OTTAWA, Feb 3: The

Canadian Senate on Friday

passed a controversial constitutional reform bill, giving

Quebec and some other provinces a veto over future

US President Bill Clinton greets supporters on South Main Street in Concord, New Hampshire on Friday. Clinton visited with elementry school children earlier Friday. - AFP/UNB photo

US denies link with KSA's military aid to Bosnia

State Department said Friday aggression. that it had not backed Saudi Arabia's military assistance to Bosnia, in defiance of an arms embargo, but declined to say if Washington knew of the aid, reports AFP.

The Washington Post had reported that Saudi Arabia channelled 300 million dollars worth of arms to the Bosnian Muslims over three years in a secret programme that enjoyed tacit US cooperation.

Any arms deliveries to any of the factions in the former Yugoslavia would be in direct violation of a UN embargo.

State Department spokesman Glyn Davies denied "the allegations that the US government was in any way involved with the reported Saudi programme to arm the Bosnian govern-

"We did not cooperate, coordinate or consult with any government regarding the provision of arms to the Bosnians," he said, adding that Washington had long from Washington.

minister.

from Mores Lake, Washington.

gan firing, police said.

reports from Los Angeles.

newspaper China Daily said.

reports from Johannesburg, South Africa.

from Beijing.

Johannesburg.

WASHINGTON, Feb 3: The considered them "victims of

But he declined to say if Washington knew that Saudi Arabia had armed the Bosnian Muslims.

The UN arms embargo was declared on all sides of the fighting in the former Yugoslavia, but was widely considered to have hampered the Muslim-led government of landlocked Bosnian-herzegovina the most.

US ships have participated in a NATO blockade of the Adriatic, and if the US government had known of the violation it would have been required to report it.

"It was always our policy to abide by the arms embargo."

A Saudi official quoted by the Washington Post said that this Bosnian arms programme was similar to a programme set up to back Muslim rebels battling Soviet troops in Afghanistan during the 1980s. This operation was not officially supported by the United States.

US to send aid for DPRK: overriding

South Korean reservations, the United states announced on Friday it was contributing 2 million dollar to help alleviate famine in communist North Korea, Reuter reports International Development would grant the money to the United Nations World Food Programme (WFP) to buy food

for North Korea, where floods last year devastated farm-

Farrakhan meets Nigerian FM:

US black Muslim leader Louis Farrakhan met Nigerian

Foreign Affairs Minister Chief Tom Ikimion Friday and told him his six day visit to Nigeria was meant to "see the tice to the people of Nigeria and the world," the controversial leader of the Nation of Islam Movement told the

Schoolboy kills teacher, 2 in USA:

A 14-year-old boy with a high-powered rifle killed a teacher and two students and seriously injured another student in their classroom Friday, police said, AP reports

Frontier Junier High School, went to a classroom and be-

Dancer Gene Kelly dies: Gene Kelly.

who splashed through puddles with athletic exuberance in "Singin in the Rain" and kicked up his heels in "On the Town" and "Anchors Aweigh," died Friday. He was 83, AP fluential even Madonna and Michael Jackson consulted him. Kelly died at home of complications from strokes suffered over the last two years, publicist Warren Cowan said.

Ice causes flood in Yellow River:

Thousands of people have been evacuated from upper stretches of the Yellow River because of fears of flooding caused by ice, an official report said Saturday, AP reports threatens to cause flooding along unfrozen sections of the river upstream from north-central Shaanxi province, the 7 miners killed in South Africa:

Seven miners were killed in a rockfall Friday at a gold mine near Honannesburg, the mine's owners said, AFP

Consolidated Investments, said five bodies had been brought to the surface and two other bodies discovered underground were being retrieved from the Randfontein estates mine, located 80 kilometres (50 miles) west of

Marc Gonsalves, a spokesman for Johannesburg

Bildt said here Friday.

transfer of authority.

standing.

Bildt, the civilian authority of the Dayton agreement.

said he would "use the next six weeks to prepare the

that we need this time in order to overcome the fears and to create new underisting local authorities and police structures remain.

provided that they do not act inconsistently with the constitution and laws of Bosnia-

"I believe all parties agree

In the meantime, the ex-

Local army units have been sent to smash the ice which

A former ditch digger whose choreography grew so in-

The student was arrested shortly after he entered

"We have come to see the truth so that we can do jus-truth" about the country. AFP reports from Abuja.

The State Department said the US Agency for Pakistan worried at plan to deploy Prithvi into army

ISLAMABAD, Feb 3 : Pakistan has voiced concern over reports that India plans to deploy surface-to-surface missiles in its army, saying such a move would threaten peace and escalate the arms race in the region, reports AFP.

A foreign office spokesman said here late Friday that Pakistan "has drawn the world community's attention to these reports.

