'Free, fair polls to help attract foreign investment'

EU to send 10-member pre-poll exploratory mission in Sept

UNB, Dhaka

Germany, now leading Europe as the EU chair, called for free and fair elections in Bandladesh as they think the upcoming polls would send "decisive signals" to people abroad, encouraging foreign investment in the country.

The major political parties should forge some common understanding through dialogue to ensure free and fair polls by way of making accommodation and compromise, new German Ambassador Frank Meyke said in an interview with the UNB in the city yesterday.

He said free and fair elections would be an important signal at home and abroad, not least to investors, that democracy and political stability, law and order and human rights are being strengthened in the country.

"Germany is determined to support all efforts to strengthen democracy and human rights in Bangladesh. This is our overriding objective in our relationship with Bangladesh," the envoy noted.

Meyke said the European Union would send a 10-member pre-poll exploratory mission to Dhaka on September 13

During its nine-day visit, the congenial political climate, confronmission would study the election arrangements and decide if it is useful and feasible to send an election observer mission. They existing ones would also recommend what contri-

Asked about more market access for Bangladeshi products by further relaxing the rules of origin, he said Bangladesh has been enjoying the highest possible market access through GSP and as an LDC in the bilateral relations with the EU for decades. This market access has been reassured for indefinite period under the Everything But Arms (EBA) deal 2001.

He said the EU acknowledges the difficulties associated with fulfilling rules-of-origin criteria for GSP. Accordingly, the European Commission has started working on revising the rules of origin for the generalised system of preferences. The objectives are to make the rules simple and developmentfriendly. Because of the complexity related to the issue, the final outcome is not expected before the end of this year, the envoy said

Garment Workers' Unity Forum brought out a big procession from Uttara in the city yesterday and marched towards the office of Bangladesh Garment Manufacturers and Exporters' Association (BGMEA) at Karwan Bazar protesting termination of 33 workers from a garment unit and demanding implementation of their three-point demand.

When the rally was crossing Bishwa Road intersection, BGMEA President S M Fazlul Haque, who was also on his way to the office. came across the procession and wanted to know its reason. The leaders stopped the procession and presented their demands to him The BGMEA president assured them of implementing their all demands including reinstatement of terminated workers.

He also assured them of implementing tripartite agreement signed among the government, garment owners and workers.

Later, the agitating workers returned to Uttara with the procession led by forum President Mosherefa Mishu, Shahidul Islam Sabuj, Mintoo Mian, Abdul Quddus Khan, Mehedi Hasan and Shirin Islam.

A press release of the workers unity forum claimed that the BGMEA leader has agreed to reinstall 33 retrenched workers of Hesong Garments from today and withdraw all the cases filed against them.

It said Fazlul Haque also agreed to increase BGMEA-proposed minimum wage of Tk 1230.

But the BGMEA chief told The Daily Star last night that he did not make any such commitment.

"I told them that the wage board will declare minimum wage and we are all ready to accept it," he added.

Fazlul Haque also claimed that the workers responded positively when they were asked whether they would accept the minimum wage declared by the wage board.
