

As the day of love passed by, our celebrity couples did not leave any effort behind to make their better half feel special on this Valentine's day. Our very favourite actors – Siam Ahmed, Sabnam Faria and Taskeen Rahman – shared how they spent their Valentine's with their beloved ones.

SIAM AHMED

"My wife, Abonti, finds happiness in little things. A flower or a pair of earrings can make her really happy. I feel one does not require grand gesture to express their love. As I was shooting for my upcoming film in Sundarban, I was not able to celebrate Valentine's day with my wife. But, I did leave her a surprise gift. I had someone deliver the gift to her, and she was elated upon receiving it. Even though I was not there to see her reaction, but I could feel her in my mind because of the bond of love that we share."

TASKEEN RAHMAN

"Being together on the day of love is all that matters to us; other things are just simple gestures of expressing the affection we have for each other. We both love travelling, but due to our shootings in Dhaka, we could not plan a trip this year. So, this Valentine's, I took my wife, Anjali, for a special candlelight dinner."

SABNAM FARIA

"We never have a big plan for Valentine's day. We usually go out for a dinner date, and this year, we did the same. As it was a Friday, we got to spend the entire day together, and as a special treat, I made lunch for my husband, Opu. When I was in Thailand, I got a watch for him, and that is what I gifted him. I was really happy to have spent Valentine's day on a Friday with my loving husband."
