LONDON. Aug 1: Briton Sally Gunnell already reconciled to being unable to defend her 400 metres hurdles title at the World Championships in Gothenburg, now looks likely to pull out of the 4x400 metres relay as well. reports Reuter.

decision in a day or so, but it compete, a spokesman for the world record holder said on Monday

Gunnell had hoped to run in the relay as consolation for abandoning her defence of the hurdles tittle because of results in two 400 metre races in Germany.

She finished third at a meeting in Lindau and sixth in Rheede.

the times and believes she would not be able to do full justice to herself or the team, the spokesman said. "But at least she has come through without any ill-effects and hopefully will be racing again in late August or early September.

Move to stop streakers

MANCHESTER, England Aug 1: Britain's parliament is being asked to bring in legislation to combat a new breed of cheeky, bare-faced "criminals" — streakers at cricket matches, reports Reuter.

The streakers' score totalled seven during the fourth Test between England and West Indies at Old Trafford which ended on Sunday and John Bower: the chief executive of Lancashire, is getting hot under his collar and tie about it.

He is contacting the House of Commons and says: "I will be asking for a criminal offence to be brought in under legislation. I would be very surprised if it doesn receive all-party support.

Lotus-Kamal cricket semis today

Both the semifinal matches of the Lotus-Kamal metropolis Second Division qualifying cricket league will be held at separate city venues today, reports UNB.

Lancashire CS will take on Indira Road KC at the Dhanmondi Cricket Stadium while Pirerbagh KC will face Udayachal Club at the City Club ground.

Emburey earns promotion

LONDON, Aug 1: John Emburey has been appointed cricket manager for England A's winter tour to Pakistan, putting him first in line to succeed Ray Illingworth in charge of the full England side next year, reports Reuter.

The 42-year-old Middlesex spinner, recalled for the fourth Test against West Indies, intends to become a full-time coach after retirement and has been given the perfect chance to establish his credentials for England's top job.

Volkov ousts Rusedski

LOS ANGELES. Aug Alexander Volkov, the No. seed from Russia, beat hardserving Greg Rusedski 7-5. 6-4 Monday in the first round of the 328,000 dollars Infiniti Open. reports AP.

Volkov lost to Rusedski the three previous times they played. Rusedski, a Canadian who recently became a British citizen, has a serve that's been clocked at 137 miles per hour (221 kilometres per hour).

Napoli saved

NAPLES, Aug 1: Cashstrapped former Italian champions Napoli will be allowed to play in Serie A next season after coming up with a rescue plan, the Italian Soccer Federation decided on Monday, reports Reuter.

The club's shareholders' meeting last Friday approved a plan for a 12.5 billion lire (7.8 million dollars) capital increase to be guaranteed by Napoli's major shareholder Corrado Ferlaino and one of his companies.

Ctg soccer

CHITTAGONG, Aug 1 Pathantuly Boys' Club beat Central Plaza Krira Chakra 2 0 in the inaugural match of the Metropolitan Kishore football league at Dampara Police Lines ground here today, reports BSS.

Striker Arafat Hossain scored both the goals in the first half.

Nineteen teams are participating in the league. organised by the Chittagong Metropolitan Sports Association (CMSA).

Stars with ambitions

Championships on Saturday. beginning her quest for a golden double in the 400 "Sally will make a final metres and 400 metres hurdles 'in the opening is highly unlikely she will rounds of the first event, reports Reuter

By the end of the championships the following Sunday. a global television audience of more than one billion will have shared her trials and tribulations, as well as those injury, but had disappointing of Michael Johnson, Noureddine Morceli, Merlene Ottev. Linford Christie and Sergei Bubka.

Although this competition will be missing the Chinese She was disappointed with distance women who enthralled the world in Stuttgart two years ago, fans have bought virtually every ticket available for the finals.

Between 190 and 200 countries have entered. ranging from single competitor teams from Monserrat, Botswana, Kuwait and Norfolk Island, to the 144-strong American team, the largest of the world this year over both Tokyo. distances. Johnson has not been beaten in the 400 for five years, and seems almost unbeatable over the half-lap race as well.

And while Perec could emerge as the outstanding female star. American Pedroso leaped 8.96 metres Michael Johnson should enhance his reputation as a unique talent with golds in to the record American Mike both the 200 and 400.

