Seminar on senior citizens

The total number of elderly people in Bangladesh will be 10 million by the year 2000 and 24 million in 2025, according to a paper presented in a seminar here Wednesday, reports BSS.

The seminar on 'Situation of the elderly people in Bangladesh: What do we know?' was organised by the Bangladesh Rural Advancement Committee (BRAC) and chaired by Dr Ahmed Mush-taque Reza Chowdhury.

The participants observed that the senior citizens are a neglected group in the country where no specific state policy exists for them.

According to a figure, there are approximately six million elderly, aged 60 and above, in the country while only a small paragraph of the fourth five-year plan tells about the state responsibilities for them.
