vegetables on two bighas.
"But the high demand for onion inspired me to cultivate onions on all seven bighas this year," he said.
But he was only able to buy 2kg onion seeds from the local market, at a cost of Tk 14,500.
"I need 4-5kg seeds for cultivating the entire land. If I don't manage to get it in the next one or two weeks, I may miss the season."
Babu had to borrow money in order to buy the seeds, which he got last year for Tk 1,200, as he didn't anticipate needing so much money for seeds.
The seed crisis in local markets has now led to rocketing prices, which has reached the highest ever level in the country -- and farmers are bearing the brunt.

25-26 lakh tonnes in the last few years, leaving a shortage every year that causes the crisis, the DAE DG added.
Imported onions -- largely from India -- make up the shortfall, and prices leapt when India banned onion exports earlier in September.
A total of 25.6 lakh tonnes of onion were produced last year across the country, cultivated on 2.38 lakh hectares, according to the DAE.
This season, the DAE has targeted a total of 2.50 lakh hectares of land for onion cultivation -- of these, 1.85 lakh hectares for seed onion cultivation and 65,000 hectares for bulb onion production, said Khandaker Md Rashed Iftekhar, control room in-charge of DAE (Khamarbari).
This season's onion production target is 29.5 lakh tonnes, he added.
Bulb onion, known locally as "kondo peyaj", has already been cultivated and is expected to be harvested from mid-December, Rashed told The Daily Star, and farmers are also preparing to cultivate seed onion from this month.
A total of 1,142 tonnes of seeds are needed to achieve the onion cultivation target, he added.
PRODUCTION COSTS UP BY 30PC
Meanwhile, farmers said onion production costs have risen by around 30 percent due to the price hike of onion seeds as well as higher labour costs.

Seed traders are taking advantage of the lack of fixed-price seeds and charging excessive prices, farmers alleged, due to the lack of monitoring by the government.
UNSTABLE SEED MARKET
Amidst a scarcity of local seed, Bangladesh Agricultural Development Corporation (BADC) has also stopped selling fixed-price seed to farmers, sources said, badly affecting the onion seed market.

Talking with The Daily Star, Md Abu Rayhan Tarek, manager of seed marketing at BADC, said the corporation usually supplies some onion seeds every year but farmers mostly depended on local markets and seeds marketed by private companies.
BADC was unable to reserve sufficient onion seeds this year, he added.
"Last year, BADC supplied five tonnes of onion seeds but this year only has a reserve of 3.4 tonnes," Tarek said.

Where last year he spent Tk 25,000-30,000 for cultivating each bigha of onion, this year he needs Tk 35,000-40,000, Md Jowadul Islam Montu, a reputed onion trader from Manikhat village in Sujannagar upazila, told The Daily Star.
Labour costs went up too, he said, where last year he paid day labourers Tk 400 per day, he paid Tk 600 this time.
Montu added that onion seeds from the retail market are of poor quality, so he is unsure about onion yield in the coming year.
DAE DG Md Asadullah said despite the scarcity of good quality seeds, he expects the cultivation target will be achieved.
"Although we do not have sufficient quality seeds this year, we have still taken a large target for onion production as an additional yield of two lakh tonnes of onion is expected this year."

"Due to the seed crisis, we plan to distribute seed aid among 50,000 farmers in 21 high onion-cultivating districts. Each farmer will get 250g onion seed per bigha," the DG said.
The yearly demand of onion is approximately 32-33 lakh tonnes but annual domestic production has been attached to the ground and looked like it could be easily knocked over, the local media report stated.

Against a total of 16,807 tests in 118 laboratories across the country in those 24 hours, the positivity rate was 13.78 percent while the total positivity rate was 16.72 percent.
At the beginning of the Covid-19 outbreak, the daily positivity rate was comparatively lower, but it rose to 25 percent of those tested in late May.
Until the third week of August, the positivity rate was over 20 percent, which came down to 10 percent in October.
Since the beginning of November, the positivity rate started rising again and rose to the highest 16.43 percent in the last two months.

Meanwhile, a total of 2,593 Covid-19 patients have recovered in the last 24 hours.
With this, the total number of recoveries reached at 388,379 and the recovery rate at 82.33 percent.
Among the 35 dead, 23 were males. All of them died in hospitals.
One of them aged between 11 and 20 years, one between 21 and 30, five between 41- and 50, five between 51 and 60, and rest 23 above 60 years, added the release.
One each was from Rajshahi and Barishal divisions, three each were from Rangpur and Chattogram, five were from Mymensingh and 22 were from Dhaka division.

