creasing and sustained industrial growth, he viewed.

The Director General of Bangladesh Institute of Development Studies (BIDS) Dr Mahabub Hossain, on Thursday said the industrial growth must be at least 10 per cent a year to achieve a six per cent overall economic growth in order to solve the unemployment problem.

He was addressing the inaugural session of a seminar on the 'experience of industrialisation in Bangladesh and the industrial policy' organised jointly by Bangladesh Economic Association (BEA) and Bids at the BIDS premises.

He pointed dut that the 3.5 per cent annual growth in agricultural sector was not sufficient to absorb the growing labour force in the country.

He also observed that it would be hard for Bangladesh to sustain a long-term agricultural growth at a rate more than the 3.5 per cent.

The President of BEA. Dr Mahiuddin Khan Alamgir in his speech said, rapid industrialisation needs adequate power supply in the western part of the country, enough investment in industry, protection of local industries, maintaining discipline in the financial front, and a basic comprehensive policy for industrialisation.

Dr Alamgir said the coal mines in the western regions of the country should be explotted to their optimum to generate power in the region. He said smooth power supply is the precondition for industrialisation.

He said the Bangladesh

Bank should make special allocations for industries 'from the huge profit it makes annually'. He viewed that the financial discipline had not yet been established and no firm steps had also been taken in this re-

Dr Alamgir said that the free import of some items must be checked where protection was needed. He said that the basic policies for industrialisation should be maintained and it should not witness any changes for any vested interests. Earlier, Dr Mahabub said that the past industrial policies had focused more on exploitation of the home market by providing financial incentives to entrepreneurs in various ways and had not paid due attention to raise the productivity and reduce the unit cost of production so that our industries became competitive in international markets.

He cited a study by the Harvard Institute International Development which argued that a major cause of our industrial illness was too much assistance given to industrial entrepreneurs and excessive bureaucratic controls.

The study, he mentioned. found little positive correlation between the level of assistance and the growth of investment, employment and productivity in the industrial sector.

Dr Mahabub said that the efficiency was adversely affected by the industrial policies of Bangladesh.

He further, said that little attention was paid to lowering the costs in real terms through industrial innovations, by raising skills of workers, improving labour-management relations and exploring a new avenues of investment.

Lack of improved process of production and proper information about market also contributed to slow progress of industrialisation, he main-
