UN seeking $1.4b to kick-start | US-India commercial devastated Rwandan economy

GENEVA. Jan 18: The, United Nations is seeking almost 1.4 billion dollars from international donors to kickstart the devastated Rwandan economy and prevent a slide to another bloodbath, UN officials said here Tuesday, reports Without the desperatelyneeded funds, the international community would see a new humanitarian disaster in Rwanda, to follow the genocide carried out in 1994, they said. "We risk going down the spiral of despair," said the UN Secretary-General's special Advisor to Rwanda. Shahryar Khan, at the start of a meeting of potential international donors to the Central African country.

Gustav Speth, head of the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), said that without a rapid resumption in government and a kick-starting in the economy, "we would set the stage for further collapse and chaos." only months after up to one million people were killed in an apparently pre-planned genocide. Ethnic minority Tutsis and moderates from the Hutu majority were targeted in the killings which have been attributed by the UN to Hutu supremacist militias and government army troops set up by the late Rwandan President Juvenal Habrarimana.

The UN is launching appeals for two separate Rwanda funds which together total 1.4 billion dollars.

Rwandan Prime Minister Faustin Twagiramungu, along with ministers from several donor countries. has already launched and appeal for 764 million dollars during a UNDP round table for Rwanda.

A new. UN consolidated inter agency appeal will be launched on Friday, seeking 710 million dollars for "the most acute needs which still have to be covered," according to Peter Hansen, the assistant head of humanitarian affairs at the UN

"It's challenge will be to help create an environment in which longer-term economic and social stability can be successfully addressed." Hansen

The Kigali government says the money would go towards assisting the balance of pay ments, reorganising state services, repair infrastructure, rehouse refugees, stimulate production, and get schools and hospital working again.

President, Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Dhaka, M Anis Ud Dowla presented to Dr Akbar Ali Khan, Chairman, National Board of Revenue, the MCC&I's crest with an inscription appreciating the supportive role the NBR has started playing in the country's economic development, at the chamber's conference hall recently.