As of yesterday noon, a total of 2,955 Covid-19 patients were undergoing treatment at general beds while 334 were at ICU beds in the Covid-19 dedicated hospitals across the country.
Of all dead so far, 5,164 -- more than 76 percent -- were males.
And a total of 3,598 or more than 53 percent were above 60 years old while 1,752 or nearly 26 percent were aged between 51 and 60 years.
So far, Dhaka division saw the highest number of casualties due to Covid-19 followed by 1,269 or nearly 19 percent from Chattogram division.

New mysterious monolith outside the small town of Atascadero, San Luis Obispo County, in central California.

According to local newspaper Atascadero News, the monolith was spotted on Wednesday at the top of Pine Mountain. Several people have already rushed to the site to see the mysterious structure and take photos with it.
The report said the structure appeared to be made of stainless steel, 10-feet tall and 18 inches wide and weighing about 200 pounds.

As with other monoliths sighted in recent weeks, there is no information about who installed the structure or why.
The object appeared welded together at each corner, with rivets attaching the side panels to a likely steel frame inside.
Unlike its Utah sibling, the monolith in California wasn't strongly attached to the ground and looked like it could be easily knocked over, the local media report stated.

five-day working tour of the coastal areas and the Sundarbans. The prime minister has seen for himself the coastal embankments for the conservation of forest resources of the area during his tour. He is also learnt to have had extensive discussions with the local leaders and people about the problems of the coastal areas and the ways and means for their solution. The prime minister also issues an order during his trip to the relevant authorities to expedite the survey work of unexplored islands in the Bay of Bengal, including Manpura in Barisal district.
AUSTRIAN ENVOY CALLS ON BANGABANDHU
Austrian Ambassador Dr Saller, accompanied by Otto Santer, Austrian expert on tourism, calls on Bangabandhu at the Gono Bhavan today. The Austrian Ambassador says they will visit some tourist spots in Bangladesh and prepare a survey report to see what Austria can do for the development of tourism in Bangladesh.
BANGLADESH TEAM VISITS FARAKKA
A five-member team of Bangladesh experts led by BM Abbas, adviser to the Bangladesh prime minister and chairman of Indo-Bangladesh Joint Rivers Commission, visits Farakka today.
After visiting the Farakka project, the team will proceed to Patna and from there will go by a special plane to see the Kosi Barrage and other river protection works in that area. After these visits the team will go to Delhi for the third meeting of the Indo-Bangladesh Joint Rivers Commission to be held from December 11 to 13.

According to the authorities concerned, the initiative comes as a response to insurgent activities and smuggling along a 20-kilometre stretch of unguarded hilly border with Myanmar in the southeast, which has become a safe haven for insurgents and weapons smugglers.
The region adjacent to this vulnerable stretch of border falls mostly in the Chittagong Hill Tracts district of Bandarban, where thick vegetation and dense forests make it virtually impossible for law enforcers and border guards to navigate and is therefore completely unguarded.
The border will run along the three hill districts of Bandarban, Khagrachhari and Rangamati to strengthen border surveillance and check the activities of insurgent groups.
Local law enforcers said these groups smuggle in arms from insurgents active in India's eastern states, also known as the Seven Sisters, and Myanmar through the largely unguarded hilly borders with India's Mizoram and Myanmar's Chin states.
Of late, an armed group called the Marma Liberation Party has been active in these border areas, they said.
"The Marma Liberation Party has been active in Bandarban border for the last three years. Sometimes it is tough to reach remote areas," Superintendent of Rangamati Police Alamgir Kabir told The Daily Star.
According to officials of law enforcement and intelligence agencies, several hundred armed youths are operating in the rugged hills for four factions of two well-known organisations -- Parbatya Chattagram Jana Sanghati Samiti (PCJSS Santu Lama faction), PCJSS (MN Lama faction), United People's Democratic Front (UPDF) and UPDF (democratic).
Mathew (not his real name) is a case in point. He joined the PCJSS in 2013 but now realises that he is on the wrong path and wants to return to normal life.
He shared his story of joining the force.
Mathew went to attend a PCJSS discussion with his friend and joined, being motivated by the speeches of the leaders.
He was moved to a border area for training and can now operate heavy guns.
He received a monthly salary of just Tk 500 and was tasked for collecting extortion money.
"If there was any big operation, only then was I assigned to go," he said in an anxious tone.
Mathew said the groups have weapons like machine guns, self-loading rifles, M16, AK-47s, AK-22s, AK-56s and even rocket-propelled grenades.
No one, however, could estimate the number of illegal firearms the groups have in their arsenal.
"Once the border road is constructed, the trespassers will stop and the illegal arms trading too," SP Kabir said.

UN envoy says 20,000 foreign forces in Libya

AFP, Tripoli
Twenty thousand foreign forces and mercenaries are in Libya despite a ceasefire and long-standing arms embargo, the UN envoy said Wednesday, calling the situation a "shocking violation of Libyan sovereignty".
Libya has been wracked by violence and chaos since the toppling and killing of dictator Moamer Kadhafi in 2011.
Forces loyal to the UN-recognised Government of National Accord based in Tripoli and those of eastern strongman Khalifa Haftar formally agreed a ceasefire in October.

