Filling Station in Thakurgaon, said he initially collected diesel from Baghabari depot in Sirajganj as he did not get it at Parbatipur depot. "After a week, I had to lobby for 13,500 litres from Parbatipur," he said.

Rawshan Ali, general secretary of Dinajpur Petrol Pump Owners' Association, echoed similar problems. "The situation is expected to improve after a week," he said.

Majaharul Islam, superintendent of the depot of Meghna Oil Company Ltd in Rangpur, said this depot is running almost dry. "I have only 15,000 litres of diesel while daily demand is around 1.5 lakh litres," he said.

Similar situation is prevailing at other depots, he said.

Ayub Ali, superintendent of the depot in Chilmari, said the depot was running dry since January 8. "The demand for diesel is now double," he said.

Talking to The Daily Star, Mahbubur Rahman, a media spokesperson of BPC at Parbatipur, said, "There is no crisis of diesel, rather they are getting irregular supply of the oil."

A wagon carrying 27,00,000 litres of diesel from India's Numaligarh arrived at BPC site in Parbatipur on February 2. With this, BPC had a stock of 66,00,000 litres, he said.

"Basically, the demand has gone up because of irrigation, which made the situation complicated to dealers," he said.

Mahbubur Rahman, superintendent of a Padma Oil Company depot, said such a crisis is not unusual during dry season for irrigation.

Around nine lakh pumps are being used to irrigate 13 lakh hectares of land in the region, said Khondoker Md Mesbahul Islam, a specialist of Department of Agriculture Extension in Rangpur.

committee as law minister.

He said that demanding step-down of the government was not unusual in the democratic country but the words Kamal Hossain used were not acceptable.

Addressing a recent discussion on Saturday, Kamal urged the people to start street movement to oust the Awami League government from power.

"It is time to ask them to leave. People would no more allow them as they are trying to establish autocratic rule through corruption and torturing people," he said.

The minister yesterday in parliament also demanded relocation of different structures including grave of BNP founder and late president Ziaur Rahman from the Jatiya Sangsad area to bring its "original design" back.

"Within the parliament area, there are some structures, including Zia's grave; and I would request they be removed from the parliament area," he added.

Steps taken to improve

The minister also said government and private buildings, vehicles, industries and factories and banks will come under the coverage of National Emergency Service-999 through IoT, which will increase capability of providing emergency services very quickly.

The minister said the government has undertaken plans to install body camera on police members and special camera with their spectacles, in a bid to quickly and accurately monitor any emergency situation.

Through this system, the service centre of the national emergency service will be able to observe, collect and preserve video of the place of occurrence directly, the minister added.

"Besides, it would be possible to observe any emergency situation and tackle it within short time through installing camera with artificial intelligence at different important points of the country," he also said.

Moreover, the government has also planned to set up a 100-seat Disaster Recovery Centre if the present service centre has to halt operations for any reason, the minister told the House.

Luxury car, bought 'dodging tax', seized

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Cg

Officials of Customs Intelligence and Investigation Directorate (CIID) seized a luxury car worth Tk 1 crore from port city's Cheragi Pahar yesterday. It was allegedly brought into the country by dodging tax payments worth Tk 50 lakh.

Acting on a tip-off, a customs intelligence team raided a businessperson's house in the area and seized a Great Wall Haval H3 car from its garage, said Abu Hanif Md Abdul Ahad, assistant commissioner of CIID.

The 2351cc car was imported from China in 2012 by falsely declaring it as another car, he added.

Candidates have to buy admission forms from different universities and spend a lot of time and money for travel and accommodation. They travel, often with parents or guardians, across the country and sometimes have to check in at hotels to take part in admission tests.

Kazi Shahidullah at yesterday's meeting pointed out that if the universities start holding uniform tests, it would improve image of teachers.

"The image of teachers will be improved if the vice chancellor and teachers of universities come forward to introduce uniform admission tests and stop evening courses at universities," he said.

The decision of uniform admission tests comes after President Abdul Hamid, also chancellor of all public universities, on several occasions asked public universities to hold admission tests centrally to reduce hassles of admission seekers and their guardians.

The UGC too wanted to introduce the uniform admission tests. To ease admission seekers' hassles, the education ministry in 2010 decided to introduce uniform admission tests, dubbed "cluster system". But it did not happen due to opposition from several major universities.

They were admitted to the Burn and Plastic Surgery unit of the hospital.

Later, Golam and Shahadat was referred to Dhaka Medical College Hospital (DMCH) as they needed to be put in Intensive Care Unit, he said.

Dr S Khaled, assistant professor of the burn unit of CMCH, said Golam sustained 65 percent burns, Shahadat 41 percent and Mizan 25 percent.
