agencies concerned to gear up their activities so that the farmers get credit in time.

Bangabandhu emphasises that the programme must be made a total success as a step towards achieving the ultimate objective of self-sufficiency in food. He says all resources must be mobilised and bottlenecks removed. Special emphasis is given on winter cultivation so that loss of crops due to floods could be compensated for by increasing winter crops. Prospects of aman crops and boro cultivation are reviewed.

FAZLUL QUADER INDICTED
The Superintendent of Police of Chittagong has submitted a charge sheet against Fazlul Quader Chowdhury, president of the disbanded Muslim League (Convention), on charges of murder, arson, collaboration with Pakistani Army and resisting the liberation struggle. Fazlul Quader Chowdhury, who was arrested from Chittagong immediately after the liberation of the country, will be produced in the court for trial. He is at present in the Dhaka Central Jail.

FAIR PRICE SHOPS OPEN TODAY
The fair price shops would start functioning throughout the country from today, with one in each union of the country. Dhaka will have 30 fair price shops at union levels while Narayanganj will have 15 shops. Each shop will cover 1000 card-holders. Following items will be available at the fair price shops at Dhaka and Narayanganj: kerosene, washing soap, soda, baby food, lungi and saree. At union levels a master roll will be prepared to entitle the people to buy things from the fair price shops.

Bagerhat Sadar Hospital found him dead after PBI members brought in the young man around 1:20pm.
Raja's father and other family members rushed to the hospital after hearing the news in the evening.
PBI Superintendent of Police Sheikh Zahidul Islam said, "After his arrest, he fell ill and was rushed to the hospital, where he died."
Raja was the prime accused in a case filed over the killing of Talim Mallick, 18, last year in Bagerhat.

in the United States since July after undergoing surgery in Kuwait City.
No details have been disclosed on the nature of the emir's illness or treatment, and the palace did not say where he died.
The emir, who has ruled the oil-rich Gulf state since 2006, had his appendix removed in 2002, two years after having a pacemaker fitted. In 2007, he underwent urinary tract surgery in the US.
Under Kuwaiti law, when the emir is absent, Crown Prince Sheikh Nawaf al-Ahmad Al-Sabah, 83, the emir's half-brother, is acting ruler.
Sheikh Nawaf, an elder statesman who has held high office for decades including the defence and interior ministries, is now expected to be appointed the new ruler.

body was formed on Monday night by the Department of Secondary and Higher Education (DSHE) of the Ministry of Education, headed by Shahedul Khabir Chowdhury, director (college and administration) of the DSHE.

The committee was given three working days for primary report and seven working days for the final report, Shahedul said, adding that the committee started working after reaching Sylhet yesterday.
ALLEGATIONS OF ATTEMPT TO COMPROMISE EVIDENCE
Meanwhile, some people alleged that police officials intentionally wasted time at the entrance of the college to let the rapists -- BCL men who were occupying rooms of the hostel -- compromise evidence of the crime and flee.

Mihit Guha Chowdhury Babla, former organising secretary of Bangladesh Chhatra League's Sylhet unit, said he saw the couple in a crowd in front of a shop near the college around 9:00pm on the night of the rape. The husband, who was tied up by the perpetrators during the incident, described the events.
The prime accused, Saifur, was calling the husband on the phone and threatening him to keep shut about the crime, Babla said, adding that he then took the phone and asked Saifur to stay where he was.

"I knew they would run away removing all evidence; along with some other locals, I rushed to the hostel with the victim and her husband. When we reached the spot, the rapists were still there, and hearing our shouts, they ran away leaving a motorcycle and all evidence, including the victim's car.

"I then called the officer-in-charge of Shah Poran Police Station, who took another half hour to reach the spot and waited for some more time to get permission to enter the hostel. Even after getting the permission, while other policemen entered the hostel, the OC did not enter for an hour or more. He was busy talking to some pro-Awami League leaders at the hostel gate," he said.

"I went to the hostel gate and saw two prominent leaders of Swechasebak League and Jubo League were discussing with the OC. Understanding their ill motive, I told the OC that if he compromised the case, I would file a complaint against him," he said.

Talking to several witnesses and BCL men of the college, this correspondent came to know that at least seven leaders -- including a top brass leader of the Swechasebak League's Sylhet city unit -- were present at the hostel gate at the time.

OC Abdul Kaiyum Chowdhury however declined to answer questions regarding the matter and referred to the designated official for media relations, who also declined to comment on personal allegations.

Sohel Reza, deputy commissioner of Sylhet Metropolitan Police, said, "The OC reached the spot upon getting information, but when he realised that they would have to enter the hostel, they asked the college authority, as that's the regulation. Getting the permission.... police entered without any delay."

flight before the end of 2020, which will take off from an airfield in Orkney, Scotland.

The distance is roughly equivalent to that of Los Angeles to San Francisco or London to Edinburgh.

ZeroAvia's CEO, Val Miftakhov, said: "It's hard to put into words what this means to our team, but also for everybody interested in zero-emission flight.