Khan Menon, president of Workers Party, told the briefing.
"All democratic and patriotic forces will have to be united to resist these fundamentalists," he added.
The press conference was held to affirm the party's stance against the recent ongoing movement of some Islamist outfits including Hefajat-e-Islam, Bangladesh Khelafat Majlis and Islami Andolan Bangladesh against sculptures.
In recent times, Hefajat top leaders including its newly-elected amir (chief) Junayed Babunagari and joint secretary general Mamunul Haque have been staging showdowns against the government's move to construct a sculpture of the Father of the Nation in the capital. In yesterday's press briefing, Menon called upon the government to handle fundamentalists with an iron hand. He said Islamist outfits are trying to turn "Bangladesh into another Pakistan".
Fazle Hossain Badsha, general secretary of the party and also a lawmaker, criticised the government for its "soft stance" against those who were opposing Bangabandhu's sculpture.
"This strategy of the government will not bring any good result," he said.
Workers Party leaders called upon the ruling Awami League to make the AL-led 14-party alliance more active and stronger to tackle Hefajat and other Islamist outfits politically.
About Babunagari and Mamunul, they said through speaking against Bangabandhu and the constitution, those two have violated the constitution.
They also said they were shocked that Babunagari and Mamunul were yet to be arrested.
At the event, party leaders also raised questions about the logic of banning political programmes in the capital without prior permission.

People in Moscow will be able to register for the jab online from today, Sobyanin said in a statement on his website.
Russia, which has resisted imposing stringent lockdown measures, reported a record 28,145 new infections earlier yesterday, including 7,750 in Moscow.
The virus has killed at least 1,495,205 people worldwide since the outbreak emerged in China last December, according to a tally from official sources compiled by AFP yesterday.

The United States is the worst-affected country with 273,847 deaths from 13,925,350 cases.
US deaths from the pandemic have surged past 2,000 for two days in a row as the most dangerous season of the year approached, taxing an overwhelmed healthcare system with US political leadership in disarray.

The news around 7:30pm, I returned to the canteen and found an ear of my father's sculpture broken," said Arun Kumar Dey, eldest son of Shaheed Madhusudan Dey, and the canteen's owner.
Arun said he informed the VC, proctor of the university, Shahbagh Police Station and Chhatra League president and secretary of the matter. The university authorities sent a proctorial team and police visited the spot. Around midnight, they called a repairman and put the ear back in place, he added.

Contacted, DU Proctor Prof AKM Golam Rabbani told The Daily Star that it could not be known yet whether the incident was intentional or unintentional. The people concerned have been asked to probe the incident, he added.
The sculpture was first inaugurated by then DU VC Prof Emajuddin Ahmed in 1995. After the reconstruction of the sculpture in its present location, it was opened in 2001 by then VC AK Azad Chowdhury.
Its sculptor was Toufiq Hosen Khan.

Charges pressed

In the charge sheet, the police stated that the victim and her husband were forcefully taken into the hostel by the accused while the couple came to the college area to travel that evening.
Later the accused asked for Tk 50,000 as ransom and being denied, they raped the victim after tying her husband, snatched her gold jewellery and mugged Tk 2,000.
Victim's husband filed a case with Shahporan Police Station that night accusing six named and three to four unnamed.
Police later arrested all six named accused along with two others and these eight are accused in the charge sheet.
Earlier, all eight accused confessed their crimes before the court under section 164 of penal code.
On November 30, the DNA reports of the accused were sent to the investigation officer via the Sylhet court where their involvement was proved.
Meanwhile, the police that night recovered several arms from a hostel room which was occupied by the prime accused Saifur Rahman. A case was filed accusing Saifur Rahman by police that night.
In the arms case, police also pressed charge sheet to the court along with gang-rape case charge sheet.

The investigation officer Indranil Bhattacharya accused Saifur Rahman and Shah Mohammad Mahububur Rahman Rony in the charge sheet.
Meanwhile, three probe bodies -- one judicial probe body, one of education ministry and another of the college -- were formed and all of them submitted their reports to the authorities.
Moreover, National University suspended studentship of Saifur, Shah Mahububur Rahman Rony, Mahfuzur Rahman Masum and Rabiul Hasan and cancelled their certificate.
The MC College authorities also suspended them from the college.
All eight accused are Bangladesh Chhatra League (BCL) activists, but were not in any posts as there are no BCL committees at the college, Sylhet city and district.
They all are member of one fraction of BCL that follows Advocate Ranjit Sarker, former youth and sports affairs secretary of Sylhet district Awami League.
Ranjit Sarker, however, earlier denied of having any fraction of BCL under his influence and demanded justice for the accused.
