

Road link in rural Sirajganj still not restored in some places

From Our Correspondent

SIRAJGANJ, Nov 5: Inter-thana and inter-union road communication network could not be restored completely as yet causing problems to the smooth movement of merchandised goods in Sirajganj district.

It is learnt that the floods recently damaged 798 kilometers road and 74 kilometers of roads which were partially affected in 1802 villages of all the 79 unions under nine thanas including the municipal area. A total of 47 kilometers embankment and 246 bridges and culverts including 50 were totally damaged by the floods.

The Roads and Highways Division (R&HD) of Sirajganj has however, taken up Tk six crore project to repair and reconstruct the pucca roads, bridges and culverts. The works are on progress.

Meanwhile, direct bus communication network was restored in Sirajganj-Kamarkhanda-Belkuchi-Betkandi route by constructing two bailey bridges one at Mirpur and the another at Banbaria in Sadar thana.

Worst situation prevails in repairing and reconstructing the kuccha roads of inter-thana and inter-village communication as works of Test Relief (TR) are yet to be started. The Ministry of Disaster Management and Relief has sanctioned wheat for Test Relief projects in the district. But works could not be started as vast tracts of land are lying still under stagnant flood water and soil or earth work is not available. When visited some areas in Raiganj and Tarash thana areas, it was observed that wa-terlogging still persists in the fields. Local people informed this correspondent that it will take at least another three weeks to naturally dry up the lands.

When contacted, a source of the district administration told The Daily Star that works on Test Relief projects and other road repairing schemes will be started soon and soil required for earth work for repairing and reconstructing of rural roads will be available by November 15.

Afforestation plan in CHT threatened

From CHT Correspondent

BANDARBUN, Nov 5: About 1.54,00,000 seedlings of different valuable species planted on an area of 12,705 acres in the three forest divisions of the district have become moribund being covered by weeds and stagnated the growth, concerned sources said.

The acute constraint of funds which created an impasse in removing weeds and nurturing the planted seedlings has become a serious threat to the government's on-going afforestation programme, a high official of the Forest Department told The Daily Star last Thursday.

The dilly-dallying attitude of the government in allocating fund towards carrying out the maintenance activities of the afforestation programme is not only damaging the programme but also jeopardising the process of upgrading the ecological balance as well as the fund amounted to crores and crores of taka already spent in raising plantation, a high official of the concerned forest circle office said requesting not to be quoted.

Removing of weeds from the plants raised is a pre-condition of post-plantation activities in the Forest Department. Weeds should be removed from the raised plantation four times a year, according to afforestation prescription, the official said.

The inadequate fund normally placed accompanied with the relevant adverse and technical problems, the Forest Department carries out weed removing task three a year during the period of May-June, July-August and December-January. But during the current fiscal no fund as yet been placed to carry out the extremely essential weed removing activities which is a must in one hand for proper and healthy growth of the planted seedlings and on the other hand, to protect those from ruination, the official stated.

The planted tender seedlings covered with unexpected deadly weeds expect immediate removal of those planted in 1992-1993, 1993-94 and 1994-95 at Bandarban Forest Division on an area of 2,400, 1250 and 425 acres respectively under Chittagong Hill Tracts Unclassified State Forest Land Afforestation Scheme while the same division has raised another plantation of 900 acres besides the security camps in 1992-93 and 1993-94, the official ascertained.

The plantation raised by the Bandarban Pulpwood Plantation Division on an area of 4,500 acres from the fiscal 1992-93 to 1994-95 under the same schemes has also become moribund and awaiting early removal of weeds for survival, the official elaborated.

Simultaneously, the Lama Forest Division has raised a plantation on an area of 3,430 acres during the same period under the aforesaid programme, which has also been facing problems, the official added.

The concerned circle stressed upon the need to allocate fund immediately for the sake of protecting plantation.
