All set to install V-SAT

Bangladesh Telegraph and Telephone Board (BTTB) has completed all formalities to install a Very-Small Aperture Terminal (V-SAT) system. reports UNB.

The system — a small ground satellite station, can be installed at the exporters' end for transmission of data at a very high speed and without any error, saving both time and money for the subscribers.

According to the business circle. Bangladesh has a potential in data precessing and software export, but absence of facilities for high-speed data transmission forced the country to keep a low-profile in world market.

The normal transmission system, now being used by some of the exporters, are not reliable, because of the high rate of errors in transmission.

বায়নার টাকা

Bangladesh earns some foreign exchange by exporting both software and processed data but the Export Promotion Bureau (EPB) under the Commerce Ministry does not have the annual export figure. When contacted, an official at the EPB said earning from the export of software and processed data from amount. Software developers and exporters here, however, put the export earning from the industry at some 30,000-40,000 US dollar a year while firms like Anirban, IBCS Primex, BITGL and BRAC are expecting better earning this

Bangladesh is of "very small"

A BTTB senior official said the Board is planning to install at least 10 V-SAT system by the end of this year.
