Naripakkha pays tribute to martyres of Liberation War

By Staff Correspondent

At Suhrawardi Uddyan Tuesday evening, hundreds of people torched hundreds of candles to remember the Martyrs of the War of Liberation '71 while a group of children rendered the song "Dhono Dhanney Pushpey Bhora."

Naripakkha, a women organisation, organised the programme to pay homage to the martyrs. Convener of Naripakkha Fazila Banu Lili began the programme saying, "The War of Liberation left many people dead. Their death shocks us but also inspires; She said, the freedom they brought to our country had given us a dream of a happy and prosperous society adding that now a days' many of our younger generation have lost the true essence of the dream. So, she said, "We want to remind the young generation of the dream by this programme."

People spontaneously joined the Naripakkha programme. It was attended by Nasrin Haq, Rina Sen Gupta and others on behalf of the organisation.

It was also addressed, among others by, Jafar and Harun, sons of two freedom fighters, Jamil — a freedom fighter and Gittkar, a woman freedom fighter addressed the programme.

Fazila said, "21 years after the independence, the picture of Bangladesh is depressing. In a non-communal country like ours communal violence is growing as if have forgotten that we fought to create a non-communal society."

She urged the people particularly the young generation to make firm vow to materialise the dream of the martyrs for a happy and prosperous nation."
