

17 Gaibandha lawyers get HC nod to practise

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The High Court yesterday cleared the way for 17 lawyers of Gaibandha to practice law.

The court stayed the Gaibandha Bar Association's decision that suspended the memberships of 17 lawyers for participating in the virtual court proceedings.

The HC also ordered the bar association not to restrain any lawyer from participating in the court functions.

The bench of Justice JBM Hassan passed the order on a suomoto (voluntary) move after Attorney General Mahbubey Alam placed the issue before the court and prayed for necessary directives.

The attorney general told the court that the courts of the country have started virtual functions through using information and communication technology in line with the ordinance issued by the president.

There is no illegality in running the virtual court proceedings and participating in the court functions by the lawyers, he said, adding that no bar association can prevent lawyers from joining the court activities.

Attorney General Mahbubey Alam told The Daily Star that Gaibandha Bar Association on May 17 suspended its 17 members as they joined the virtual court functions through video conference.

The bar association has sent the resolution containing the suspension decision to the Supreme Court Bar Association president, he said.

Ctg cop tests Covid-19 positive after death

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg

Sub-inspector Ekramul Islam of Sitakunda Model Police Station under Chattogram district police, who died with Covid-19-like symptoms on Saturday, later tested positive.

Police officials received his results on Saturday night. Additional Superintendent of Police of district special branch, Mohiuddin Sohel said, "SI Ekramul Islam, 48, who died at his residence with fever and cough, was found positive for Covid-19. His sample was collected after death."

According to the district police, 127 police personnel were infected till June 6. Before Ekram, a constable of Chattogram district police died of Covid-19 on May 21 at Chattogram General Hospital.

SI Ekramul had been suffering from fever and other Covid-19 symptoms since June 3 and taking treatment at his residence alone.

Apart from that, three police personnel of Chattogram Metropolitan Police have died from Covid-19 so far.

A total of 13 RT-PCR machines are working in all CMHs, including the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, to test samples of Covid-19 for members of the armed forces, their families and retired members. In addition, all CMHs have adequate stocks of PPE, masks, gloves and essential medicines and other medical equipment.

To date, a total of 17,151 samples from 10,378 members of the armed forces, 2,120 members of their family and 4,653 civilian members, have been tested in the PCR laboratory of the army.

Round the clock treatment of Covid-19 infected patients is being ensured by the trained army doctors in line with the guidelines of the health ministry, added the release.

Two more workers die in BSRM factory accident

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg

Two more workers, who suffered burns in an accident at Bangladesh Steel Re-Rolling Mills (BSRM) on Saturday, died while they were being shifted to Dhaka from Chattogram for better treatment yesterday.

The deceased are Gias Uddin (24), and Nazrul Islam (35).

Earlier on Saturday, another worker -- Abul Kashem (50) -- died when a fire broke out at BSRM factory in Joraganj area of Chattogram's Mirsarai upazila.

Three other workers -- Nur Hossain (30), Mohiuddin (28), and Sikander -- were also injured in the incident.

Of them, Nur Hossain and Mohiuddin were undergoing treatment at the Burn and Plastic Surgery unit of Dhaka Medical College Hospital in critical condition.

Nur Hossain suffered 98 percent burns while Mohiuddin 80 percent, hospital sources said.

The BSRM authorities said the workers had been working inside the factory when molten iron accidentally fell on them.

Immediately, the workers were admitted to the Burn and Plastic Surgery Unit of Chattogram Medical College Hospital. As their condition deteriorated, they were referred to Dhaka Medical College Hospital, they said.

Tapan Sen Gupta, deputy managing director of BSRM, told The Daily Star yesterday, "As per doctors' instruction, we were transferring the injured workers to Dhaka. But when the ambulance reached Cumilla, Nazrul Islam and Gias Uddin succumbed."

We are trying to identify the cause behind the accident, he said. "BSRM always commits to safety on its premises and have created a team to investigate this unfortunate accident. BSRM Group extends its sincere condolences to the bereaved families of the victims and conveys its sympathy to those affected from this incident," said the BSRM official.

Azizur Rahman, assistance director of Agrabad Fire Service and Civil Defence, said, "The accident took place around 3:15pm. When we rushed to the spot, we found that the factory workers had brought the fire under control around 3:40pm. We rescued the victims and sent them to CMCH."

while several have family problems back home.

He said the number of such workers may rise in the coming days, although it is tough to say how many Bangladeshis will lose their jobs.

Liton said after receiving funds from Bangladesh government, the embassy has already provided food support, and in some cases cash support, to 1,150-1,200 Bangladeshi workers.

"We are expecting to provide similar support to more workers gradually," he said.

Besides, IOM Iraq has provided cash support to nearly 100 Bangladeshi workers so far, while a local foundation also provided similar support to another 400 workers, he added.

Liton said officially, one Bangladeshi has died from Covid-19 in Iraq till date.

IOM SUPPORT

An official at IOM Bangladesh confirmed the global organisation's cash support in Iraq.

IOM Iraq on Thursday delivered the first round of cash assistance in Erbil to vulnerable Bangladeshi and Filipino migrants, who have lost their jobs and income due to the pandemic, according to a report published on its official website.