Britain's Linford Christie. now 35, is also going for a sprint double in the 100 and 200. Despite a traumatic summer on and off the track. in which he has announced his retirement and suffered the death of his mother. Christie starts as the favourite to retain his 100 title and take a medal in the

If this is his last major championship, he is likely to go out of the 100, his specialist event, at the very pinna-

Donovan Bailey of Canada (9.91) and Olapade Adeniken of Nigeria (9.92), the two fastest men in the world this year, are sure to challenge Christie, but may have to be content with the silver and bronze medals.

One man who has no intention of quitting in the forseeable future is Algeria's middle-distance king. Noureddine Morceli.

With world records already this year in the 1.500 and 2,000. Morceli is virtually certain to retain the 1,500 title he won in Stuttgart two years ago.

The men's field events are likely to produce some riveting competitions following recent world records in both the long jump and triple The long jump mark fell on Saturday when Cuban Ivan at high altitude in Sestriere. Italy, adding one centimetre Powell set four years ago in Already the fastest man in the World Championships in Cubans now hold the world long jump and high jump records while Britain's Jonathan Edwards has triple jumped further than anyone in history.

There may not be quite the same interest in women's field events, but the women's track events will produce some absorbing face-offs. Jamaica's defending 200 champion Ottey will be hardpressed to retain her title against her old American rival Gwen Torrence, the fastest woman over the distance in the world this year. and Russian Irina Privalova, the European double sprint champion.

Since the demise of the communist bloc at the end of the 1980s, eastern Europe's stranglehold on the women's middle distances has been broken.

Mozambique's Maria Mutola, unbeaten for three years over 800, is a likely winner in that event although Cuban Ana Quirot will have other ideas, while Ireland's Sonia O'Sullivan and Kelly Holmes of Britain could well battle each other for the 1,500 gold.

Another intriguing event will be the heptathlon, in which American Jackie Joyner Kersee, champion in 1987 and 1993, and her old long jump rival Heike Drechsler of Germany come face to face over seven events in two days.

Drechsler was the youngest woman ever to win a World Championship gold when she took the long jump at the inaugural 1983 worlds at the age of 18.

One other gold medalist from those far-off days is still competing and looking for his fifth successive world ti-

Pole vaulter Bubka has won his event at all four previous championships and it will probably be the incomparable Ukrainian who will again help these championships reach the greatest

Modahl censures IAAF

LONDON: Aug 1: British athlete Diane Modahl reacted angrily on Monday to a decision by the International Amateur Athletic Federation (IAAF) to reopen the case into the four year doping ban quashed last week by an appeal panel, report agencies.

She urged the IAAF to think again about referring her case to arbitration and also called for a "summit" meeting of top scientists to discuss the ramifications of her case.

Earlier on Monday the International Amateur Athletic Federation decided to dures. send the case of British runner Diane Modahl to arbitration.

Modahi had been suspended by the IAAF for four years last December for failing a drugs test, but the 800metre runner won an appeal to an independent commission appointed by the British Athletics Federation last

Chairman of the IAAF doping commission Arne Ljungovist said the lAAF's own arbitration panel should hear the case within three months, but he hoped it may it needs further evaluation. The preliminary evaluation is not very impressive. we need a fuller study," he

The IAAF had already said it would test Modahl's samples an unprecedented third time, and that the tests would be open to her and anyone else she wants to witness them.

The arbitration panel will also review arguments delivered in the reports.

Modahl. 29, was banned after tests taken at a meeting in Lisbon in July last year showed she had 42 times the legal amount of testosterone.

She protested that the urine samples had been contaminated in Lisbon and that the testing procedures were flawed. The IAAF has always backed its testing proce-

The results were not sent to the BAF until 9 1/2 weeks after the samples were taken when Modahl was about to defend her Commonwealth Games 800 metres title in August last year. She was withdrawn from the race and sent home from the Games in Victoria. Canada:

When the three-person appeals committee found Modahl not guilty, the IAAF questioned the validity of the new evidence, saving it was based on "remote possibilities". It said it was "baffled" why the evidence wasn't presented to the BAF when it made its original decision to ban Modahl.

"It should be made clear that the final decision regarding the eligibility of any athlete lies with the IAAF," it said in a statement following last week's decision.