The deployment of the Prithvi missile system "will be a threat to peace and security in the region and escalate an armament race.

the spokesman said. The Times of India on Friday quoted top Indian de-fence officials as saying that the Prithvi missile, which can carry a one-tonne conventional or nuclear warhead. would be inducted into the Indian army. Between 15 and 30 missiles have already been prepared for induction while a fresh programme to test a longer-range variant for the air sorce has been put into motion, the newspaper said.

Leader of disputed Nogorno-Karabakh region declares independence

UNITED NATONS, Feb 3 The leader of a disputed territory between Armenia and Azerbaijan said Friday that his region is an independent nation with the right to choose its own destiny and elect its own leaders, reports AP.

"Our independence is a reality. It exists. Our people determine who they shall deal with and who they shall not," said Robert Kocharian. who considers himself president of Nagorno-Karabakh.

Nagorno-Karabakh is inside Azerbaijan but populated mainly by ethnic Armenians. Armenia supports its war for independence.

Nagorno-Karabakh's forces have driven Azerbaijani government troops out of the enclave and also seized territory in Azerbaijan proper. More than 15,000 people have died in the course of the fighting and about 1 million have become refugees.

Chun confesses to payouts of $ 126m since 1990

SEOUL, Feb 3: Prosecutors on Saturday said former President Chun Doo-hwan has confessed to payouts of dirs 126 million since 1990 in an attempt to engineer a political comeback, reports

The money was distributed among hundreds of politicians and journalists, Chun told prosecutors.

Prosecutors said they were still trying to confirm Chun's confession independently and added that they had no immediate plan to call in alleged recipients of the money for questioning.

He had distributed the cash in an attempt to boost chances of his supporters running in parliamentary elections this April, prosecutors said

Pakistan hands over Riyadh blast suspect to KSA

RIYADH, Feb 3: Authorities Saturday confirmed they had taken custody of a Saudi Arabian man deported from Pakistan in connection with a deadly car-bombing in Riyadh last year that killed five Americans and two Indians. reports AP.

Hassan Alsarat, a Saudi citizen living in Pakistan since 1990, faces an almost certain sentence of beheading by sword if convicted of involvement in the bombing.

It is unclear what role Alsarai is suspected of playing in the bombing. He was arrested earlier in the week by Pakistani federal agents acting on leads provided by Saudi security, a Pakistani Interior Ministry spokesman said Thursday in Islamabad.

The state-run Saudi Press Agency quoted an unnamed Interior Ministry source, its term for a spokesman, as saying the suspect has been handed over to Saudi authorities.

Preparation for Euro-Asian summit

Asian nations to focus on economic, security issues

PHUKET, Thailand, Feb 3: Foreign Ministers from 10 Asian countries wrapped up a meeting here today to prepare for an unprecedented summit next month which will bring 25 Asian and European leaders to Bangkok, reports AFP.

The ministers said the meeting had been useful in setting Asia's agenda for the March 1-2 summit, and that participants had decided on a broad range of economic, po-litical and security issues for discussion.

However, they were quick to downplay the significance of the meeting, saying only general areas had been identified for discussion and the real decisions would be made by the leaders them-

Major issues dividing the European and Asian countries have been the backdrop to the meeting here, and the ministers cautioned against expecting results too soon and having both sides agree on everything.

"We are building a new partnership between Asia and Europe and we don't expect it to be done overnight," said Singapore's minister, S Jayakumar. "It has to be worked European countries have expressed the desire to raise issues such as human rights at the Bangkok summit. while the Asian side would like to focus primarily on strengthening economic ties. But the Asians have shown a grudging willingness to ac-cept as inevitable talks on sensitive issues such as human rights, although the definition of legitimate areas for discussion remains to be successful ... both sides should realise they should not bring in controversial and non-relevant issues," Indonesian Foreign Minister Ali Alatas said.

Asked if Indonesia would be prepared to discuss the Indonesian occupied territory of east Timor. Alatas said he considered the issue to be "Non-relevant" to the sum-constitutional changes, reports AFP. The bill has already been cleared by the House of "For this dialogue to be Commons and will become law automatically with the signature of Governor-General Romeo Leblanc in tile next few days. This is just a formality.

Portugal has indicated it would like to bring up the issue of its former territory, where international groups say widespread violations of human rights have taken place since an Indonesian invasion in 1975.

> The bill is designed to placate Quebec separatists who have long demanded, among other things, the right for the predominantly french-speaking province to veto proposed change to the constitution.

But it has been scorned by the Quebec Premier Luciaen

Bouchard as meaningless. The bill gives each of five regions" a veto over future constitutional change. The constitutional reform bill regions are defined as Quebec. Ontario. British Columbia, the three Prairie provinces and the four Atlantic provincés. Efforts by the Progressive Conservative Party, which holds 50 of the 104 seats in the Senate, to delay implementation were defeated on Friday and the bill was eventually adopted by 48 votes to

Prime Minister Jean Chretien, who has been chairing a two-day strategy meeting of his cabinet, announced after the Senate vote that he had asked the governor-general to prorogue Parliament.

