Seminar on 'Islam and world peace' held

Speakers at a seminar here yesterday called upon the Muslim Ummah to be united against the enemies of Islam to protect Muslims all over the world, reports UNB.

Repression, torture and worldwide conspiracy against the Muslim Ummah are being continued in a bid to eliminate Islam from the world, they said.

The seminar on "Islam and World Peace" was organised by Dhaka-based Federation of Islamic Organisations (FIO) at the Jatiya Press Club auditorium yesterday evening.

Former Vice President AKM Nurul Islam addressed the seminar as chief guest while Editor of daily New Nation Alamgir Mohiuddin presented the key-note paper.

Milam tells at OCAB meet Press essentially free in Bangladesh

By Staff Correspondent

Press is essentially free in Bangladesh but the question is how the newspapers should handle the freedom they now enjoy, outgoing US Ambassador to Bangladesh said at a reception here yesterday.

"Some people say that the press must be more responsible and sensationalism must be avoided," William B Milam told a group of journalists mostly the members of the Overseas Correspondents' Association of Bangladesh (OCAB) at the National Press Club.

A few politicians and even some journalists have called for limits on freedom of press by some sort of code of ethics, Milam said, who is leaving Bangladesh after his three-year tenure.

OCAB accorded the reception at his honour, which was addressed by OCAB president Zahiduzzaman Faruk and general secretary Farid Hossain.

Milam said that it would be a bad idea to impose a set of special rules which might be used to silence journalists at the same time journalists must uphold basic standards.

"Quality is more important than quantity and may be if there were fewer papers competing for private ads and for the limited number of readers, those papers would be financially stable and editorially independent," Milam added.

He volunteered to answer a number of questions but declined to comment on Farraka issue.