But the British Athletic Federation (BAF) panel lifted the ban saying it could not be sure beyond reasonable doubt of her guilt because the positive test could have come out because the samples were left unrefrigerated for several

- Modahl said : "We know that bad storage can lead to urine samples becoming heavily infected and generally contaminated.

happens in heavily contamination. Samples can actually create the very banned substance for which the scientists are testing. That is what happened in my case and an adversarial setting such as before an arbitration panel. but in an atmosphere of sci-

"I call upon the IAAF to Tony Ward, spokesman for the BAF, said: "The IAAF elearly feel the panel have been misdirected or reached an erroneous conclusion.

happened. We feel there was reasonable room for doubt in the case, based on the evidence put forward.

Maradona pissed off!

BUENOS AIRES, Aug 1: Argentinian footballing tragedy Diego Maradona said here today that he would never again set foot in the United States, and therefore his daughters would miss meeting Mickey Mouse on a trip to Disney World, after he was only given an eight-day visa instead of the long-term visas his Boca Junior teammates received, reports AFP.

The world's most fascinat ing and controversial footballing figure said: "They refused to grant me a proper visa because I admire and like Fidel Castro and I believe that Che Guevara is the greatest person of all time."

Maradona has not enjoyed good relations with the American authorities since being testing positive in a dope test at last year's World Cup for which he is still serving a suspension and would not have been able to play in the friendly tournament in New York.

The former Napoli player said he was subjected to "A humiliating and discriminatory questionnaire," at the American consulate in Buenos Aires.

The two-time World Cup finalist, who is still idolised in Argentina, said: "They asked me the most extraor dinary questions. Such as did I still take or sell drugs. I don't think the Americans for example are that pure and clean."

SAF Games chief visits venues

MADRAS, Aug 1: B Sivanth Adityan, president of the South Asian Sports Federation, has expressed satisfaction over the speed at which the construction work is going on at the six venues of the seventh South Asian Federation Games (SAF) to be held here from December 18 to 27, reports PTI.

Adityan, who is also president of the Indian Olympic Association, visited the venues along with R K Sharma. director, and Mohan Pyare, member secretary of the Sports Development Authority of Tamil Nadu last Thursday and Saturday. He told PTI that "all the venues would be ready before the end of October."

He said the presidents and secretaries of all the SAARC nations - Bhutan. Nepal, Pakistan, Bangladesh. Sri Lanka, the Maldives besides India - would be meeting in Madras on Aug 5 to decide on the inclusion of judo or squash as an additional discipline.

Calcutta MSC march on

CALCUTTA. Aug 1: Mohammedan Sporting maintained their winning run with a convincing 2-0 victory over Tollygunge Aggragami in their Charms Super Division League match at their home ground here yesterday, re-Mohammedan Sporting. who had stunned title aspirants East Bengal 1-0 in their last match, shot into the lead through a brilliant effort by striker Pratap Senapati before winger Abdul Khalique settled the issue four minutes before the interval.

A traditional Indonasian dance being performed by a young girl during the opening ceremonies of the 38th Archery World Championships in Jakarta yesterday. - AFP/UNB photo

Rangers raring to go

1: Glasgow Rangers have long prided themselves on being one of the giants of European soccer, reports Reuter. Almost everything about the club entitles them to think so. Seven successive Scottish titles, their 51,000 capacity all-seater stadium, 18 international players from various countries on their playing staff. The club has an annual income of more than 20 million pounds sterling (32 million dollars), boasts fans in every corner of the globe. runs a TV station on match days and sells everything in their club shop from their Rangers brand of whisky, gin trophy, they will never exorcise the ghosts of Celtic's "Lisbon lions", nor will anyone outside the blue half of Glasgow put them on a par with the likes of Real Madrid, Barcelona and AC Milan.

Chairman David Murray, a multi-millionaire in the steel and metals industry who rebuilt his own life after losing both legs in a car crash in his twenties, has provided the funds for the re-building of Ibrox Stadium into one of the finest in Britain.

But he is well aware of the no-man's land Rangers currently inhabit. They are too big for Scotland, not eligible to take part in the Premier League in England end have still to prove themselves in Europe.

"We know that with the

An AFP file photo of world Formula One Grand Prix champion Michael Schumacher of Germany and his finance Corinna Betsch who were scheduled to get married yesterday. However the couple cancelled the wedding in fear of a media-circus' when the news of the event was leaked in advance to the press. possible exception of Manand vodka to Rangers tartan. aftershave and ladies under-

But there are no videos on sale of Rangers winning the European Champions' Cup, or any replicas of the European Champions trophy on offer. Gallingly, across the city these are available in the club ship of arch-rivals Celtic, who won the European Cup in 1967 when they beat Internazionale 2-1 in Lisbon. It is an achievement Celtic fans have taunted their great rivals with for nearly 30 overs...

