INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS DAY
10 December 2006
Free and fair elections require the voluntary participation of all eligible voters!

On the occasion of International Human Rights Day 2006, AED/BHRAP along with its partner organizations would like to call attention to and applaud the commitment and efforts of human rights defenders who work tirelessly all year long to make the principles enshrined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights a reality for all people of Bangladesh.

Our appeal
We call upon the people of Bangladesh and the government to respect and promote the fundamental principles of personal liberty and freedom guaranteed in the Constitution of Bangladesh and to address the many human rights issues currently impeding Bangladesh's development and its people's welfare. And, at this critical moment for democracy in Bangladesh, we appeal to Bangladesh's citizens and government with all its agencies on International Human Rights Day 2006 to ensure that the right to vote and participate in elections of all eligible voters, including minorities and women, is protected in a free and fair election in accordance with the Constitution and the International Covenant of Civil and Political Rights (ratified by the Government of Bangladesh on September 6, 2000).
