today and virtually ensure his side a place in the semifinals of the cricket World Cup. reports Reuter. Lewis bowled openers Roshan Mahanama (9) and Athula Samarasekera (23), had captain Aravinda De Silva brilliantly caught by Neil Fairbrother one-handed in the gully, and caught and bowled Asanka Gurusinha (7).

His destruction, producing figures at one stage of four for 25 in the 12th over, ended any hope Sri Lanka had of passing England's huge 280 for six in their 50 overs on the tiny Ballarat Oval, an easy-paced gift for hard hitters.

But the England victory by 106 runs had its price. Captain Graham Gooch, the veteran of his side at 38, pulled a hamstring in his left leg chasing a four and could be rested for two matches.

He left the field and was being examined by a physiotherapist.

Lewis, named man-of-thematch, finished with four for 30 off eight overs.

After that, Sri Lanka slid inevitably to defeat and were all out for 174 in the 44th over, giving England an emphatic victory in front of an 8,000 erowd, half made up of flag-waving Sri Lankans from nearby Melbourne.

England's score was the third highest of the tournament, beaten only by Sri Lanka's 313 for seven and Zimbabwe's 312 for four which were scored when the two teams met on the opening weekend.

The England innings gathered such breathtaking momentum that they plundered 73 off the last six overs.

Gooch pulls a hamstring

BALLARAT, Mar 9: England captain Graham Gooch suffered a hamstring injury today, leaving a cloud over his future participation in the cricket World Cup, reports Reuter.

"There's a very small tear in the hamstring," Gooch said after he limped off the field during England's 106-run victory over Srt Lanka.

Gooch, the veteran of the England party at 38, said he chased a ball at mid-on and soon after felt a sharp pull behind the upper part of the left things as he was running in the outfield.

The physiotherapist believes there could be a very small tear in the hamstring. said Gooch, whose growing influence as both captain and opening batsman has been largely responsible.

For England's revival in the last two years.

He will have treatment for the injury over the next few days and delay a decision on whether or not to play in England's next match, against South Africa in Melbourne on Thursday. "If it's not right I won't play.

WELLINGTON. Mar 9: West Indies captain Richie Richardson wants an improved batting performance from his team for the World Cup cricket showdown against India at the Basin Reserve on Tuesday, reports Reuter.

The West Indians, with two wins in five games, have yet to reach full potential while India seem to be peaking at the right time after two consecutive victories. "It's important that we play a lot better than we have been and that we win the remaining three matches," Richardson said after his team had been convincingly beaten by leaders New Zealand on Sunday.

An early exit by West Indies, who won the Cup in the inaugural tournament in 1975 and retained it in 1979, would almost certainly mean a hot reception back in the Caribbean for Richardson and his team-
