Iraqi MPs reject UN proposal: traqi parliamentarians joined their government on Tuesday in rejecting a UN plan for Baghdad to sell limited amounts of oil to meet urgent humanitarian needs, the Iraqi News Agency,

INA reported, Reuters says from Baghdad Members of the Environment Committee at the national assembly (parliament) have expressed their categorical rejection of the American UN resolution, INA said.

Rafsanjani denies N-plans: Iranian President Akbar Hashemi Rafsanjani said yesterday that Tehran had no plans to build atomic weapons. Reuter reports from New Delhi.

Rafsanjani told a news conference in the Indian capital that he expected Russia to provide a controversial nuclear reactor to Iran despite US objections.

Peres for more talks with Syria: To break the deadlock in Israel-Syria peace talks, the two countries should discuss all aspects of an Israeli withdrawal from the Golan Heights which it captured in 1967, until security arrangements are worked out in talks between military experts.

8 die in Rwanda refugee camp: Panic erupted at a Rwandan refugee camp on Tuesday when soldiers tried to close it down, and eight people died, the United Nations said, AP reports from United Nations. As refugees in the center of the Kibeho camp fled their huts and tents, government troops fired in the air and panic ensued. UN spokesman Joe Sills said.

New CIS army chief in Tajikistan: General Valentin Bobryshev was named yesterday as head of Commonwealth of Independent States forces in the turbulent state of Tajikistan. Interfax news agency reported, AFP says Bobryshev replaced General Valeri Patrikeeva, whose mandate had expired.

Cairo for terrorism on confce agenda: Egypt wants to add terrorism to the agenda of an international crime conference that will open later this month in Cairo, AP reports from Cairo.

Interior Minister Hassan el-Alfy told reporters at a special pre-conference seminar Tuesday that terrorism - whether linked to religious or cult fanatics or political radicals - has become an international threat that should be handled under UN auspices.

Kurds for talks to end conflict: The Kurdish parliament in exile said on Tuesday it had held its first sitting and appealed for political dialogue with Turkey to end the Kurdish conflict, reports Reuter.

We think the only solution to the Kurdish problem is through dialogue ... we want to resolve this through democratic means, Zubeyir Aydar, head of the parliament's executive council told a news conference in Brussels.

We are not separatists. Our desire is to speak to the government in Ankara, he added.

Chechens kill 1,500 Russians: More than 1,500 Russian servicemen have been killed in Chechnya and Moscow puts rebel fighters' losses at up to 9.500, the commander of Russia's campaign in the breakaway region said yesterday. Reuter reports from Moscow.

General Anatoly Kulikov, the head of the joint army and interior ministry operation, said 1,518 servicemen had been killed since Moscow sent troops to end Chechnya's independence drive on December 11.

2491 die of meningitis in Niger: An epidemic of meningitis sweeping the West African state of Niger has now killed 2.491 people but its spread seems to be slowing, the Health Ministry said on Tuesday. Reuter reports from a Niamey

The ministry said 26.736 cases had been reported. Last week, the death toll was 2,344, and the week before 1,965.

Bolivian labour leaders held: The Government declared a state of siege on Wednesday morning and arrested dozens of labour leaders to try to end a six-week teacher's strike marked by violent street confrontations, AP reports from La Paz.

President Gonazalo Sanchez de Lozada's government issued the declaration hours after elite police units raided the headquarters of the Bolivian Workers Confederation and arrested scores of labour leaders. They were meeting to reject an agreement with the government that would have ended the strike and protests.

Hamas, Arafat deadlocked in reconciliation talks

GAZA CITY, Gaza Strip, Apr 19: Yasser Araiat and the Muslim militant group Hamas have failed to settle their dispute. with Arafat sticking to demands that the group disarm and accept the Israel-PLO accord. a Hamas spokesman said Wednesday, reports AP.

maliamas rejects those demeh. a Hamas leaders who has been meeting with officials from Arafat's government over the weekend.

