

Pabna Chamber election held amid sharp division among the members

From Ranesh Maitra

PABNA, Apr 12: The elections of Pabna Chamber of Commerce and Industries (P.C.C.I.) was held as per schedule on April 1. Fifteen members of the Executive Committee have already been declared elected officially. On the other hand, the Hon'ble High Court Division of the Supreme Court, passed an order on 30.4.95 restraining the Administrator (Additional District Magistrate) of the P.C.C.I. from functioning as the Administrator of Pabna Chambers. But the Administrator, when contacted over telephone, told The Daily Star that he did not receive any copy of the impugned order of the Hon'ble High Court. Before holding the elections or even before making over the change to the newly elected committee.

The Administrator further stated the results of the elections held on April 1 were already published and hung upon the Notice Board of the P.C.C.I.

duly signed by him. A spokesman of the P.C.C.I. disclosed that of the total 1,212 voters, 602 voters cast their votes and of them, 33 were declared invalid, in the said elections.

The members who have been declared elected to the new Executive Committee are as follows:

M A Kafee Sarkar, Alhaj Abdul Latif Biswas, Mobarak Hossain Ratna, Alhaj Abdus Sattar Biswas, Azhar Rahman Arjo, Anisur Rahman, Abdur Rais Khan, Jahurul Islam Bishu, Mahbubul Alam, Abdullah Al Mahmud, Arjan Ali, Ashrafur Alam, Sheikh Mahtab Uddin, Solaiman Hossain, Abdul Majid, A B M Fazlur Rahman, Rabul Islam, Abdur Gafur Khan, Abdur Rahman Noor, Anwar Hossain and Abdur Raquib Khondakar.

Advocate Abul Ahsan Gora, former President of the P.C.C.I., upon whose application, the impugned order dated 30.3.96 was passed by the Hon'ble High Court, told that none from his group and also from another group working in the P.C.C.I. participated in the elections held on April 1. He also claimed only one group led by M A Kafee Sarkar participated and he might have got his own panel elected. M A Kafee Sarkar was later elected president of the P.C.C.I. by the newly elected members.

Amidst sharp division among the members, with so many groupings among themselves that led to filing of a number of civil and criminal cases during last several months and all of them remaining pending in different Courts including the Hon'ble High Court Division of the Supreme Court of the bewildered business community of Pabna witnesses the elections to the Pabna Chambers of Commerce and Industries on April 1, 1996. Over 50 per cent of the voters did not turn up.

When contacted, Akhter

Hossain, ADM, Pabna and Administrator of the P.C.C.I. told The Daily Star over telephone that the allegations regarding genuineness of voters, scheduled election and formation of Appeal Committees were not correct and claimed that he maintained strict neutrality and impartiality and admitted that it would have been better if some compromises could have been earlier arrived at.

He asserted that all his efforts for creating an understanding failed because all the parties were adamant and also said that he found no valid ground for postponing elections scheduled to be held on April 1.

Although the elections were held and new office bearers stepped in, many genuine traders were keeping them away from the Chambers as none could be sure how far the committee or the elections would be able to obtain legal validity.

Drought may affect jute output target in Chandpur

From Our Correspondent

CHANDPUR, Apr 12: Jute cultivation in Chandpur district has been adversely affected due to deteriorating drought situation during the last one month.

Agriculture Extension Department has taken up a target to cultivate jute in 30 thousand acres of land during the current season. Under the jute cultivation plan about 10 thousand acres of land will be brought under local variety and 20 thousand acres of land will be brought under Tosa variety. Jute sowing season has already been started from February and will continue till end of April. But during the period only 20 per cent of the target have been achieved.

According to farmers price hike of fertilisers, scarcity of high yielding variety seed and price spiral of other agri-inputs and draw backs of irrigation are the impediments in the way of achieving the target.

Wide allegation of line pilferage

Majority of telephone subscribers in Sherpur receive ghost bills

From Ratan Chowdhury

SHERPUR, Apr 12: Many months have passed since submitting the written allegation against the local T & T Board but the district's nearly 600 telephone subscribers including government officials in Sherpur are yet to get a smooth and satisfactory service from the concerned department. Of the total number of clients only about 250 subscribers with NWD telephone connections have less complaints. Introduced in March 1988 the NWD telephone facilities are confined in district headquarters only.

Talking to The Daily Star, Md. Habibur Rahman Fanu an executive member of Sherpur Chamber of Commerce and Industry and also a veteran Freedom Fighter who intends to float an welfare association for the telephone subscribers in the district said, the over-billing still remains a problem for the majority of the subscribers. He alleged that a section of the unscrupulous employees of the local telephone department is responsible for the present sufferings of the general subscribers. These staff maintain a group of dishonest subscribers in various location and localities of the town and get regular commission from them in exchange of offering special treatment.

Elaborating special privileges extended to the particular group of subscribers, Fanu said that a 'favoured' client is allowed to make unlimited number of calls, both local or long distance, under Nation Wide Dialling (NWD) system at a more or less fixed monthly rate or per call at the rate of between Taka 15 and 20. Ten to 15 calls are recorded each minute depending on the measure of distance. But this type of client gets monthly bill which does not exceed the negotiated rate. But all his excess calls are evenly distributed in the telephone connection of other subscribers. Fanu stated. He even offered this correspondent to accompany him to visit one such 'favoured' client at Nayanirbazon of the pourashava from where telephone calls can be made to any district under direct dialling. There will be no charge, the subscriber has to pay telephone bill at a fixed rate. Whether he makes any call or not the subscriber must pay the amount. So he remains always ready to entertain any friend wishing to make calls within the town or to other districts directly. Habibur Rahman Fanu added.

