Emirates automates cargo handling at ZIA

Emirates, the international airline of the UAE, has recently automated its cargo tracking system at Zia International Airport, Dhaka. The airline has also computerised its pre-paid ticket advice section in its Dhaka town office, says a press release.

Emirates' computerised cargo reservation system, SITA Fast IV, now fully operational at Zia International Airport, provides instant space confirmation and reservations, including through-bookings on other airlines. Shippers can obtain and immediate report on the status of their freight anywhere in the world, from the time of despatch to the time of receipt.

Mohammed Shareef Abdul Raheem, Emirates Manager Bangladesh, said: "SITA Fast IV saves time, reduces paper work and increases accuracy."

Emirates has also updated its ticketing reservations system, EMIR, at its Dhaka town office. The system will now provide immediate confirmation of pre-paid ticket advice and expedite other ticketing processes.

KLM reception

"Relations between Bangladesh and The Netherlands are centuries old".

This was observed by Cees Ursem, Manager Bangladesh, KLM Royal Dutch Airlines while speaking at a reception in the city yesterday arranged on the occasion of announcement of its two weekly Amsterdam-Dhaka flights with stopover in Dubai.

The inaugural flight is expected to arrive on October 31 morning.

He said they also have many things in common — like water. While the problem with water has been solved in the Netherlands, it was being solved in Bangladesh and the Netherlands was glad to be of help.

Graced by State Minister for Civil Aviation and Tourism Abdul Mannan and Secretary Nooruddin Almasood, the reception was largely attended by high government officials, businessmen and elite of the city.

Narrating the growth of the airline which celebrated its 75th anniversary earlier this month, Ursem said the first experimental long-range flight to then Dutch colony of Batavia (at present Indonesia) touched down in Dhaka 70 years ago.

KLM is the second European airline to be in Bangladesh, the first being the British Airways. "We are here because we know Bangladeshis travel a lot with most of them going to Europe" and "US through Amsterdam", he said.

Though we are new in this market, we will provide facilities like transit packages in Dubai and Amsterdam. There will be interpreters on board so that there are no language problems," Ursem said.

Praising the services of the travel agents, he said 95 per cent of the business of the airline comes from travel agents. "We always advise passengers to come through them. It frees passengers from all hassles," he added.

"Just as we have trust in travel agencies, they have trust in us. It is Aminur Rahman, Managing Director, Traveltime Ltd, GSA of KLM in Bangladesh, who convinced us of the enormous scope for KLM here."

Export under credit line system to CIS yet to begin

By Staff Correspondent

Export to the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) under the credit line system is yet to start although nine months have elapsed after its announcement by the Bangladesh Bank.

Sources in the Sonali Bank, one of the three authorized banks for the credit line, said, "export to the CIS countries under the credit line system is still under process." Two banks of CIS countries have opened Letter of Credits (L/C) but the shipment of the goods has not started.

Answering a question, the source said, the shipment is likely to begin in the first half of the next month.

"Official procedure is the main cause for the delay as the proper banking system is yet to develop in those countries which were under a centrally controlled socialist system for a long time," the source added.

Bangladesh Bank announced last December that it would provide up to 25 million US dollars credit line to three CIS countries—Kazakhstan, Russia, and Ukraine—to boost Bangladesh's export to that region.

The three nationalised banks Sonali, Agrani and Janata were authorised to operate the credit line.

The local exporters have been provided with the opportunities to export their items to CIS countries with deferred payment facilities allowed for maximum 360 days under the system.

A delegation from Kazakhstan visited Bangladesh recently to choose goods for import. They talked with our exporters and signed agreements, sources said.

Another delegation from Russia is expected to visit Dhaka soon to finalise import of various commodities from the country under the system, sources informed The Daily Star.

They said, Turan Bank of Kazakhstan has opened letters of credit for importing goods worth five million US dollars and SBER Bank of Russia opened LC for six million US dollars.

Jute goods, garments, leather goods, melamine and tea are likely to be the main items for exports.

Mohammad Hanif, Mayor of Dhaka City Corporation, inaugurating Sonali Bank's 1307th branch at the newly constructed Nagar Bhaban in the city yesterday. He was accompanied by the senior executives of the bank and the corporation. The Mayor opened a bank account following the inauguration.

