Govt asked to show cause

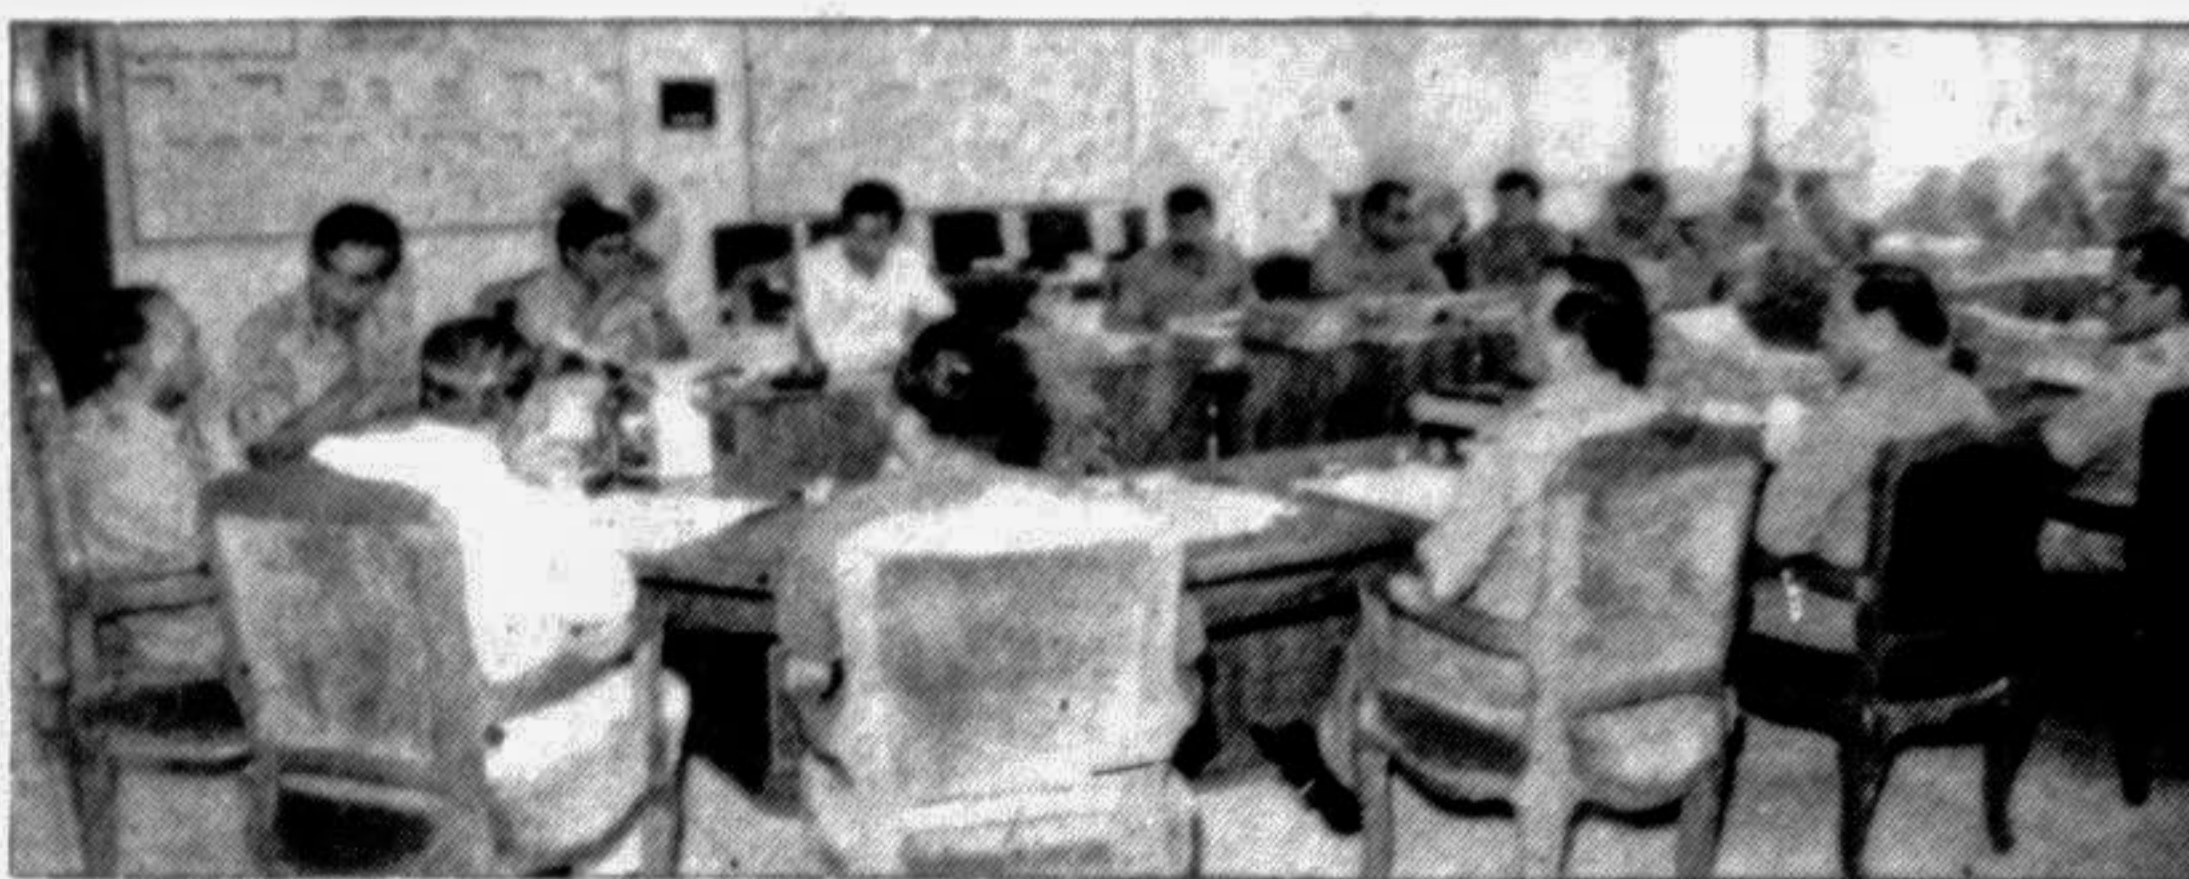

The Court of Fourth Assistant Judge of Dhaka yesterday issued notice upon the government to show cause within seven days as to why its order asking the Bangladesh Photo Journalists' Association to vacate the No 28 Tophkana Road house in the capital would not be declared illegal.

The show cause notice came after the association filed a civil suit on April 2 against the government order issued last week.

The association had been using the Tophkana Road house as its office since 1972 after the house was declared abandoned property by the authorities. In 1987, the association purchased the house from the government at a price of Tk six lakh.

However, the court recently gave a verdict in favour of Hajera Khatun and Zaved Akhter who claimed to own the house. Accordingly, the government ordered the vacating.

Meanwhile, the Photo Journalists' Association was continuing agitation against the government order and it had bagged support of the Dhaka Union of Journalists, the Bangladesh Federal Union of Journalists and the Crime Reporters' Association of Bangladesh.

Jamaat reviews political situation

The central executive committee of the Jamaat-e-Islami Bangladesh Saturday started reviewing the present political situation in the country in order to formulate the party's new strategy.

Saturday's meeting was adjourned after four members of the 26-member body took part in the deliberations, a source said adding the meeting would resume at 5:30 pm today.

The Amir of the party, Golam Azam, chaired the meeting. The recent incidents in Sathkhira centering around the party chief Golam Azam, the situation in Parliament, the proposed siege of the secretariat on April 7, and the demand for a care-taker government came up for discussion.

The source declined to elaborate before the end of the central executive committee meeting.
