BAT Bangladesh were present.

Having taken place outside the capital for the first time, the boisterous final was an exemplary event in the true sense that proves that such events not necessarily have to be held in Dhaka always.
