The UNICEF regional office for South Asia will hold a regional photographic competition for professional photographers who are nationals of South Asian countries, says a press release.

The theme for the competition is "The South Asian Girl Child - Hardships and Joys".

Bangladeshi photographer Shahidul Alam will be one of the judges of this competition.

The best works will be chosen by a panel and will be presented in an exhibition to commemorate SAARC's 10th anniversary.

The exhibition will be circulated in South Asian countries from December this year.

The winning photographer will be contracted for a 7-10 day assignment to work on a subject chosen by him/her and UNICEF, in one or several South Asian countries. For the assignment, the winner will receive 200 dollar per diem and the travel cost and materials will be covered by UNICEF.

The rules of the competition, along with a detailed description of the theme, are available at DRK Picture Library, House 58, Road 15A (New), Dhanmondi.