The European Cup is the one major prize to have eluded the men in blue and until they have lifted that chester United, we are the biggest club in Britain," Murray said. "We will soon have nearly 40.000 season ticket holders and the funds we generate are vast. "There are few clubs in the world as big as Rangers. Our aim is to prove that to everyone in the only way we can - by winning the European Cup." Demand for tickets is so great that fans are now paying a one-off contribution of 399 pounds sterling (637 'dollars) merely for the right to purchase their season tickets for each of the next 25 years.

More than 12,000 fans have already pledged their cash and Murray says that if demand continues to grow, he will not hesitate to increase the stadium's capacity to 60,000.

The passion and loyalty of the Ibrox fans is legendary and for more than a century their "auld firm" rivalry with Celtic has fuelled their devotion and split the city in half.

The Protestants with their Union Jack British flags support Rangers, the Catholics with their Irish flags follows Celtic.

For the best part of those 100 years that rivalry was largely internecine, but all that changed in the late 1980s when former manager Graeme Souness started signing English and overseas players.

His successor Walter Smith has continued that policy, brinnging in players of the calibre of Brian Laudrup from Denmark, Basile Boli from France and Paul Gascoigne from England via Italy.

The biggest signing of course was Gascoigne, who cost 4.3 million pounds 16.87 million dollars) from Lazio and whose own peroxide blond, cropped bairstyle has spawned hundreds of imitators and given Glasgow's barbers a healthy boost to their earnings.

Because of the serious injuries he has suffered over the last four years, the signing of Gascoigne is a major gamble.

But Gascoigne, one of five close-season signings who have cost the club 11.3 million pounds (18.05 million dollars), could be the key to unlocking the European trea-

These are bouyant, optimistic times at Ibrox, but the club has been in this position for the last two seasons. Big summer signings have brought the promise of great achievement, only for Rangers to fail in their European quests. Murray, a staunch advocate of a European league, knows that for the club continue to grow at their present rate on and off the field, it is imperative they reach the lucrative Champions' League. All they have to do to achieve that is to beat the Cypriot champions part-timers Anorthosis Famagusta, in a preliminary round tie next month. Last weekend saw Rangers lift their first trophy of the season when they beat Romanian champions Steaua Bucharest 4-0 and Italians international tournament. Steaua are in the Champions' League and could well face Rangers later in the season. So at least they proved they have what it takes to beat the best in Perhaps they have always had that — the real achievement will be to do so when it really matters.

Sampdoria 2-0 in the Ibrox

An ever piercing Pierce

CARLSBAD, California. Aug 1 (AFP): A secondround Wimbledon exit and a

Fed Cup defeat may not seem the perfect preparation for an assault on the US Open title, Mary Pierce's confidence remains undimmed.

Pierce, the world number three, said that even though she has not cashed in on the momentum from her Australian Open triumph in January by winning any more tournament titles, she is physically and mentally at home among the game's best players.

"It has been eight months that I've been ranked among the top players, and I think

Leading ATP money-winners MONACO, Aug 1 (Reuter):

Leading prize money-winners issued by the ATP Tour on Monday: Thomas muster (Austria) 1.735.229 dollars

4. Yevgeny Kafelnikov (Russia) 1,045,54

5, Boris Becker (Germany) 7. Michael Chang (US) 8. Wayne Ferreira (South Africa)

(Australia)

(Australia)

19. Jim Courter (US)

20. Mark Woodforde

Andre Agassi (US)

3. Pete Sampras (US)

9. Richard Krajicek 660,002 Toronto, They will be very (Netherlands) 10. Paul Haarhuis Netherlandsi 657.462 11. Magnus Larsson (Sweden) 652,560

12. Jacco Eltingh (Netherlands) 605,391 13. Michael Stich (Germany) 588,767 14. Sergi Bruguera (Spain) 580,469 15. Andrei Medvedev (Ukraine) 533,912 16. Stefan Edberg (Sweden) - 523,149 17. Jonas Bjorkman (Sweden) 516,062 18. Todd Woodbridge

452,331 445.822 445.421

1,588,241

1,516,116

756,300

689,086

I've shown I can consistently play with them," she said. At Wimbledon, she fell in the second round to French Fed Cup teammate Nathalie Tauziat, but she said the three-set effort, in her first appearance at the All-England Club, was a pleasant So was France's down-to-the-wire defeat by the United States in the semifinals of the Fed Cup. Playing the Americans in North Carolina, the French split the four singles matches. to take the tie to the deciding doubles. "That's totally the opposite to a blow in confidence," she said of the loss. "It's such a great experience. It's very rare that we can play as a team, play for each other. I felt we played really well.

