Child Sight Journalist Fellowship
Child Sight Foundation is an organisation working to ensure the rights and sights of the visually impaired children in Bangladesh. In a national study of childhood blindness in Bangladesh we found that lack of knowledge, awareness and practice about child eye care and negative attitude of community members towards children with visual impairment – are the major barriers towards the establishment of child rights and sights. With an aim to overcome all these barriers and to create awareness, public opinion and establish a right based society for the visually impaired children, Child Sight Foundation has been implementing a communication programme. We are happy to announce that in order to strengthen this awareness campaign we are going to provide orientation, information, training and award for the journalists through the Child Sight Journalist Fellowship.
Who can apply for the Child Sight Fellowship:

- Journalists (Health, Human rights and Development journalists will be preferred)
- Writers, students, development workers and any other interested person.
- At least graduate in any discipline.

Selection criteria and fellowship process:

- Among the applicants 10 will be selected and oriented on Child blindness through an orientation workshop.
- Each selected journalist is expected to publish at least two reports on Child blindness in the leading national dailies and weeklies (Bangla or English) with in 3 (Three) months time.
- A panel of Jury's (consists of renowned journalists of Bangladesh and child sight experts from London) will be formed to select the best reports for Child Sight Journalist Fellowship Award.

Awards:

- Best report: Twenty Five Thousand (25,000) taka and Award Crest.
- Second best report: Ten Thousand (10,000) taka and Award Crest.
