Bangladeshi documentary going to Emmys

ERSHAD KAMOL

HIS is the third time a documentary film produced by ATN Bangla has been nominated to participate at the International Emmy Award, which will be announced on November 20 in New York. This year the documentary going to the Emmys is An Elegy for Dipu, directed by Fahmida Wadud

Earlier, An Elegy for Dipu won this year's ICDB (International Children's Day of Broadcasting) Award, which is jointly announced by UNICEF and International Academy of Television Arts and

The documentary focuses on the issue of child abuse at schools. Dipu, a primary school student, is physically abused by the class teacher for not completing his homework. This causes tremendous mental agony and fear on the tender mind. The psychological imbalance causes physical illness and eventually the young one dies

To make the documentary informative as well as interesting, an imaginary sequence has been created where the deceased child is shown in heaven, playing with other children. He narrates his tragic story and the children appeal to the adults not to treat them with such cruelty and unkindness. ATN Bangla chairman Mahfuzur Rahman informed, "We won the prestigious Emmy Award in 2004. We competed at the 33rd Emmy

Award last year as well. This year we hope to win the award again.

Group art exhibition at Gallery Zainul

CULTURAL CORRESPONDENT

Art works of eleven graduates from the seven departments of Institute of Fine Arts (IFA), with an outstanding academic background, are on display at Gallery Zainul, IFA. Abdus Shakoor, the director of IFA, inaugurated the four-day exhibition on September 11.

Nazmun Nahar, Sahid Kazi and Promotesh Das Pulak of Department of Drawing and Painting, Kamruzzaman and Sadek Ahmed of

Department of Print Making, M Subbir-Al-Razy of Department of Ceramic. Jasim Uddin Xecon and Ragibul Hassan of Department of Oriental Art. M Mahmudul Hasan of Department of Sculpture, Kazi Taslima Aktar of

Department of Graphic Design and Sadia Sultana of Department of Craft, are the participants at the exhibition.

These art works, are basically academic curriculum based, as a result viewers may have an overview on different styles--realism, abstraction and experimental -- in the presentation of natural flora and fauna and human forms. Artists with their distinctive styles and materials have interpreted these issues

The exhibition ends tomorrow

Adaptation of Humayun Ahmed's novel on ntv

CULTURAL CORRESPONDENT

Megh Bolechhe Jabo Jabo, a novel by celebrated author Humayun Ahmed, has been adapted into a 52episode drama serial. The first episode of the serial will be aired today at 8:25 pm on ntv.

Directed by Taher Shipon, the play features Aly Zaker, Amirul Haque Chowdhury, Jayanto Chatyopadhyay, Dolly Zahur, Shahiduzzaman Selim, Wahida Mallick Jolly, Sharmin Shila, Sanjida Preeti, Intekhab Dinar and others in major roles. Assaduzza-man Noor is the advisory director of the play.

Megh Bolechhe Jabo Jabo follows a reclusive young man, Hasan, who lands an odd job of writing biography of the mysterious Hishamuddin. Though the job seems interesting initially, Hasan soon realises that his income is not adequate to start a family with Titli -the object of his affection. Meanwhile Titli is being pushed into a marriage with someone else. Apparently, Hishamuddin discovers Hasan is a good-natured man and starts to rely heavily upon him. Hishamuddin's only daughter as well. As the story unfolds Hasan is diagnosed with brain tumour and hospitalised.

The play will be aired every Thursday and Friday at 8:25 pm.
