'Policy dialogue' with cabinet colleagues Saifur refuses to take all blame for backlash of reforms

Finance Minister M Saifur Rahman yesterday denied that his policies were responsible for a political setback for the ruling party and a blow to domestic industry, reports UNB.

"Economic reform is the collective policy of the government involving all the ministries concerned, not an individual one," Saifur was quoted to have told a discussion meeting participated by a number of his cabinet colleagues and senior officials.

Saifur Rahman's economic reforms were blamed for the recent debacle of the ruling party in the city corporation elections as well as for an influx of foreign goods.

The Finance Minister defended himself at a 'policy dialogue' on the on-going economic reform policies of the government, held at NEC Bhaban at Sher-e-Bangla Nagar.

The first of its kind, the closed-door meeting was attended by Foreign Minister ASM Mostafizur Rahman, Communications Minister Oli Ahmed, Energy Minister Khandaker Mosharraf Hossain, Health Minister Chowdhury Kamal Ibne Yusuf, Industries Minister AH Zahiruddin Khan, State Minister for Planning Moyeen Khan and State Minister for Textiles Abdul Mannan.

Presided over by Saifur Rahman, the meeting had detailed and lively discussions lasting for three hours, said an official handout.

The Finance Minister did not, however, deny that his policies had given the way to foreign goods to flood the domestic market.

"Our country is opening up its market to foreign goods by substantially reducing tariff rates and taking other liberalised measures for justifiable reasons. We also expect a favourable response from other countries," Rahman was quoted to have told the meeting.

He, however, pointed to the protectionist policies pursued by some western countries.

The Finance Minister said though carrying out of economic reform in a democratic society like Bangladesh is difficult, yet it is necessary for the long term benefit. In implementing the reform, the government should be watchful so that the democratic process is not hampered. At the same time it has to ensure adequate compensatory and safety measures for the persons affected.

Defending the reforms, he said it is aimed at broad-based economic growth with equitable distribution of resources. The key to economic growth is appropriate policies, proper technology, good governance, adequate investment and savings. To achieve these objectives, all restrictive policies and regulatory impediments must be removed.

Saifur said the rate of savings in Bangladesh is not encouraging. Though the domestic contribution to the ADP increased substantially over the

'Chakmas' return marks progress in Indo-Bangla ties

Bangladesh views the repatriation of "Chakma" refugees from India to their homes in the Chittagong Hill Tracts as a "forward movement" in the bilateral ties between India and Bangladesh, a Foreign Office spokesman said here yesterday, reports BSS.

Terming the development as a resolution of a long-standing problem, the spokesman, Foreign Secretary MR Osman, said this not only facilitates the return of the refugees, but also reflects the willingness of the two countries to settle seemingly intractable problems.

"The governments of the two countries, the refugees themselves and others made this possible," he said of the repatriation that began last Tuesday with the return of the first batch comprising 77 families. Osman said the return of the refugees has come about after months of intense negotiations and added that the repatriation of the first batch in the presence of important persons from both the countries augurs well for return of all the refugees.

A total of 1,98,177 refugees await repatriation in 16 evacuation and three transit camps, he added.

Replying to a question, the Foreign Secretary denied that repatriation of the "Rohingya" refugees had slowed down and said the 16th meeting between the senior officials of the two countries could not take place due to pre-occupation of the Myanmar side.

He said the meeting is expected to be held after Ramadan.

The Foreign Secretary said Bangladesh and Myanmar are in the process of concluding a border trade agreement, the draft of which has already been prepared and the agreement will be signed after examination of the draft.

BSS regrets report on Sheikh Hasina

The Bangladesh Sangbad Sangstha (BSS), regretted an "inadvertent mistake" while reporting certain parts of the proceedings of the Jatiya Sangsad on February 14 that the Leader of the Opposition, Sheikh Hasina had written letters to the foreign aid missions.

The fact, as discussed in the Sangsad, was that the Leader of the Opposition had written letters to various educational institutions which received assistance from the government out of funds given by donor agencies. The issue was raised by a treasury bench member during the question hour on February 14, the agency said.

The mistake was not at all deliberate but it occurred because the reporter of the agency concerned could not

Stormy debate in JS BNP Chief Whip accused of misusing power

By Staff Correspondent

Parliament yesterday witnessed an unscheduled stormy debate over the alleged abuse of official powers by the acting chief whip of the treasury bench.

Tofael Ahmed of the Awami League, showing a letter from the Superintendent Engineer, PWD of Feni dated February 12, said that ruling party whip Mahbubul Alam Tara "had ordered the engineer to collect money from contractors to patronise the Feni district football team."

"The treasury bench whip influenced the office of the Superintendent Engineer to collect money from the contractors," Tofael alleged. It could not have happened if the Parliamentary Probe Committee on the Irrigation Ministry had investigated the alleged irregularities and submitted a report to the House, Tofael added.

Mahbubul Alam Tara, denying the allegation, said the decision to raise funds for the national champions Feni football team was taken at a meeting which was also attended by AL MP Joyal Hazari.

"I have no ulterior motive but to help the Feni District Sports Association and the football team which has qualified to play in the final round of the national championship," Tara pointed out.

Hazari, however, denied having attended any such meeting and said he had submitted three notices to raise the issue in the House.

Taking the floor, Moudud Ahmed of the Jatiya Party said a 'Pandora's Box' had been opened in the House. Government

Probe report on Irrigation Ministry in a week

The Special Parliamentary Committee to investigate the alleged corruption in the Irrigation and Water Development Ministry will place its final report in the House within a week, reports UNB.

Speaker Shaikh Razzak Ali, who heads the 15-member parliamentary probe committee, disclosed this in parliament yesterday when Awami League leader Tofael Ahmed wanted to know the reasons of delay in finalising the report.

The matter is very important and it demands a full-dress discussion in the House, said the AL leader.

The committee was formed last year after Tofael had brought allegations of corruption against Majid-ul Haq and his ministry.

The Speaker informed the House that the committee had so far held 13 sittings and would finalise its report at a meeting in a couple of days.

The probe committee produced a preliminary report in parliament during the last session, saying that it had failed to reach consensus on the terms of reference even after holding 12 meetings.

Meanwhile, Independence of the Judiciary from the Executive will be considered in Parliament in a few days when a private member's bill on the subject comes to the House after scrutiny by a

French co to cancel MOU on gas exploration

By Sharier Khan

The French oil giant the Total Exploration Production has proposed to cancel its Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with Bangladesh, according to sources.

The French firm signed a MOU with Bangladesh late last year and submitted proposals to explore gas and oil in Comilla, Noakhali and Chittagong. It had also purchased relevant data worth one lakh dollars from Bangladesh last October.

During the several rounds of discussions, the company asked the government for a guarantee that Bangladesh would buy the gas if gas fields of two to six trillion cubic feet reserve were discovered.

According to sources, the discovery of gas reserves of over six to seven trillion CFT would be commercially viable for an oil company to set up a profitable export-oriented liquefied gas plant.

The French company representatives in several meetings said that, in case of the discovery of gas fields having below six trillion CFT but over two trillion, its investment could not be recovered unless Bangladesh agreed to buy the gas.

Bangladeshi negotiators refused to give any such guarantee apprehending possible complications arising from such a guarantee, a source said.

As an alternative proposal, the French oil company has requested Bangladesh to allow it to export gas, if necessary. Bangladesh also turned down this proposal.

In a faxed message Wednesday — the French company said, its MOU with the Bangladesh government might be cancelled. But it also said that if the government reconsidered its proposal to export gas, the company might restart negotiations.
