PHD Partners in Health and Development

Job Opportunity

Partners in Health and Development (PHD) is an independent health consultancy company providing expert health and development support to Governments, Development Partners, Commercial Donors and NGOs. It is governed by a group of directors comprised of five individuals. Drawing on 17 years experience as a DFID funded project office (previously UNICEF), we are already market leader in NGO contracting, fund management and capacity development. Our current business plan now requires a Managing Director from within the sector to help PHD continue to expand its range of quality consultancy services. We are therefore looking for an extremely determined and deft individual who will make a significant difference within the Bangladesh health sector consultancy.

This role will require the candidate to bring in substantial management and health sector experience. The successful candidate will not only provide leadership to the existing team but also will be responsible for developing external relations and also securing new business activities. A background as an established "fee earning" consultant is essential. A well-established reputation in the sector, excellent financial analytical skills and a demonstration of successfully winning and managing large projects are naturally a pre-requisite for any initial consideration.

The successful candidate is expected to have a minimum 10 years experience of managing health and development programs in South Asia and Bangladesh and will have an excellent academic record.

PHD has approved a significant negotiable pay package depending on aptitude and suitability. PHD however, expects you to suggest your own aspired remuneration in your application. Please apply within 27 March 2006 to Management Team PHD, House No. HWD 12/A, Road No. 8 new, Gulshan-1, Dhaka-1212.