Arafat's security forces meanwhile, released 25 lollowers of Hamas and the Islamic Jihad group late Tuesday, but rounded up eight new Hamas activists. Palestinian police officials said

About 100 suspected Islamic militants remain in detention, down from 200 arrested in a sweep after backto-back suicide bombings carried out by Hamas and Is. lamic Jihad on April 9. Seven israelis and an American were killed in the attacks.

cent meetings between Hamas and officials in Arafat's gov ernment were aimed at defus-ing tensions.

confrontation and then to talk about the causes of this fire. Abu Musameh told the Associ-"But they (officials) wanted to subjugate us by pressuring us to accept their accord with Israel and give up our arms. listen to such requests."

bers of Hamas military wing izzedine al-Qassam, need their weapons because they feel threatened.

"Israeli undercover units and collaborators still roam the streets of Gaza. How could our military wing agree to hand over their arms?" said Abu Musameh.

The militants oppose the autonomy accord Arafat signed with, Israel in September Blasts sink 2 navy ships, 16 killed

LTTE calls off peace talks

COLOMBO, Apr 19: Tamil separatists fighting for a homeland said they are pulling out of the peace process completely, hours before explosions sank two naval vessels in northeastern Sri Lanka and killed 16 people on Wednesday, reports AP. But after a meeting with her cabinet ministers and military officials, President Chandrika Kumaratunga appeared determined to pursue talks with the guerillas to end the Il year war that has left 34,000 people dead, a government spokesman said.

"You have failed to fulfill the stipulated demands by April 19. So, as we informed earlier, we are withdrawing from the peace process and the cessation of hostilities agreement." said rebel commander

NEW DELHI, Apr 19:

Iranian President Hashemi

Rafsanjani today expressed

"dissatisfaction" with the situation in Kashmir and offered

Tehran's mediation to find a solution to it as he welcomed the "serious will" shown by India in resolving this issue.

conference at the end of his three-day state visit. Rafsanjani said Iran favoured a consensus on the Kashmir issue between India. Pakistan and the people

We are not satisfied and Addressing a crowded press reports PTI.

of the border state.

Velupillai Prabhakaran in a letter to Ms Kumaratunga.

The letter was published in Tamil language newspapers in the rebel-held areas in the north.

Civilians reached by telephone in the northern city of Jaffna quoted Prabhakaran as saying: "We are compelled to take this painful decision since we have no other alternative."

Twelve sailors and four rebels — including two women were killed when explosions believed to be caused by underwater mines ripped apart the vessels at anchor in the northeastern port of Trinco-

The explosions occurred shortly after midnight, at the expiry of a deadline the rebels set for the government to

This photo, provided by Columbia University, is part of the Pulitzer Prize-Winning portfolio of Washington Post photographer Carol Guzy. Published in September 30, 1994, it shows two US soldiers protecting a Haitian man who was suspected of a grenade attack, in Port-au-

Prince. The 1995 Pulitzer Prize announcements were made on Tuesday. - AFP/UNB photo

Tehran offers mediation to resolve Kashmir crisis in Kashmir." Rafsanjani said and added that this Iranian assessment was conveyed to the prime 'minister, PV

Narasimha Rao, during the of-

Asked whether the proposed elections in Jammu and Kashmir would be a satisfactory solution. Rafsanjani said.

"It will be difficult to resolve

In reply to another ques tion, the framian president saw increased American attempts the problem without the satisfaction of the people.

ficial talks.

happy with what is happening to interfere in Kashmir and cautioned India against such ranging questions relating to

Iran-US relations, Russian sale of nuclear reactors to Iran and reconstruction of the Babri

Mosque at Ayodhya. Rafsanjani merely said he had discussed

this with the officials concerned during his visit to Lucknow vesterday. "There is no need for further propa ganda to be made in this regard. The added.

Asked whether Iran wanted

the Salman Rushdie issue.

Rafsanjani answered wide

Two other gunboats were slightly damaged and at least 22 others were injured in the attack at the port, 230 kilometres (160 miles) northeast of the capital, Colombo.

"The military chiefs supported the President on her decision," the spokesman said. The government is expected to issue a statement later. "Four bodies believed to be those of Tigers have been re-.covered from the wreckage. said Cmdr Terrence Sundaram, the navy spokesman. Other military officials said the discovery of the rebel bodies indicated that the rebels may have carried out the at-initial reports indicated the simultaneous explosions came from underwater mines. Rear

Adm. Cecil Tissera, the naval chief of staff, said in an inter-

The vessels which were sank while at anchor, were identified as the 40-metre Chinese made SLNS Sooraya and the SLNS Ranasuru, he

After a fourth round of peace talks with the rebels last week, the government allowed unimpeded fuel supplies into the Jaffna Peninsula for the first time in four years and lifted some restrictions on fishing for Jaffna residents.

