UK instts endorse BUET degree course

The Civil Engineering degree courses of the Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology (BUET) have been accredited by three engineers' institutions of the United Kingdom, says a press release.

The Institution of Civil Engineers, Institution of Structural Engineers and Chartered Institution of Building Services Engineers approved the accreditation in a meeting of the joint board of moderators in London recently.

On full accreditation, BUET Civil Engineering graduates will be qualified to apply for chartered membership of the British institutions.

The department is the first in the South Asia region to be recognised by the three UK institutions.

A three-member team of moderators of the joint board visited the BUET Civil Engineering Department recently to examine its courses, examination procedure, students' background and performance, quality of teachers and their academic background, laboratory, library and other facilities.
