Books

South Asia Post 9/11 Searching for Stability Price: Tk 795.00 This volume is the outcome of an international conference organized jointly by the Observer Research Foundation of India and Rosa Luxembourg Foundation of Germany on February 20 and 21, 2003, at New Delhi. The title of the conference was "Pluralism, Democracy and Conflict Resolution: The Search for Stability in South Asia after 9/11". The conference was held against the backdrop of fear and uncertainty that had gripped the international community after September 11. The subsequent bombing of Afghanistan and the regime change in Kabul further fuelled apprehensions in South Asia where terrorism has come to stay, encouraged, ironically, by western security and intelligence agencies in pursuit of their geo-strategic activities.

Spirit of the Bedroom Jane Alexander Price: Tk 730.00 Beautifully illustrated, Spirit of the Bedroom helps you turn your bedroom into a perfect haven of peace and tranquillity. The bedroom, with its links to sleep and dreams, intimacy and solitude, is one of the most beguiling and mysterious rooms in the house. This beautifully designed and stunningly illustrated book from best-selling author Jane Alexander offers a tempting glimpse into the kind of sanctuary well all crave—comfortable, relaxed, stylish, serene. The book focuses on how to bring out the potential of the room; how to use colour, sound, scent and light in the room; furnishings and decoration, creative storage and finishing touches; simple rituals and blessings for the room—space clearing, cleansing and rituals.

Sasilar Galpo, (The Sasia Story) Madanjit Singh, Price: Tk 920.00 The author, goodwill ambassador of the Unesco, named a one-unit currency for South Asia "Sasia". He hopes the currency will greatly help establish economic stability and regional cooperation in the region, just as the euro has done in Europe. The book presents the story of a spirited youth and the incidents following the 1947 Partition, the tremendous tension between India and Pakistan that caused utter suffering to their peoples.

Our Lives and Hopes Beyond Statistics and Reports Mridu Shalaj Thanki & Jyoti Dhingra Price: Tk 340.00 This book is about the lives of children living in urban poverty and its consequences on their day-to-day life and their future. A hundred and forty children living in most deprived conditions in Dhaka, tell their story. They relate their experiences and express their views about what it means to them to be poor and about their dreams.

Handbook of Inclusive Education for Educators, Administrators, and Planners Within Walls, Without Boundaries Edited by Madhumita Puri & George Abraham Price: Tk 850.00 The concept of "inclusive education" is gaining ground in educational circles throughout the world. Inclusion does not refer only to children with disabilities but embraces all children who face some kind of barrier to education. This "handbook" is based on the premise that diversity should not be used to segregate and that inclusive schools help the development of communities where all children are equally valued and have the same opportunities for participation.

Resonance The New Chemistry of Love Barbara Miller Fishman Price: Tk 1300.00 Couples now battle the pressure of dual careers, financial competition, and sexual politics every day. Resonance—a new relationship model for the '90s and beyond—offers powerful and practical skills to sustain passion and commitment, against the odds, for a lifetime.

Selected Short Stories of Shahed Ali Translated and edited by Diruba Z Ara Price: Tk 300.00 This unique and diverse collection of short stories by eminent Bengali author Shahed Ali (1922-2001) gives the reader a look into daily life in Bangladesh and its people. It exposes one to the beliefs and customs of the Bengali culture. It explores society from the upper crust to the poor and unfortunate, sharing a wonderful insight into the makings of each and every individual we meet through these stories.

Disciplining Birth Power, Knowledge and Childbirth Practices in Bangladesh Kaosar Afsana, Price: Tk 475.00 This book is about birth practices among poor, rural women in Bangladesh. Kaosar Afsana has used a multidimensional framework for the study. She draws upon ideas and perspectives from history, anthropology, gender and socio-political economy to analyse experiences of self and other, which are truly impressive.

Without Compass or Map Cultural Organisations/Different Dialogues Edited by Anjum Katyal Photographs by Naveen Kishore Price: Tk 2000.00 Nineteen men and women, all professionals in the field of culture and the arts, from seven countries across Asia, attempt to engage with four diverse cultural organisations by studying them in their own environments, to better understand their histories, achievements and survival strategies. The aim was "an exemplary form of cultural exchange", an attempt at peer interaction without the usual built-in power imbalance between "researcher" and "informant". This highly unusual book will be of interest to anyone concerned with the theory and practice of cultural activism and cultural exchange, especially within and across Asia.

Protracted Contest Sino-Indian Rivalry in the Twentieth Century John W Garver Price: Tk 1190.00 Relations between India and China have been influenced by a remarkable degree of rivalry, suspicion, and animosity that have led to a full-fledged war and numerous military confrontations in the South Asian region. While there have been a plethora of studies on Sino-Indian conflict by scholars, researchers, and journalists from both countries, this book offers a dispassionate and objective investigation from a neutral perspective. John W Garver, a noted American scholar, traces the roots of rivalry to the simultaneous emergence of two large and modern nation states in the region trying to determine their respective national interests and security concerns starting from the mid-twentieth century.