But it has rejected guerilla demands to remove a military base that blocks free access to the peninsula, and has accused the rebels of bad faith for refusing to begin substantive talks on a political settlement.

AP bags two Pulitzers

NEW YORK, Apr 19: Much of last year's carnage in Rwanda made its way onto the front pages of newspapers around the world through the eyes of Associated Press reporter Mark Fritz who wrote in vivid detail of a slaughter few could comprehend, reports AP.

On Tuesday. Fritz won a Pulitzer Prize for his reporting, which took him across the central African country.

Four AP photographers -Jacqueline Arzt, Javier Bauluz, Jean-March Bouju and Karsten Thielker, also won journalism's highest award for their coverage of the conflict between the Hutus and minority Tutsis.

"The Pulitzer prizes are the most prestigious US awards for journalism. Each carries a dirs 3,000 award, except for the newspaper that wins in public service, which gets a gold medal. Prizes are administered by Columbia University.

Fritz's Pulitzer was the news service's 19th for writing and first by an AP reporter since 1982, when Saul Pett won for a story about the growth of the federal bureau-

'Quebeckers want independence'

TORONTO, Apr 19: A majo rity in the French speaking province of Quebec wants independence from Canada but only if they can maintain an economic association with Canada, a new poll showed on Tuesday, reports AFP.

But according to the environics poll carried out for the Toronto Star newspaper 55 per cent of Quebeckers are opposed to independence if the links with Canada cannot be maintained.

If economic association with the rest of Canada can be maintained 51 per cent of voters would favour sovereignty, the poll showed.

But there is no guarantee that the economic association would be forthcoming.

China to build wall for victims of Japanese massacre

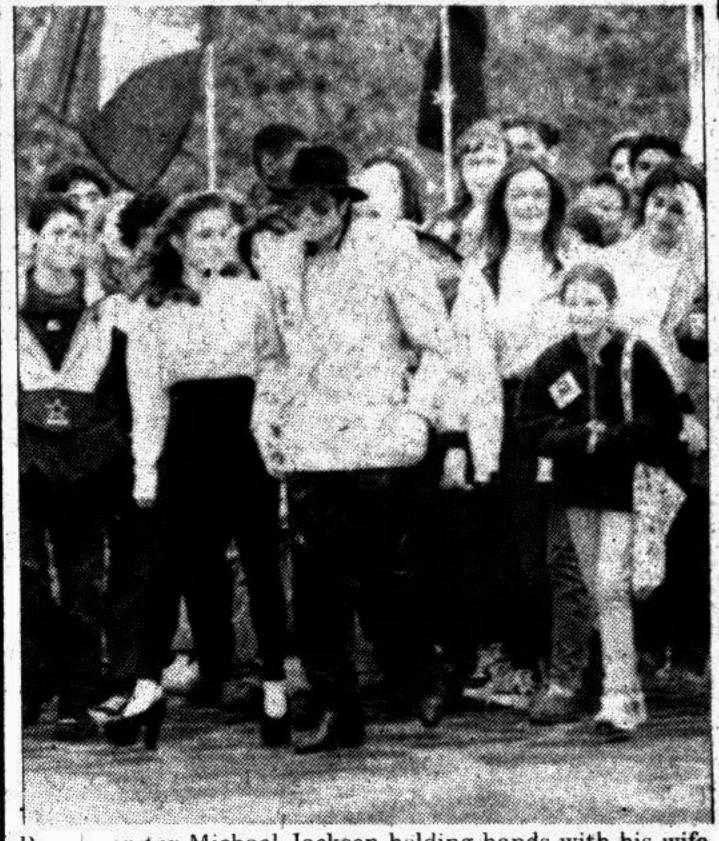

BEIJING, Apr 19; The southern city of Nanking plans to build a wall to list the names of the 300,000 people killed in a massacre by Japanese troops there in December 1937, an official newspaper reported Wednesday, says AP.

