An appology to vehicle-owners

By Staff Correspondent
One microbus belonging to an NGO was reportedly requisitioned by the traffic police in the city Thursday night.
The vehicle of World View, Bangladesh, an international NGO working with media development was requisitioned without any prior notice, claimed Shahzad Khan, an official of the organisation.
According to him the same vehicle was requisitioned for seven days in January as well. Khan asked, "Are they entitled to requisition vehicles owned by the international NGOs."
The officials of the traffic police on the other hand, argued saying in emergency situation they could requisition vehicles of government organisations as well as those in private use.

Some officials of traffic police said, earlier they tried not to book the same vehicle within a period of three months. The situation now, according to them, was different, as there were too many agitation programmes within a very short span of time.
To a question why they do not send any prior information to the owners, they said, in that case they often received phone calls from high officials requesting not to requisition vehicles of particular persons.
The DC Traffic Noor Mohammad in his comment said, "This is awkward... but we have no option... the order of requisition lands from top level."
