

TANVIN SWEETIE

"If I was to introduce Bangladesh, I would say Bangladesh and Bangabandhu are the same. And likewise, if I was to introduce Bangabandhu, I would say that Bangabandhu and Bangladesh are the same. He is my inspiration. I hope his one-hundredth birthday brings joy and good luck to the country."

RUNA KHAN

"I first came to know about Bangabandhu from my father. I believe Bangabandhu is the greatest Bangladeshi to ever have lived. I am forever thankful to Bangabandhu for giving me the gift of independence. I feel that if we follow his principles, we can achieve great things without any hassle."

ARIFIN SHUVOO

"Bangabandhu was a dreamer. He had a vision and that is why we are here today. It's because of him that we have a map and a flag that we can call our own. To me, Bangabandhu means a person with a dream – someone who can sacrifice everything for the sake of their country."

TASKEEN RAHMAN

"My main source of inspiration comes from the Father of our Nation, Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman. His teachings helped me learn the true meaning of inspiration. He united the whole of Bangladesh. In my eyes, Bangabandhu is the most notable leader the world has ever seen."

BIJORI BARKATULLAH

"Celebrating Bangabandhu's one-hundredth birthday means bringing forth his wisdom, modesty, leadership and love for his country to our younger generation. This generation lacks the depth of understanding him. I feel it is our duty to educate them and introduce them to the glorious works of the Father of the Nation."

SHAJU KHADEM

"I feel that we still have to realise Bangabandhu's dreams of creating a beautiful Bangladesh because if we did follow his principles, we would have reached the peak of development by now. I want everyone to learn more about him, surrounding the occasion of celebrating his one-hundredth birthday."

BIDYA SINHA MIM

"Whenever I see a picture of Bangabandhu in any book, I always get overwhelmed with respect and admiration. I really admire the love he had for our country. He is the architect behind the liberation of Bangladesh. His name will forever reverberate through the hearts of Bangladeshis."

BOBBY

"Bangabandhu is the backbone of our nation. It is because of him that we feel proud to introduce ourselves as Bangladeshis. Without Bangabandhu, Bangladesh would be incomplete."

DEEPA KHANDAKAR

"Bangabandhu to me is Bangladesh. I have had the privilege of being born in a free country, but I can't help but wonder what it would be like without Bangabandhu, without freedom. I don't even want to think about how dire the situation would be if that were the case."

RAHUL ANANDA

"I never got to see Bangabandhu upfront, but I can feel his presence through the values he has left behind. I do not believe he is gone because until the last day Bangladesh remains, he will shine brighter everyday among each of us. Bangabandhu is my dearest friend."

SIAM AHMED

"Bangabandhu means a strong leader – someone who is not afraid of any obstacle. He is the Father of our Nation. His words are our motivation. His name will always shine like gold in the pages of history."

SYMON SADIK

"I will always regret that I was unable to see Bangabandhu with my own eyes. There would not have been a Bangladesh without Bangabandhu. That's why I believe that Bangabandhu means Bangladesh."

IRESH ZAKER

"Bangabandhu worked selflessly for the people of our nation, and I feel that we should learn and practise his teachings more often. The celebration of his one-hundredth birthday is going to uplift our history, culture and traditions, and I want our culture to be enriched through this grand gesture."

MOUSUMI NAG

"Bangabandhu resonates deeply in my heart. Similarly, I mourn his absence in my life. If he was still alive, I think Bangladesh would have been more developed and tourist friendly. He is our guardian, the greatest patriot, and I have the utmost respect and adoration for him."

PUJA CHERRY

"Bangabandhu is the Father of our Nation. He lives in the hearts of all Bangladeshis. He will forever be respected and revered by our people."

AMITABH REZA

"Bangabandhu's courage, wisdom, limitations and all the other traits makes him a prodigious persona. It is good for the nation, that many writings, films and cultural practices is going take place surrounding the celebration of Bangabandhu's century and Bangladesh's fifty years of independence."
