World Bank wants Arabs to learn from Asians

under ADP

DUBAI (United Arab Emirates), Nov 4: The World Bank wants Arab states to learn from Asian nations in their bid to tackle persistent economic problems and cut reliance on foreign markets, reports AFP.

In a study presented Tuesday to an investment conference in Dubai. United Arab Emirates (UAE), the World Bank said economic reforms in most Arab countries were slow while investment was facing hurdles in the technology-hungry Gulf states.

"When we talk to officials for example in Egypt or Jordan about the need to accelerate reforms, they compare themselves with their situation in the past and say they have made great achievements", the bank said.

"But in fact, they are lagging behind because such moves in the world, especially in Asia, are not walking but running. In comparison, there is a big distance between Arab countries

The United States and other industrial nations have pressed Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) countries to lift such conditions to secure technology, which is essential for their attempts to build an industrial base and reduce reliance on unstable oil earnings.

"Preventing foreigners from fully owning projects is blocking moves to attract large world ' companies which possess high technology," it said.

Gulf states should also fol-. low a policy similar to Singapore's which concentrates on attracting industries involving high technology and skilled labour.

facing crisis

About 10,000 fishermen in five thanas of the district are engaged in their ancestral profession. But most of them have no fishing equipment like net and boat.

Moreover, rampant catching of fish fry and massive siltation in the rivers and ponds are the main causes of reduction in fish production adding miseries to the fishermen.

Besides, the poor fishermen have to run their business on a partnership basis and some are forced to borrow money at a high rate of interest from the local money lenders to buy their necessary inputs.

Some fishermen alleged that due to complex procedure they can seldom avail the bank loan facilities to continue their occupation.

They urged the authority to come forward to solve their problems and arrange soft term bank loan facilities to carry on their age-old profession.
