Advocate Ferdausi Sultana, president of Bangladesh Mohila Forum addressing the seminar at Biswa Sahitya Kendra in observance of International Women's Day yesterday.

'Crimes against women failure of modern age'

Speakers at a seminar yesterday called for creating social awareness to fight and bring to an end all forms of crimes against women, reports ISS.

The discussants taking part in the seminar organised in celebration of the International Women's Day condemned the despicable crimes being perpetrated against women in Bosnia-Herzegovina and also by Israel in the occupied Arab lands.

They said that the spate of crimes against women was proving to be an unforgivable failure of the modern civilisation to ensure the basic human dignity.

They said that it was a matter of growing concern that women were becoming increasingly victims of violence, torture and rape whenever a war broke out and also in any other trouble in the society.

Turning to the domestic situation they called for making aware the women as well as men of the need to establish and protect the equal rights for men and women so that the nation could march ahead on the path of progress and development in a harmonious manner.

Social Welfare and Women's Affairs Minister Tariqul Islam speaking as the chief guest reiterated the democratic government's commitment to ensure the equal rights for all irrespective of whether one was a woman or a man.
