Majid tells Lioness Clubs' members

Extend service to slum areas

Minister for Agriculture and Irrigation and Water Development and Flood Control M Majid-ul-Huq yesterday called upon members of Lioness Clubs to put in their services aimed at improving the life of sweepers, reports BSS.

"We are the direct beneficiaries of the life-long dedication of this section of the population who have been living in the most inhuman condition, he said and added, they were keeping cities and homesteads clean from all dirts enabling us to live a decent life.

The Agriculture Minister was inaugurating the 6th annual Lioness district convention of the Lioness Central Council, District 315A, at Hotel Sonargaon here.

With President of the council Lns Mahmuda Huq in the chair, the function was also addressed, among others, by district governor Ln M Anwarul Huq, Lt Governor Ln Faruq Moin, Ln M N Huda, Lns Emdadun Faruq and Lns Zinat Ara Begum.

Majid-ul-Huq also asked the Lioness members to extend their service to the slum areas and said their involvement in improving the life of these poor people would generate a hope in them.

"Since service to the humanity is your objective and 'We serve' is the motto of international lionism, there is no better religion than to serving these two sections of the society," he said and assured of all possible help in this regard.

Huq said Bangladesh was still lagging behind compared to other countries of South Asia and observed that the service of lionism could play an effective role to turn the poor into a vital force to contribute in the national development. Majid-ul-Huq called upon the parents as well as members of Lions and Lioness Clubs to pay proper attention to their children enabling them to grow up as worthy citizens of the country.

He regretted that the children of the rich families in cities were being bereft of their parents' company because of often social engage ment like banquet and din-

Earlier, the Agriculture Minister paid tribute to the memory of Ln Humayun Zahir saying he was a man of noble character and dedication. He also expressed his sympathy with the members of the bereaved family.

Later, the Minister distributed prizes among the Lioness members who made remarkable service.

BNP aims at removing poverty: Hafiz

Law and Justice Minister Mirza Golam Hafiz yesterday said the aim of the present government's open market policy is poverty-alleviation through industrialization, reports UNB.

"This objective can be achieved by developing a proper management system and professionalism," he said.

Addressing as chief guest the installation ceremony-93 of the IBA Alumni Association at a local hotel, the Law Minister stressed on concerted efforts of MBA professionals in developing the open market economy - the basis of the MBA education.

The Institute of Business Administration (IBA) has been producing skilled and degree holder professionals in the field of management, he said lauding its contribution to management in the country's economic, commercial and industrial institutions. "IBA is a unique institution, worthy of emulation in our national education system," Mirza Hafiz said, adding that this institution had never fallen in any session jam since its establishment 27 years back. "This is one institution which has reached international standard and upheld it."

The Law Minister laid emphasis on the MBA professionals' role in contributing a lot to the success of open market policy in the country and said, the government will try to use their intellect.

The function was also addressed by founder director of IBA Prof M Shaffullah, Director of IBA Prof Dr M Shamsul Haque, and IBAAA President Tamizuddin Ahmed and General Secretary Arifur Rahman.
