VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

National Consultant (Forestry Result/Data Analysis Consultant): 1 position, duty station: Project office in Dhaka

Bangladeshi nationals are invited to apply for the National consultant positions of the Project TCP/BGD/3001- "Strengthening capacity to generate quality information on forest resources". The Forests Department of Ministry of Environment and Forest is the government implementing agency of the project.

Duties: Under the overall supervision of the FAO Representative in Bangladesh, and the technical supervision of the Chief, FORM Forest Resources Assessment Programme, in collaboration with the international consultant(s), national authorities and other national staff(s), the national consultant will assist the Forests Department in training the Forest Department personnel, planning and implementing the national forest assessment (NFA) and setting up the information system. The main task of the consultant will be to:

1. Participate in processing and analysis of data (together with FORM, the TCDC consultant and the NIC).
2. Participate in the integration of NFA Field survey data into national information system (GIS based) together with the team from the NFA-unit.
3. Supervise and assist in the integration of NFA Remote sensing results into national information system (GIS based) together with the team from the NFA-unit.
4. Supervise and assist in making project conclusions, based on the data-sets produced in the data processing (together with FORM, the IC and the NIC).
5. Supervise and assist in writing the project report, based on the conclusions made (together with the IC and the NIC).
6. Involve the staff of the FD in all activities and carry out on-the-job training which will enable FD to build up capacity to run the above mentioned activities using its own personnel.
7. Advise how FD can secure its long term capacity to carry out future NFA's (together with the IC).
8. Carry out other duties as required by the project.

Qualifications and experiences: The consultant should hold at least a Masters degree in forestry/natural sciences and relevant working experience related to NFAs. Excellent skills in analyzing national forest resources and in report writing relevant to national policy making as well as international reporting is required. Experience in remote sensing is necessary. Candidates should be well versed with computer application and must be below the age of 62 years (mandatory retirement age). Fluency in English, spoken and written is required. Recruitment of the selected candidates will be subject to medical and other clearances.

The position is for 4 months period (WAE, possibly divided into two separate contracts). Only short listed candidates will be invited for computer based written test and interview.

Interested candidates having required qualifications and experiences may apply with detailed curriculum vitae, recent photograph and copies of certificates. The candidates must ensure that following information are clearly stated in their CV: i. Year of passing Master degrees, class / division obtained and name of the institution(s); ii. time, duration, place and name of the institution (s) where trained in relevant field; iii. name of the organization(s) employed in the past giving title, period, nature and place of work; iv. experience of working with similar activities stating period, place, nature and period of work; v. experience of working with UN and International Donor Agencies stating period, place and nature of work; vi. details of important documents / reports / manual produced.

All things being equal, women candidate will get preference. The level of remuneration will be as per FAO guidelines. Applications should be addressed to the FAO Assistant Representative (Operations), FAO Representation in Bangladesh, House # 37, Road # 8, Dhanmondi Residential Area or P.O. Box 5039 (New Market), Dhaka indicating the name of the position applied for on the envelop. Application must be received in the FAO Representation on or before 15 April 2006.

As per the FAO recruitment policies, any form of persuasion or any attempt to influence at any step of the selection process by unsolicited interventions in favour of a particular candidate will result in the automatic disqualification of the recommended candidate.