Another subscriber, Bijoy Karmakar who has been keenly following the performance of over all telephone system in the town. He told The Daily Star that it is a common phenomenon when one hears a mild stroke in one's set and immediately on picking up the receiver, finds the connection dead. Often this happens early morning and by evening the dead set returns to life with a similar stroke although no complaint is lodged with the telephone office. The whole day, this line was diverted for use by others, of course at the cost of the subscribers hard earned money. The subscriber will invariably get an inflated bill after the month is over.

The local telephone department office reportedly refuses to listen to the subscribers' complaint that the calls were wrongly recorded.

He also said that there are innumerable cases in which monthly bills showing large number of calls although their sets remained totally dead for long, long time.

In case of written complaints to the concerned authority often a subscriber gets a printed questionnaire by post. The complainants are asked to submit the proforma after filling in. Some of the questions relate to the location of the set whether in bed room or in the drawing room, whether there was any function during the period of complaint or whether the subscriber maintains a log book for registering the calls. Sri Bijoy Karmakar told The Daily Star.

Another subscriber, Dr Abdul Wahed informed that very often a complainant is served with a set reply that bill has been found to be correct or examined. The subscriber is asked to pay the bill to avoid disconnection. On rare occasions a complainant gets a revised bill made on the basis of review of calls during the last six months from the period of complaint. This revision is not done more than twice in a year. Dr Wahed said. A disgruntled subscriber said that the revision is nothing but an eye-wash in case of a revision, the bill for the next month is again inflated, the subscriber complained.

Another aggrieved subscriber told this correspondent that during the last five years he has paid not less than taka 40,000 for his domestic set as additional amount by way of over-billing. Now he wants no telephone connection at his house.

This subscriber is a chief of a private company of the district. He told that telephone men approached him immediately after installation of the set at his residence for a monthly honorarium and in return assured him of a fixed bill per month irrespective of the volume of the calls. They returned disappointed following a curt reply from him. "Since then I never got peace with my set. I have meticulously kept the record of calls but could never convince the department that there is over-billing," he commented painfully.

When contacted a senior staff of the local telephone department (T&T) said that the question of over-billing could not arise as there was no enmity between the subscribers and the staff. No official of the department can gain individually by charging extra money from a subscriber because the revenue earning is deposited with the government treasury, said In-Charge, Assistant Engineer, Sri Shaha Babu.

He said in view of high demand for new connections we are quite unable to give further telephone connections because higher authority is yet to allocate any materials.

On the other hand, due to negligence by the higher authority of Telegraph and Telephone Department channels of 151,152,161 and 162 are yet to get connection in the district. Due to absence of these channel connections government continued to be deprived of huge revenue.

About five thousand people are live in foreign countries. Their relatives are not getting facility to talk with them even in emergency cases.

At least Tk 4.50 crore can be earned by this source as revenue per year. Besides, few months back six cordophone booths were introduced in two thanas of the district. But the booths most of the time remain out of order. Several time local people of all section demanded the connection of 151,152,161 and 162 but authority could not fulfill the essential channel connection for unknown reasons.

Notices of land acquisition for JMB' project could not be served

From Our Correspondent

SIRAJGANJ, Apr 12: Notices of land acquisition for the approach road on western side of Jamuna Multipurpose Bridge Project could not be served amid massive resistance from the villagers.

A magistrate and police force went to serve notices of land acquisition in Saidabad Khidir and Dadda Mouzas in Sirajganj side.

But the land owners refused to receive the notices. The land owners alleged that the rate of compensation money was too low and they will not allow acquisition until the rate is enhanced.

Non-govt teachers want salaries before Eid

Different teachers' organisations have urged the caretaker government to disburse the current months' salaries of non-government teachers before the Eid-ul-Azha allowing them to celebrate the holy festival, reports UNB.

In a joint statement yesterday, the Bangladesh Federation of Teachers' Association and its component bodies also praised the government decision to pay the current month's salaries of the employees of government, semi-government and autonomous organisations by April 25.

They called for making a similar special arrangement for the teachers of private schools, colleges and madrasahs, saying these teachers mainly depend on government allocation.

The signatories to the statement included BFTA chairman Sheikh Amanulla, secretary general Kazi Faruq Ahmed and Bangladesh College Teachers' Association president AKM Zahurul Islam.

Hasina tells pry teachers AL to remove illiteracy if voted to power

Awami League President Sheikh Hasina yesterday said, if voted to power, her party will take programmes to eradicate illiteracy from the country within 10 years, reports UNB.

"We have a clear and concrete plan for stamping out illiteracy from the society," she said while addressing the leaders of Bangladesh Primary Teachers' Association at the party's Dhanmondi office.

President of the Association, Abul Kalam Azad led the delegation.

Hasina said Awami League believes that development of the country is not possible without eradicating illiteracy and so it always attaches top priority to education.

"Poverty is the main problem of our country," she said adding that the expansion of education only can free the nation from the curse of poverty.

The Awami League Chief said the student community of our country passes their days idly after examination. It would be easier and cheaper to eradicate illiteracy by using their leisure period.

"The past governments took no effective measure to eradicate illiteracy and expand education. It was busy in amassing wealth," Hasina said and pledged that her party will do every thing to rebuilding the nation.

Hasina said the Awami League had established an independent and sovereign Bangladesh after a long struggle, if Awami League gets co-operation of the countrymen it will restore the lost dignity of the nation through economic emancipation, she added.