That means all uncompleted business is dropped and a new parliamentary session will begin in the final week of February with a speech from the throne in which the governor-general reads out the government's new legislative plans.

After attempted military coup Guinea president holed up in bunker with ministers

Canadian Senate passes

President Lansanz Come was told up early Saturday in a our ker with several of his ministers as his presidential paince blazed after being shelled in an attempted military coup, an informed source told AFP.

As firemen strove to extinguish the fire in the cupola of the presidency, a crowd of young people led by the governor of Conakry Ousmane Camara staged a demonstration in support of Conte, the country's first elected head of state. There had been no attempt by the estimated 2.000 rebel troops to storm the presidential palace and a reliable sources said loyalist reinforcements were on their way to Conakry to bolster the regime. The national radio went off the air at 2230 GMT by which time most of the city's inhabitants had returned to their homes in the suburbs.

BUENOS AIRES: A Roman

Catholic bishop has offered to saying only those without sin

bless pop star Madonna

By midnight the streets of the capital were virtually deserted but Unreis of automade gundre were audible from cultiving across.

Earlier in AFP reporter saw several artillery rounds fired at the presidential palace. Conte was inside when the attack occurred but his condition was not immediately known.

The city was rattled by gunfire much of Friday, and sources close to the city hospital said at least 20 people died and more than 70 were wounded.

Conte said in a radio address that eight civilians were killed by a tank shell fired in the centre of the city as part of what he called an attempted military coup. He urged the mutinous troops on the streets to "return to their barracks," but most failed to move and shortly afterwards gunners opened up on the presidential palace setting it ablaze.

Govt devolution plan suffers setback due to Colombo blast

Italian President Luigi Oscar Scalfaro (L) shakes hands with Bosnian President Alija

Izetbegovic at the presidency in Sarajevo on Friday. Scalfaro is on a one-day visit to

Sarajevo to see Italian troops serving in the NATO peace implementation force (IFOR) in COLOMBO, Feb 3: A suicide bomb attack in Colombo's financial district has brought the horror of war home to Sri Lanka's affluent middle class and seriously set back the government's peace plans, analysts said here, reports Reuter. Suspected Tamil Tiger rebels rammed a truck laden with explosives into the central bank on Wednesday, killing up to 80 people and wounding more than 1.200. Wrecked nearby buildings included financial companies. insurance offices, tour operators and brokerages.

This has suddenly made the war real for a whole different class of people." a Western diplomat said.

"Suddenly, the people they play golf with are dead. Psychologically, this is horrific for the government."

"Absolutely everyone is wondering now what could be the next target," "Up to now they have been detached, but this has hit everybody hard." he said. "As a result attitudes are hardening. It's back to square one as far as the political process is concerned. Even without this blast it would have been difficult to sell the peace pack-

The government of President Chandrika Bandaranaike Kumaratunga came to power in late 1994 pledging to end the war. It has pinned its hopes on a package of devolution proposals for minority Tamils, offering them wideranging legislative and executive powers in majority-Sinhalese Sri Lanka.

- AFP/UNB photo

An all-party parliamentary select committee meets this month to discuss the proposals, which have won wide support among Colombo intenectuais and overseas. If they pass that first hurdle the package goes to the full Parliament, where it needs two-thirds support, and then to a referendum. To pass Parliament, it will need backing from some defectors from the main opposition United National Party (UNP) whose 17-year-reign was ended by Kumaratunga's People's Alliance.

Off the Record

Only those without sin

can call her unsuitable

stone." Many Argentines have complained that Madonna, famed for her raunchy stage, antics, is unfit to play the part of former first lady Eva Peron, whom many Argentines consider a saint.

Made the arrived in dry which the manth to shoot the thin Event and has come under a barrage of criticism train nard-line Personsi supporters, including calls for her

President Carlos Menem, head of the modern-day Peronist Party, has Inbeled Maderens "totally unsuitable" to play the part, the Euenos Aires Archbishop Antonio Quarracino has called her "blasphemous ... an utter dis-

Ognenovich begged to differ. "Although it's true this woman has shown sacrilege in some of her performances, I believe that rather than judge the person playing the part, we should concentrate on how she does it." he said. "It's important to ask: How does Christ see Madonna? He doesn't look at what she has done, rather at what she can become and then do," he said.

Misuse of internet!

NEW YORK: Three 13-year-old boys have been accused of plotting to blow up their school after learning how to build a bomb over the internet, police said on Friday, reports Reuter.

The boys were arrested on Wednesday after other students at Pine Grove Junior High School in Minoa, New York, heard rumours of their plans and police were alerted, said Capt. William Bleyle of the nearby Manlius police department.

