$6 lakh ADB assistance for industrial pollution control

The Asian Development Bank(ADB) has approved a 600,000 dollar technical assistance grant for industrial Pollution Control Management in Bangladesh, reports UNB.

The grant will be financed from the Japan Special Fund and the executive agencies will be the Department of Environment and the Ministry of Industries, according to a news release despatched from Manila.

Bangladesh's small industrial base accounts for only 10 per cent of the gross domestic product, but the problems of industrial pollution are quite serious because of unplanned establishment of manufacturing plants in the past without consideration to their impact on the environment.

Water and air pollution are of greatest concern and solid and hazardous waste pollution are on the rise. Major sources of industrial pollution are tanneries and textile mills which account for half of the 900 polluting indus-tries identified by the Department of Environment.

The technical assistance will assist the government in strengthening the existing framework for improving the industrial environmental and for monitoring industrial pollution control measures.

The possibility of developing an industrial pollution control credit facility will be examined to encouraged industries to introduce environment control measures, the news release said.

Programmes, strategies and policies for reducing industrial pollution will also be defined

The technical assistance will consist of two parts, including one for industrial environment management which will focus on policy and the institutional framework pertaining to industrial environment

The second part is for industrial pollution control. It will involve the preparation of a strategy for reducing industrial pollution, including relocating polluting industries with particular emphasis on leather tanneries.

Stress on integration of womenfolk in development activities

Iran's proposed budget

may fuel inflation,

fear economists

A two-day workshop on "appropriate technology in the socio-economic development" was inaugurated Tuesday stressing integration of womenfolk in development activities by equipping them with proper technological expertise, reports BSS.

Speakers at the inaugural function called for applying appropriate technology in possible areas of socio-economic development through involving women as it was cost effective and could be handled by both educated and uneducated persons.

State Minister for Social Welfare and Women's Affairs Begum Sarwari Rahman inaugurated the workshop being organised by the Jatiya Mahila Sangstha at its premises.

With sangstha's chairman Begum Selina Rahman MP in the chair, the inaugural function was also addressed, among others, by eminent social worker Begum Sufia Rahman, Dr Shahida Rafique of Dhaka University, Mrs Mahbuda Motaleb and Mrs Nurmahal Islam, executive director of the sangstha.

Begum Sarwari Rahman said Prime Minister Begum Khaleda Zia had given due importance to women development while the Jatiya Mahila Sangstha as a statutory body already taken up many projects for making them self-dependent in their life.

"Half of the population is woman who should be made a potential working force through formal and nonformal education, she said. adding that an educated