"While some experimental aircraft have flown using hydrogen fuel cells as a power source, the size of this commercially available aircraft shows that paying passengers could be boarding a truly zero-emission flight very soon."

Court set in the case, 10 of them are adults. The verdict against the 10 accused will be delivered today.

Trial of the 14 other accused is going on in the Barguna Children's Court as they are juveniles.

Minni is in the custody of her lawyer Mahbubul Bari Aslam as per the orders of the Barguna district and sessions judge after her High Court bail expired.

Eight others Rakibul Hasan Rifat Faraji, Al Qayum alias Rabbi Akon, Mohaiminul Islam Sifat, Rezwan Ali Khan Hridoy alias Tikak Hridoy, Md Hasan, Rafiqul Islam Rabbi, Md Sagor and Kamrul Islam Simon are in Barguna jail. Another accused Musa is absconding.

According to court sources, 76 witnesses testified against the 10 accused. The prosecution and defence then placed their arguments in the court for and against the accused.

Rifat, 25, an internet service provider, was hacked by some youths in front of Barguna Government College in broad daylight on June 26 last year. Later, he died in Barishal Medical College Hospital.

On September 1 that year, police submitted separate charge sheets to the court, accusing 10 adults and 14 juveniles.

The Barguna District and Sessions Judge Court framed charges against the 10 accused in the murder case on January 1 this year.

Breaches in embankments being submerged.

The embankment was constructed in 2003-2004 fiscal year by Water Development Board. It had developed some cracks and the WDB was carrying out repair works.

Mosaddek Hossain Chowdhury, chairman of Mahishkhocha Union Parishad, said some locals yesterday morning announced through loudspeakers of mosques that the dam caved in.

Hearing the announcement, villagers gathered in Gobordhan area and started working to protect the dam.

On information, WDB officials went to the area and the dumping of GEO bags began to protect the dam, said Mizanur Rahman, executive engineer of WDB.

Meanwhile, the overall flood situation in Lalmonirhat and Kurigram started to improve yesterday as the local rivers were flowing below the danger level.

In Rangpur, a portion of a 250-metre river protection dam breached in Tongradah area of Pirganj upazila on Monday night due to erosion of the Karatoa river. The dam is in the bordering area of Rangpur and Gaibandha districts.

Houses and croplands in 13 villages of Gaibandha's Palashbari upazila went under water, said Aminul Islam Rintu, chairman of Kishoregari Union Parishad in Palashbari upazila.

Saddam Hosain of Thekipara village in Palashbari said, "My banana field on 2.5 bighas of land has been damaged due to flooding."

WDB Sub-divisional Engineer Golam Zakaria said they were working to protect the dam.

Masudur Rahman, deputy director of the Department of Agriculture Extension in Gaibandha, said aman paddy and other crops on around 1,000 hectares of land were damaged due to flooding.

The overall flood situation in the district worsened yesterday as the Karatoa was flowing 81 cm above the danger level at Katakhal point at noon.

In Bogura, the Jamuna was flowing 8 cm above the danger level at Mathurapara point in Sariakandi upazila yesterday.

Besides, the water level in the Bangali river in the same upazila has been rising for a week. The river was flowing 17.7 cm above the danger level yesterday morning.

In Manikganj, cracks developed in some parts of the town protection dam, putting over 1,000 houses at risk of being submerged.

The dam was built in 2010 to protect Boalia and Bara-Sarundi areas of the town from erosion of the Kaliganga river.

Contacted, WDB Executive Engineer Main Uddin said they would dump GEO bags in the vulnerable areas to protect the dam.

Meanwhile, the Flood Forecasting and Warning Centre (FFWC) in a bulletin yesterday said the Brahmaputra-Jamuna river was in rising trend which might continue in next 24 hours.

Trump, Biden head into

For months he has painted Biden as senile. As the debate approached he increasingly focused on his claim that Biden takes performance enhancing drugs.

Biden has laughed off the suggestion, but Trump, a past master at getting slurs to stick to his opponents, is doubling down.

"Joe Biden just announced that he will not agree to a Drug Test. Gee, I wonder why?" Trump tweeted Monday.

Biden's deputy campaign manager Kate Bedingfield responded in kind, saying that if Trump wants the debate to be conducted through "urine" samples, "he can."

Trump, arguably, has little to lose. His hardcore support is already baked in and Americans are by now almost incapable of feeling shocked by his convention-wrecking style.

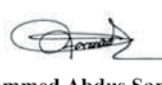

He also goes to Cleveland with what he hopes will be his own silver bullet -- the nomination of conservative judge Amy Coney Barrett to replace the late liberal icon Ruth Bader Ginsburg on the Supreme Court.

If Barrett is quickly confirmed, as the Republican-led Senate expects, Trump will have managed to tilt the highest court firmly to the right for years to come.

Democrats are crying foul over the rushed timing on the eve of an election, but Trump expects the power play to energize many conservatives.

BLUE COLLAR BOAST
The president is sure to go heavy on previous claims that Biden's son was involved in corruption in Ukraine. Last year Trump was impeached for using the power of his office to try and pressure the Ukrainian government into publicly backing that theory.