Authorities are seeking help from relatives of the dead in compiling a list of names. sexes and the places where people were killed, the China Daily said.

The massacre remains a sore point between Japan and China almost 60 years after it occurred. In recent weeks. Chinese officials have urged Japan to reflect on its actions during the war, when the Imperial Japanese Army invaded an occupied vast parts of the country.

The construction of the wall may be intended to put to rest claims by some Japanese politicians that the massacre never occurred, or that a much smaller number of people died.

Off the Record

Pop superstar Michael Jackson holding hands with his wife Lisa Marie Presley, walks with children at his Neverland Ranch in Los Olivos, California as he welcomes them for a three day World Children's Congress. This is one of the rare occasions that Jackson has allowed the media into his exclusive ranch, 150 miles north of Los Angeles.

— AFP/UNB photo

Sperm tender! TAIPEI: A 29-year-old Taiwanese woman is offering two million Taiwan dollars (76,000 US) for sperm from an intellicants, a report said Wednesday, reports AFP. The applicants who claim to be qualified, and must be ethnic Chinese for starters, sent in offers from Taiwan, the United States, Japan. Hong Kong, Europe and China, the gent man, an offer that has attracted 500, "qualified" appli-

United Daily News said. They included a Taiwanese college president, local psychics and an expert in the Chinese martial art of inner strength from China, the paper said.

The New York sperm bank has also recommended some selected donors, offering to sell sperm for 175 US dollars per cubic centimetre, the paper said

A Taiwanese psyche insists that he and the woman were a couple in a previous life-making himself the ideal candidate for the job. A college president says his sperm is the best, pointing to his children, who are all enrolled in universities,

A local woman says her husband has the best product on offer, and has agreed to share the "good stuff" with the woman provided no sexual contact took place:

The Happiness Social Work centre in the city of Chungli south of Taipei, which helped the woman handle the applications, said she had selected ten applicants, all unmarried, and six with doctorate degrees.

The woman began her search for the sperm of intelligent men last month after telling doctors her husband had been unable to impregnate her due to a low sperm count.

Males to take off crossdress

HONG KONG: Male crossdressers in northern China will have to take off their makeup and brassieres under a new official ban on transvestite shows, a Hong Kong newspaper reported Wednesday, says AP.

Officials in Shenyang Liaoning province, imposed the ban after discovering that crossdressers were performing in nightclubs in the city. Wen Wei, Po, China-controlled daily, "The performers are mostly men aged around 20, often teamed in threes, who wear brassieres and women's fashion to do shows" in some 600 dance halls and eateries in the city, the newspaper said, quoting a Chinese news agency re-

It did not state why the Shenyang city government banned the shows but said the performances are exaggerated and loud, "and the performers also earn more than female models.

Benazir renews offer of talks with India Indian-controlled Kashmir.

ISLAMABAD, Apr 19 : Prime Minister Benazir Bhutto renewed Tuesday an offer of dialogue with India, saying "substantive" talks could take place during the Pakistani president's coming visit to New Delhi for a South Asian summit, reports AFP.

President Faroog Ahamed Leghari is to attend the annual conference of the seven-nation South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC). which is scheduled to begin on May 2.

"Our doors for substantive talks remain open... our President travels to New Delhi next month for the SAARC conference," (Benazir) was quoted as saying by the official Associated Press of Pakistan

However, she reiterated that Pakistan would continue its moral, political' and diplomatic support to the Muslim separatist campaign in the which it calls a legitimate selfdetermination movement. "No one can silence our support for the right of selfdetermination of the Kashmiri people, she said. India accuses Pakistan of giving arms and training to Kashmiri militant groups, an allegation denied by Islamabad which controls the northern third of the disputed Himalavan territory. More than 10,000 people have died since 1989 in violence linked to the secessionist drive in the Indian-controlled southern two thirds of Kashmir. The South Asian neighbours have fought two of their three wars over Kashmir since their independence from Britain in Pakistan insists it will not agree to reviving the process until India cuts the number of its troops in Kashmir,

GCC states

Myanmar junta frees 278 more from work camps

BANGKOK, Apr 19: Myan mar's military government has released another 278 convicts from work camps as part of a plan marking the 50th anniversary of the armed forces. Myanmar's state-run television reported, says Reuter. "Altogether 278 convicts were released from various work camps where they had been contributing labour in nation building tasks and regional development," said the television report, monitored in Bangkok late on Tuesday. "They were released under the order ... issued in honour of the golden jubilee Armed Forces Day."

