Prokrichi-BCS
observes
'hatred day'

By Staff Correspondent
Slogan-chanting members of the Prokrichi-BCS Central Action Council yesterday observed a 'hatred day' and enjoyed a leave en masse to register their aversion to the 'colonial bureaucracy' in the country.

They also brought out a silent procession in the capital yesterday and burnt an effigy symbolising the existing administrative system.

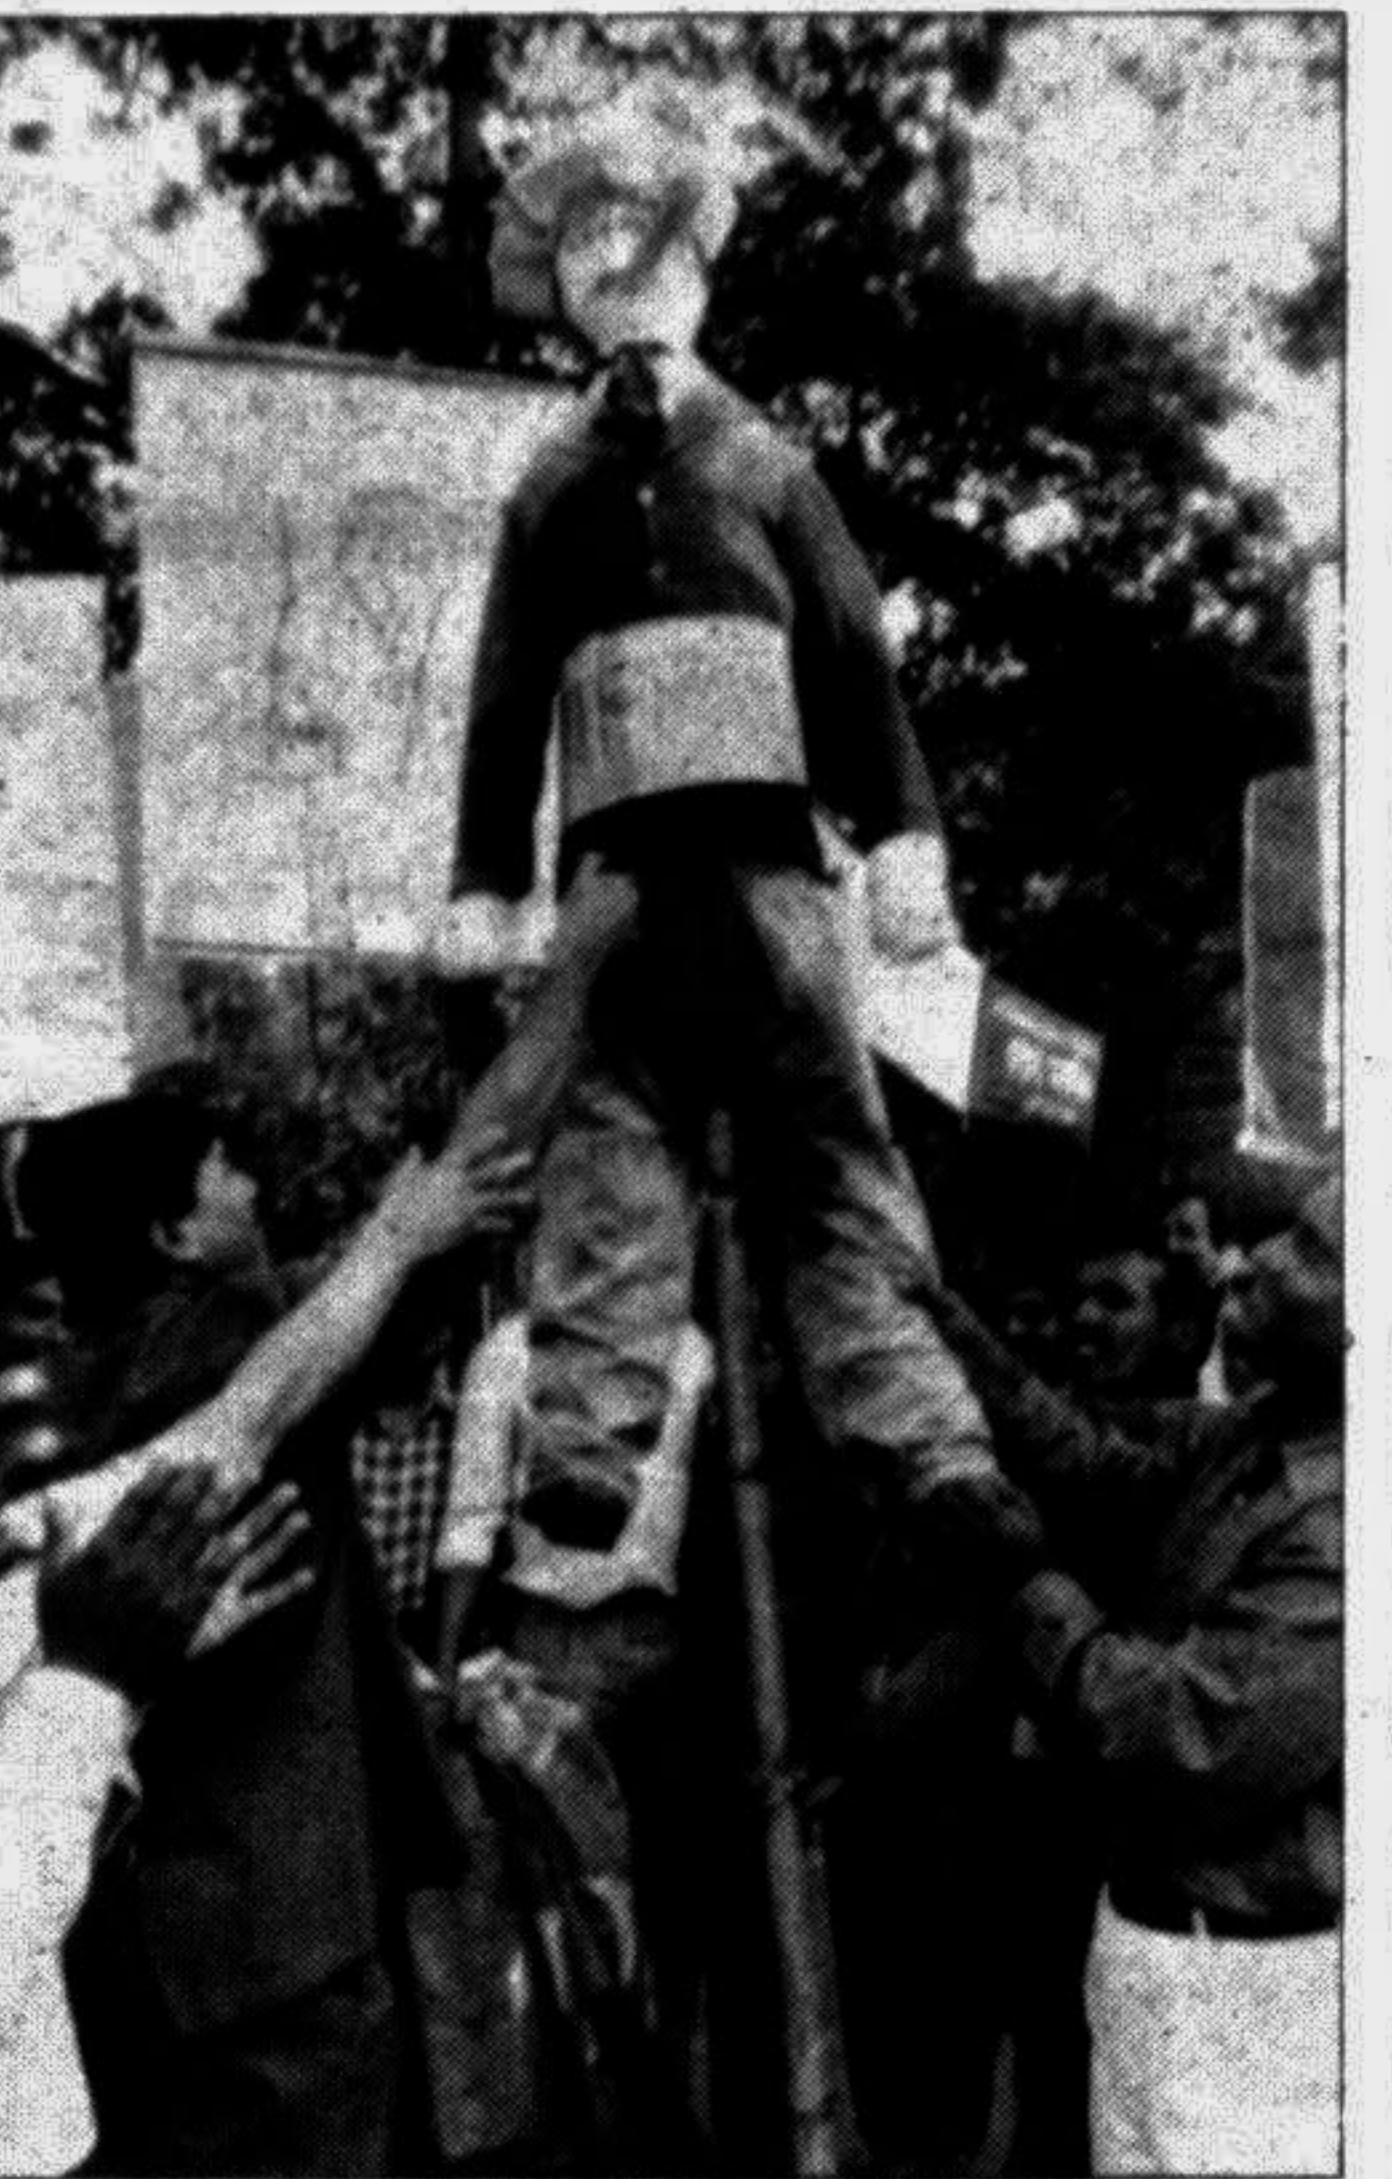

The 'hatred day' was observed as part of the Prokrichi's on-going campaign for overhauling the present bureaucracy.

The Prokrichi members started thronging at the Engineers' Institution premises since the morning, and brought out the silent procession at 11am which ended in front of the Jatiya Press Club.

The central leader of the platform of the country's 70 thousand doctors, engineers, agriculturists and 26 non-administrative BCS cadres set the effigy on fire, while other members chanted slogans denouncing the bureaucracy which, they said had blocked the progress of the country.

At a rally immediately before the burning of the effigy, Prokrichi secretary general MA Hena vowed to continue their campaign for a democratic and accountable administrative system for the country.