Each received USD 182 to enable them to meet essential needs such as food, rent, and utilities, said the report. The recipients were referred to IOM Iraq by their respective embassies.

It commenced screening of over 100 individuals in late April using a vulnerability assessment tool, and expects to receive further referrals.

In the coming days, a second phase of cash assistance will commence.

Like in other countries, migrant workers in Iraq have been disproportionately affected by the global crisis, with widespread layoffs leaving many in a precarious financial situation, unable to meet their basic needs, said the UN migration agency.

"Migrants are among those who have been especially hard hit by the Covid-19 outbreak in Iraq," said IOM Iraq Chief of Mission Gerard Waite in the report.

"Many of them live month-to-month, sending earnings home to their families. The loss of income has left them unable to afford food and at risk of eviction," Waite further added.

of CCNF, said UN agencies and donor countries should provide direct funding to national and local NGOs; international aid and UN agencies should play the role of monitoring and providing technical assistance.

This will help sustainability of national and local NGOs, he further said.

Dr Ehsanur of NAHAB, Bimol Sarkar of CCNF and Rafiqul Islam of FNB also spoke at the event, moderated by Rezaul Karim Chowdhury of BDCSO Process.

Launch owner sets up spl deck for social distancing

These bunk beds were set up on the deck of launch "Pubali-1", which runs on Dhaka-Barguna route. The launch's owner took this initiative so passengers can maintain social distancing while travelling.

A special deck has been introduced on a passenger launch running on Barguna-Dhaka route, to maintain social distancing among passengers.

The owner has set up bunk beds spaced across the deck. Therefore, passengers will get separate beds like a cabin, which is beneficial for maintaining health regulations during the pandemic.

The first of such a facility was introduced on "Pubali-1" launch.

Masud Khan, the launch's owner, took such measures on his own initiative. He said he plans on installing fiberglass to separate the beds so that there would be no physical contact between passengers.

No one knows who is infected among passengers, so this is a great way to ensure maximum health precautions, he added.

Barguna-Dhaka launch passengers welcomed the initiative in this critical time.

Dhiman Sarkar, a regular passenger who travels on the route, said now it is possible to maintain safety rules even without staying in cabins.

Another regular passenger, Khorshed Alam, said although some trains have such a system, he was seeing this for the first time on a launch.

Dr Mizanur Rahman, member secretary of Nagorik Samaj, said the system will help passengers be safe by being apart from each other.

Ajmal Huda Mithu -- assistant director of BIWTA, Barisal -- said, "The system would allow passengers to travel safely and comfortably. No one knows when the pandemic will go away, so we must adopt new approaches for transportation."

Disaster Forum Member Secretary Nayeem Gowhar Warha called for strong coordination between local government and NGOs, especially in district level for long term planning and implementation of programmes required to mitigate the fallout of the pandemic.

Once they receive a call from the police control room, they take preparations for the funeral, said Farid Uddin bin Jamir Uddin, chief executive officer (CEO) of the foundation.

Till now, they have performed burials of over 100 bodies, he added.

Asked what prompted the foundation to take the initiative, Farid said after hearing the news of people leaving the bodies unattended, members of their organisation decided to do something about it.

"Reading about such news was heartbreaking. Can you imagine body of your loved one left unattended, no one is there to perform the last rites? Every deceased, infected by Covid-19 or not, deserves a dignified burial," Farid told this newspaper.

In April, the foundation, led by its chairman Helal Uddin, met the police commissioner of Chattogram Metropolitan Police, the deputy commissioner of Chattogram and health officials of the division to put their plans into motion.

After getting approval, they started their endeavour with 32 volunteers and five ambulances, he said.

He said they also wash, clean and dress the bodies.

"In many cases, locals appreciated our initiative when we went to bury a deceased in their locality while some did not want us to be there. But we continued with our efforts," he added.

Farid Uddin urged people to donate them PPE, masks, gloves and face shields so that they can perform the burial works efficiently in the coming days.

Arshad Ali, a member of the foundation, said in a crisis, everyone should try their best to help others any way they can.

Contacted, Sheikh Fazle Rabbi, civil surgeon of Chattogram district, said they are grateful to the foundation. "Without their support, the task of managing coronavirus related deaths would have been really difficult for us," he added.

said they will always cooperate with the city corporation's masterplan to make the city liveable by filling the oxygen deficit, reducing pollution, reducing vehicles and increasing public transport.

There must be proper planning and implementation, he said, adding that they also need to come up with short-, mid- and long-term plans.

Istiaque Uddin Ahmed, president of Institute of Foresters Bangladesh, said if all the unplanned works are brought together in the masterplan, Dhaka will no longer be a gray city.

Mahfuz Hossain Mirdah, additional director of Department of Agricultural Extension, said they need to plant trees that are suitable for the city so that people can get additional benefits such as food and nutrition from them.

The DAE can extend cooperation through manpower and technical advice in this regard, he added.

Ahsan Rony, urban agriculture expert, also stressed the importance of planting and protecting trees. He suggested that the city corporation becomes guardian/custodian of trees.

Prof AFM Jamal Uddin of the department of horticulture at Sher-E-Bangla Agricultural University said they are ready to extend full cooperation in support of the masterplan.