The boys planned to break into the school on Saturday and plant a home-made fertiliser bomb in the office, he

One of the boys, believed to be the ringleader, admitted to police that the three eighth graders learned how to build the bomb from instructions they found on the internet, the global network accessible from home computers.

Russia sells license to China to build fighter

MOSCOW, Feb 3: Russia has sold China a license to build SU-27 fighter jets in a deal worth more than two billion dollars, the commander of the Russian air force told the Interfax news agency on Friday. reports AFP.

General Piotr Deinekin said the deal was signed at the end of last year and that Russia is negotiating similar contracts with other countries.

Moscow committed to providing China with assembly lines to build the planes and to train people to run them.

Herzegovina and the federa-Feb 3: SARAJEVO. Bosnia's Serbs will maintain tion." Bildt said in a statetheir hold on parts of ment.

Serbs in four Sarajevo Sarajevo despite a Dayton neighbourhoods and suburbs peace accord deadline that have said they are afraid of falls midnight Saturday for administration by their the Muslim Croat federation former Bosnian enemies. to take authority for these areas, high representative Carl Some 10,000-12,000 of 70,000 people living in the Ildiza, Ilijas, Grabavica and Vogosca sectors have already left, with possibly over half of those remaining set also to go. This handover is particularly important because a failure for Serbs, and Muslims to live together in Sarajevo, the Bosnian capital, could torpedo the peace process. It is also symbolic because the Bosnian war began in these neighbourhoods in April

The D plus 45 deadline that fails Saturday at mid-

Serbs to maintain hold on parts of Sarajevo defying deadline night, 45 days after NATOled peacekeepers began deploying December 20, mandates faction armies to withdraw from areas they are to transfer and for the incoming party to take over civilian control.

> Serb may troops may have already withdrawn from these areas as part of a Dayton deadline but Serb authorities will be allowed to maintain their police and the Muslim Croat federation will not be moving in its administrators and police. Bildt's office said.

The ground commander of peacekeeping forces in Bosnia Herzegovina, British lieutenant general Sir Michael Wale told reporters at a bridge in Gravica Friday." clearly, the collivation of the flower of peace is going to be a slowing process. It's not going to happen overnight." Referring to the Saturday midnight deadline. Walker said. "We tend to talk about these days as if they are time lines and once gone they're gone.

An old woman from the Srebrenica enclave, which was overrun by Serbs last summer hurls stones at the local government building over the chain of police officers in Tuzla on Friday. The Srebrenica women demonstrated for the third day against the continued silence of the whereabouts of their missing relatives. After two hours of demonstrations outside the government offices without any reply, the demonstration turned violent and the 300 women and children blocked roads, tried to force their way into the building and threw stones, smashing most of the windows in the office complex. —AFP/UNB photo

He said the NATO-led Implementation Force (IFOR) was still "monitoring compliance" from earlier deadlines in the Dayton peace accord for Bosnia. Walker spoke to reporters at the brotherhood and unity bridge, the main connection across the Miljacka River between the Serb and Muslim parts of Sarajevo. The bridge, a front line during the war of concrete and sand bag barriers, risked during the peace to become the Bosnian capital's Berlin marks scar walls.

But IFOR, which has swept clear army checkpoints throughout Bosnia-Herzegovina Tuesday took down the barricades at the bridge and on Thursday said there would be freedom of movement across it.

This symbol was somewhat tarnished on Friday when Serb police banned journalists with IFOR passes from crossing, unless they had another pass from the Bosnian Serb government in Pale. 15 kilometres (nine miles) east of Sarajevo.

You have seen Crgavica yourself. It is a grim lace where a lot of reconstruction effort is needed." Walker said about the suburb where most windows in the highrise apartment houses are blown out and shrupnel

Steiner, assistant to Bildt said Serb police would remain in Grvavica and the other Serb until the next deadline, March 19 at midnight, or D plus 90. The police would have to abide by the rules of the Muslim Croat Federation. and would have to show themselves to be moving to prepare the transfers of The Serbs would also have to stop looting, particularly of "industrial goods. Steiner said.

Asked how the Bosnian government had greeted the delay. Steiners said they have been constructive because they realized it is in their own interest to show as much understanding for the Serb concerns as possible.

Lawsuit filed to admit blacks in SA whites' schools

PIETERSBURG, S Africa. Feb 3: Provincial authorities filed a lawsuit Friday to force an all-white public primary school in a remote farming town to admit three black pupils and to guarantee their safety, reports AP. The dispute exposes racial prejudice that has flared publiely on occasion since Nelson Mandela became South Africa's first black president in 1994, but poses little threat of derailing his programme to building a multiracial society. The school last week prohibited the three children from enrolling. Their home has recently been sprayed with graffiti as the case has gained national attention.