Request for Proposal for Study on Determination of Food Availability and Consumption Patterns and Setting up of Nutritional Standards in Bangladesh

The United Nations World Food Programme (UNWFP) invites technical and financial proposals from national research agencies for conducting "Study on Determination of Food Availability and Consumption Patterns and Setting up of Nutritional Standards in Bangladesh". The study will advise and support the government of Bangladesh/the inter-ministerial task force in determining the per capita daily food grain intake requirement for the purpose of food planning in the country. It will also develop a nutrition-based dietary requirement table for different sex and age group of the population of Bangladesh based on calorie and nutritional needs and on people's preferences and practices and prepare a food balance sheet in the country. It will identify the production of different food items against the dietary requirement table, identify problems of access and utilisation of food and also identify actions based on the research findings to meet the food gaps, improve access and utilisation in reducing the chronic hunger and nutrition problems. The study will also determine the relevant actors with specific responsibilities in addressing the demand for various food items.

The selected research agency will conduct survey, review secondary literature and use various PRA methods, tools and techniques to fill in the gaps in knowledge and validate the secondary information. It is expected that the research team will draw on available and comparable relevant, international best practices and standards on this. The research team will comprise of an economist with experience in food policy analysis and agro-economics, a nutrition specialist and a socio-anthropologist who will be professionals with both national and international exposures. Preference will be given to relevant expertise and track record on conducting research in food security and allied issues.

Interested research agencies may collect the Terms of Reference (TOR) from the World Food Programme office mentioned below.

Time frame and work schedule: The entire research has to be completed within six months (130 work days) after signing of the agreement.

Major criteria for selection of the research agency will be:

- (1) In-depth experience, expertise and track record in conducting research on food security and nutrition and
- (2) The research team for the study should comprise of professional researchers with national and international exposures.

In the event of selection of an Institution to perform the above, the selected Institution will sign an appropriate contract with WFP on the basis of WFP's standard Terms and Conditions. Please note that the price quoted for the study should remain valid till the end of the contract period. The proposal marked "Study on Determination of Food Availability and Consumption Patterns and Setting up of Nutritional Standards in Bangladesh" should be addressed and submitted within 10 days of publication of this advertisement to: Mr. Douglas Broderick, Representative, World Food Programme, IDB Bhaban (17th Floor), E/8-A Rokeya Sharani, Dhaka 1207, Bangladesh, Fax No. 88 02 8113147.

Please submit the Technical proposal and the Financial proposal in separate sealed envelopes. The management reserves the right to reject the proposals without assigning any reason thereof.
