Notes From Madaripur

Cultivation in the district is being hampered adversely due to acute shortage of bullocks, reports UNB.

According to sources, about 60 to 70 per cent farmers of the district have no bullocks to till their lands and some are seen ploughing their land by hiring bullocks on share basis. As a result a vast tract of land remain uncultivated every year.

Meanwhile, price of bullock has shot up in the market which is beyond the reach of the marginal farmers.

Livestock officials said due to recurrent floodings, cyclones and other natural calamities huge number of bullocks are lost every year.

Moreover, due to scarcity of fish cows are being slaughtered every day in the market as people are increasingly buying beef. They also said cattle diseases every year are claiming a large number of animals causing the shortage acute.

Moreover, a gang of miscreants are engaged in cattle lifting.

Quacks on rise

Quacks and unlicensed medical practitioners are on rise in the rural areas of the district taking advantage of ignorance of the poor people, social workers said.

A number of educated young men who failed to get any job have taken up quackery and engaged themselves in medical practise to earn their livelihood.

They said very few of them have basic training on health care. Most of others are not only deceiving the people but also creating grave health problems by prescribing wrong medicines.

Poor people, mainly landless and day labourers, who can hardly afford the cost of treatment at hospitals and private clinics are compelled to go to the unscrupulous quacks.

It is also alleged that some compounders and other staff members of the health complexes are prescribing medicine to ignorant patients in the absence of doctors.

Local people alleged the several people were died due to maltreatment of the quacks and compounder in the recent past.

Load-shedding hampers output

Frequent power disruption and load-shedding in the district have been shattering the production in mills and factories for a long time, reports UNB.

Power goes four to five times a day causing financial loss to the entrepreneurs and retrenching of workers further raising the unemployment situation in the district.

Domestic and commercial consumers approached the Power Development Board authorities to take immediate measures to remove the problems but the situation is going worse day by day.

Local people alleged that some corrupt PDB employees were involved in malpractices and earning a lot by giving unauthorised connections aggravating the load shedding.

The thana and district headquarters plunge into darkness for hours together on every alternative nights, stopping production in mills and factories and hampering transactions in commercial centres and markets.

Soil fertility of crop land in Rajshahi reduced

From Our Correspondent

RAJSHAHI, June 14: The soil fertility of crop land in the northern districts has been reduced to a great extent over the years resulting in decrease in production of produce.

According to experts who conducted experiments on the subject, the production capacity of the soil in the region has fallen by 25 to 30 per cent during the last five years. Output from High Yielding Varieties (HYV) of seeds has also decreased to 45 to 50 maunds per acre of land as against 60 to 70 maunds. The change in declining condition of production were seen in a number of districts of the northern region.

It is learnt that the adverse effect of Farakka barrage, change in climate, excessive use of inorganic fertilizers and pesticides and unplanned cultivation system were the major causes behind reduction of soil fertility.

According to the Bangladesh Agriculture Department Corporation (BADC) sources, inorganic fertilizers and pesticides are being used repeatedly in cultivating paddy, wheat, sugarcane, potato, jute and various types of vegetable. Among them potash and phosphorus are common chemical fertilizers while sulphur and zinc are used as often as the farmers want.

The sources further added that the ratio for use of the fertilizers are often not properly followed by the farmers resulting in poor output of the product. Pesticides having strong chemical content are also applied frequently to destroy pests. This sometimes give opposite reaction as the chemicals rather harm the produce while killing the pests. It is learnt that excessive use of fertilizers make the crops more susceptible to pest attack to sugarcane, jute, potato, vegetables and some other crops all over the northern districts.

Among these, urea, potash and phosphate are the common chemical fertilizers while sulphur and zinc fertilizers also being used in most of the areas in an increasing rate.

BADC sources say that the ratio and combination of different fertilizers are often not decided as per requirement of the land. Often some fertilizers are used unnecessarily. At the same time strong pesticides are being repeatedly applied to contain pest attack on crops while organic manures are being seldom used. It is learnt that excessive use of fertilizers make crops more susceptible to pest attack.

Water bearing capacity of soil is also being gradually decreased for lack of sufficient organic elements. Huge amount of sand carried away by storm from the vast shoals of about 40 rivers including the Padma, the Mahananda, the Karotoa etc. is also changing the consistency of soil every year.

The fertile humus layer of soil is being damaged due to expected for long lasting drought and rainlessness in the dry season and floods and stagnation of water in the rainy season causing gradual decrease in soil fertility.

Repeated cultivation of the same crop in the same land is another factor behind the fertility decrease. Paddy, sugarcane, potato and wheat are the crops which are usually cultivated repeatedly in the same land in the northern area and it has been shown that production of these crops has decreased considerably when cultivated.

Primary schools in Sherpur face problems

SHERPUR, June 14: Most of the government and non-government primary schools of the district are facing manifold problems hampering the implementation of the universal primary education programme, reports UNB.

According to officials, there are 358 government and 160 registered non-government primary schools in five thanas of the district. But most of them have been facing accommodation problems due to increasing number of enrollments in every academic session.

Mentionable that government has been implementing new programmes including wheat for education scheme to raise the number of primary students in the country.

But due to shortage of teachers, furniture and necessary appliances many schools cannot afford additional students. Most of the schools also lack adequate water supply system and sanitary latrines.

Moreover, many schools damaged by the cyclone, flood and other natural calamities are yet to be repaired. In some schools inconveniences.

It is alleged that teachers in many schools do not attend their classroom duties regularly. Guardians alleged that on the basis of underhand understanding with the local education officers some teachers attend the schools once in a week just to put their signature on the attendance register. Most of the time they remain busy with their household or other jobs hampering education adversely.

they also alleged that in some schools there are more teachers than the actual requirement while there are less than the actual need in some other schools.

Teleprinter services remain suspended in Jamalpur

JAMALPUR, June 14: The telegram communication of the district with rest of the country remained suspended since last week, reports UNB.

They said, they could not ascertain the fault in a particular machine and hence the repair work could not be started. The matter has been informed the Head Office in Dhaka, they added.

NETRAKONA, June 14: Betel-leaf production is decreasing fast in the district as the growers have been facing manifold problems for a long time, reports UNB.

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THE INSECTS THERE WERE SO INCREDIBLY BOLD THEY'RE KNOWN AS COCKY ROACHES.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: A equals B

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.