Abo Musameh said the re-

"Our aim was to douse the fire first in order to prevent he added. "We refuse to even

Abu Musameh said mem

Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat smiles as Tunisian Deputy Foreign Minister Gaid Ben Mustafa (R) talks to him while Tunisian diplomat Mohammad al Munji al-Halafi looks on Tuesday in Gaza City. Ben Mustafa, the first official envoy from Tunis to visit the autonomous Gaza, announced after talks with Arafat that his government would be opening in Gaza City - AFP/UNB photo a representative office which would be run by al-Halafi.

US feels isolated over Iranian N-deals with Russia, China

WASHINGTON. Apr 19: Once again, the United States looks isolated in an uncooperative world as Russia and China rebuff arguments against selling nuclear reactors to Iran: reports AP. Unmoved by US intelligence assessments that Iran is determined to acquire nuclear weapons. Moscow and Beijing responded that their deals with Tehran are legal under the nuclear treaty the Clinton administration wants renewed. A striking aspect of the US campaign against the Iran projects was how public it seemed. Whatever happened to private diplomacy, to secret talks where ranking diplomats worked out differences far from the glare of publicity?

"It's hard for this country to conduct quiet diplomacy given our political process," said Richard Haass, a national security aide in former President Geroge Bush's White House. There is a need at times not only to be doing things, but to be seen as doing things." This time, public US ap peals led to public rejections. The latest came Monday in New York, where US Secretary of State Warren Christopher and Chinese Foreign Minister Qian Qichen held a news con-

"We feel no nation ought to go forward with nuclear cooperation with Iran. It is too danference after a two-hour meet-gerous to do so." Christopher sponse would be.

There is no international law or international regulation or international agreement that prehibits such cooperation in the peaceful use of nuclear energy." the Chinese foreign minister said.

Christopher fared no better when he met in Geneva last month with Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Kozyrev.

"We don't see any problem here." Kozyrev said. after Christopher told a joint news conference that Iran's nuclear ambitions were "among the gravest" problems the United State and Russia must resolve. "Our cooperation with Iran is fully within the purview of said, knowing what Qian's re- the Non-Proliferation Treaty." the Russian said. Both occasions followed a pattern set early in the Clinton administration as it struggled to deal with ethnic warfare in Bosnia and human rights abuses in China.

Declaring that the Serbs know that they have exhausted the patience of the international community." Christopher flew to Europe in May 1993, presumably to get allied support for lifting the arms embargo against the Bosnian Muslim and using air strikes against the Serbs.

His mission was disastrous. a public failure. In capital after capital, the answer was no.

A year ago he went to China and said he would tell the government in Beijing that if its human rights record didn't improve, there was little chance the administration would renew its trade preferences.

The Chinese responded by arresting dissidents, and when the June deadline arrived, President Clinton renewed China's most-favored-nation status and said it was time to separate trade and human rights. Could all this have transpired in less public forums?

"It's not enough for the United States to stand up and shout that these countries Iran, Iraq, North Korea are big threats and we need to embargo them." Haass said.

"What you need is US leadership to try and come up with a policy that others might join, that at the end of the day would be less than we would perhaps want in the degree of economic isolation but is preferable to the status quo. he said.

Leonard Spector, director of the non-proliferation project at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. was less willing to write off prospects for convincing the Russians and Chinese to change their minds.

"I don't think this rebuff is the end of the story," he said.

vow to fight 'extremism' MANAMA, Apr 19: The six

Gulf monarchies on Tuesday vowed to fight "extremism and terrorism" and appealed for increased public vigilance to foil attempts at sedition in the region, reports AFP. Interior ministers from the six states also pledged their "total support to measures taken by Bahrain to ensure security and stability." Bahrain has been shaken by violent anti-government demonstrations and attacks on policemen since last December. Bahrain authorities have tacitly accused Iran of exerting its influence on part of the majority Bahraini Shi'ites.