Safety net spending to be higher

Budgetary allocation for programmes will see Tk 50,633cr uptick in next fiscal year

REJAU KARIM BYRON and MD FAZLUR RAHMAN

The budgetary allocation for safety net programmes would see a major uptick in the next fiscal year as the government looks to widen the number of beneficiaries struggling to make ends meet because of the coronavirus outbreak.

Finance Minister AHM Mustafa Kamal may set aside Tk 125,000 crore -- up more than 68 percent from Tk 74,367 crore in the current fiscal year -- for various safety net programmes while unveiling the budget for fiscal year 2020-21 on June 11, said a finance ministry official.

The allocation would be three percent of the gross domestic product (GDP), up from 2.58 percent in FY 2019-20.

Millions of people have lost their jobs owing to the countrywide shutdown enforced from March 26 to flatten the curve on the deadly virus.

Due to the income shock caused by the pandemic, 77.2 percent of the vulnerable non-poor fell below the poverty line, according to a joint survey of the Power and Participation Research Centre (PPRC) and the Brac Institute for Governance and Development.

This would imply that beyond the 20.5 percent of the population officially recognised as poor, there is a group

Pandemic rages in S America

EU governments ban hydroxychloroquine; US death toll crosses 100k

AGENCIES

The US coronavirus death toll passed 100,000 as the pandemic tightened its grip on South America, which is outpacing Europe and the United States in daily infections.

Global cases have surged to nearly 5.7 million, with more than 355,000 deaths, and in a grim signal to other countries hoping to exit lockdown, South Korea re-imposed social distancing rules after a spike in new cases.

Deaths in Brazil topped 25,000 on Wednesday, and its caseload is second only to the United States, where authorities have moved to ease lockdowns and help the battered economy, despite experts recommending they remain on guard for a resurgence of the disease.

"Don't start leapfrogging over the recommendations of some of the guidelines because that's really tempting fate and asking for trouble," Anthony Fauci, one of the top US health advisers, told CNN.

Nearly 1.7 million Americans are known to have been infected with the disease, according to a Johns Hopkins

Danish robot swabs throats for tests

MAIL ONLINE

A robot that is able to take throat swabs from coronavirus patients using a 3D printed arm was developed by a team of researchers from Denmark in just four weeks.

The University of Southern Denmark says the world's first fully automated throat swab robot will be able to test the first Covid-19 patients by late June.

Using disposable 3D printed parts, the robot holds a swab and hits the exact spot in the throat where a sample needs to be collected every time.

It puts the swab in a glass and screws the lid on to seal the sample without human input - reducing the risk of exposing healthcare workers to the deadly virus.

China backs legislation

Tensions rise after US puts HK's special status in doubt

REUTERS, Hong Kong

China's parliament yesterday approved a decision to go forward with national security legislation for Hong Kong that democracy activists in the city and Western countries fear could erode its freedoms and jeopardise its role as a global financial hub.

China says the legislation will aim to tackle secession, subversion, terrorism and foreign interference in the city but the plan, unveiled in Beijing last week, triggered the first big protests in Hong Kong for months.

Riot police were out in force in Hong Kong as its lawmakers debated another piece of legislation, a bill to criminalise disrespect of China's national anthem, while the United States piled on pressure aimed at preserving the city's autonomy.