"The whole team was disappointed because we came. so close, and when you come close it's even harder. But we all tried really hard, and there was a great team Now she has focused on the last Grand Slam of 1995.

the US Open, and her appearance here at the 430,000 - dollar WTA tour event at the la Costa resort is part of that preparation. "My goal is to peak at the US Open," she said. "I'm training hard physically. I'm going to play here and at important tournaments for me to prepare and be match

Pierce admitted to some thing of a let-down after the Australian Open, where she beat Arantxa Sanchez-Vicario in straight sets in the final.

After Australia, a lot of stuff happened really fast and was trying to churn really hard and do a lot of things off court. I think that's why I got sick," said Pierce, who battled a groin strain and a kidney infection earlier this

Now, she says, she is well and injury-free, Stre was also clearly happy and relaxed as she prepared to play a tournament she last entered two years ago when her highly-publicised conflict with her father was at its peak and she sought a court order keeping him away from her matches. A lot has happened in the last two years in my life," said Pierce, 20. Tve been working with Nick (Bollitieri) and Sven (Groeneveld) and I feel

there has been a tremendous improvement in my game.

Connors beats Borg

DEARBORN. Michigan. Aug 1: Jimmy Connors rallied to beat Bjorn Borg 0-6, 6-4, 6-4 on Monday in the final of the Mentadent Champions tournament, reports AP.

Connors, who earned 40,000 dollars in the 150,000 dollars tournament, has won 13 of 15 events on the 35-and-over tour since it began in 1993 and has beaten Borg eight straight times.

Evans finishes fourth PASADENA, California.

Aug 1: World record-holder Janet Evans settled for fourth place in the women's 800m freestyle at the US National Swimming Championships here on Monday, reports AFP. Up-and-coming 15-yearold Brooke Bennett won the event in 8 mins 31.84 secs well outside Evans' world mark of 8:16.22. "It felt really good, I'm pleased with my race," Bennett said. "I came here to swim the best I could."

Nebiolo not amused

GOTHENBURG Aug 1: Athletics chief Primo Nebiolo has threatened not to attend the forhasting World Championships because of negative Swedish media reports about him, the organisers said on Monday, reports Reuter.

in the run-up to the championships, starting in Gothenburg on Saturday, a

Swedish television journalist asked Nebiolo, the Italian president of the International Amateur Athletic Federation (IAAF), about a trial in Italy at which he was acquitted of charges of abuse of office. He was furious about the incident and hinted he would leave Sweden after the IAAF congress which precedes the championships. "Prime Nebiole does not teel welcome here, he told me yesterday he wants to go home directly after the IAAF congress. I hope and believe he will reconsider." ·Ulf Ekelund, the general secretary of the Swedish organising committee, told a news conference on Monday.

Ekelund said the Swedish media could ruin the championship if it did not show restraint in its coverage of Nebiolo, president of the IAAF since 1981.

This hurts Sweden as well as Gothenburg, it is an attack not only on Nebiolo. but on the IAAF and the championship." said Ekelund, who was immediately accused by journalists of trying to hinder their free dom of speech. Britt-Marie Mattsson, a talk - show host interviewing Nebiolo on Sunday for a Swedish programme due to be broadcast today, said he showed her the door only eight minutes into an agreed one-hour interview.

Mattsson said a shouting match followed in the hotel corridors as Nebiolo's aides accused the television crew of asking the wrong kind of Ekelund said the incident was the last straw for Nebiolo, who is often praised for giving athletics a higher profile and negotiating lucrative television and sponsorship contracts, but who is sometimes accused of running the sport as a one-man

Ndeti skips Gothenburg meet

NAIROBI. Aug 1: Three time Boston Marathon winner Cosmas Ndeti has withdrawn from Kenya's team for the Gothenburg World Championships due to injury. officials said today, reports Ndeti had been tipped as a hot contender for the gold Chief coach Danson Muchoki also announced the withdrawal of another marathon man. Eric Kimiyo. again citing injury.

days. We also know that what must never happen again. "We will only know more about the extent of the risk if all these high powered scientists get together, not in entific collaboration. reconsider their decision and call for this collaborative ef-

"We do not believe either ports PTI.