BCCI scandal Convict pleads innocent

NEW YORK, Oct 22: A former top officer of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International, already sentenced to 11 years in federal prison for bank fraud, pleaded innocent Friday to state charges, reports AP.

Swaleh Naqvi, 62, entered the plea at an arraignment on three indictments that charged him with numerous counts of grand larceny, enterprise corruption and a scheme to defraud. The two top charges are punishable by up to 25 years in prison.

Naqvi's New York Lawyer, Brian Barrett, said he intends to ask state Supreme Court Justice John A. K. Bradley to dismiss virtually all the charges on double jeopardy grounds. He said the charges are essentially the same as those to which Naqvi pleaded guilty in US District Court in Washington, DC.

Naqvi was sentenced Wednesday in Washington to 135 months in prison and ordered to pay more than 255 million dollars in restitution. The prison sentence was the maximum possible under his federal plea agreement. However Naqvi's actual time served in prison will be less, a bit more than 8 years, because he will receive credit for time already served in jail in Abu Dhabi and in the United States while pending trial.

Naqvi, a native of India, holds Pakistani and British citizenship. He was once the second in command at BCCI and then briefly ran the bank prior to its downfall in 1991. Since that time, he was held in custody in the Middle Eastern emirate of Abu Dhabi but was extradited to this country this spring.

Assistant District Attorney John Moscow said he does not believe Naqvi's federal case covers BCCI's crimes as a worldwide, elaborate scheme in which the bank bribed governments, and stole and laundered money.

BCCI at its height had branches in more than 70 countries. It was shut down by the United States and most other countries on July 5, 1991. Prosecutors estimate losses due to BCCI's criminal conduct at 12 billion dollars.

The Manhattan district attorney's office lost a trial on BCCI's schemes to take over First American Bank in Washington when lawyer Robert Altman was acquitted of helping BCCI mount a secret takeover.

"We're not going to retry those charges," said Moscow, explaining that he probably would not oppose a defense motion to dismiss state counts as double jeopardy if they involve First American.

Barrett, appointed by Bradley to represent Naqvi, said his client is indigent.

Sutherland hopes for Uruguay Round treaty ratification

OSLO, Oct 22: GATT chief Peter Sutherland said on Friday the big economic powers seemed set to ratify the Uruguay Round world trade treaty in time for the new world trade organisation to be set up on January 1, reports Reuters.

GATT is due to hold an implementation conference on the treaty in early December. The three major economic trading partners are the United States, the European Union and Japan.

"They all say that they are going to be in a position to give an absolute assurance that they will be in a position to ratify by the first of January," Sutherland, on an official visit to Norway, told a news conference.

The WTO is due to replace the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade as the main world trade body from January 1.

Sutherland said 30 countries had so far ratified the agreement.

Another 50 countries had informed him of the progress of their legislation and almost all expected to complete its passage by the first half of December.

"I'm absolutely confident on the basis of what I've been told from Japan — and I can say the same about the United States and the European Union."

Lanka looks for closer trade ties with Asia

COLOMBO, Oct 22: Sri Lanka's new government planned to "rejuvenate" relations and attract more trade and investment from Asian nations. Foreign Minister Lakshman Kadirgamar said Friday, reports AFP.

The government of Prime Minister Chandrika Kumaratunga was keen to strengthen trade relations with other Asian countries, Kadirgamar told the foreign correspondents' association here.

"We will try hard to attract capital from Asia. We want to make it clear to our Asian neighbours that we will take steps to rejuvenate our relations. We have been basically sleeping over that for some time," he said.

Sri Lanka was wooing capital from Taiwan and also Australia, in addition to countries of the Association of South East Asian Nations (ASEAN). "With Australia it has been social links so far. But we want more trade," he said.

The minister, who is a prominent lawyer and an international expert on intellectual property law, said relations with neighbouring India were at their best after the new government took office following the August 16 elections.

The despatch here of A. N. Varma, the Principal Secretary of Indian Prime Minister P. V. Narasimha Rao, in August was an expression of New Delhi's goodwill towards Sri Lanka, Kadirgamar said.
