

G-24 faults multilateral loan conditions

WASHINGTON, Apr 23: Developing countries within the International Monetary Fund yesterday accused multilateral lending institutions of imposing loan conditions that amounted to protectionism for the industrialised world, reports AFP.

Finance ministers from the Group of 24 countries, in a statement issued after their meeting here, also expressed concern over the effectiveness of a proposed IMF-World Bank initiative to ease the burden of the most heavily indebted nations.

But they backed efforts by the fund to boost its financial resources, urging that the IMF to double the contributions, or quotas from member countries.

On the work of multilateral development banks, the G-24 stressed that conditions attached to financial assistance should be directly relevant to the success of the programmes they support and performance should be judged solely on the basis of objectively measurable criteria.

The ministers faulted the use of "environmental, governance, human rights, labour standards or other issues to further protectionist interests in industrial countries."

The group also considered a joint debt alleviation proposal from the IMF and the World Bank and said it should apply to the "total debt" rather than simply to debt owed to multilateral institutions.

But the ministers insisted that eligibility criteria should not be "so restrictive as to exclude some of the countries for whom this facility is intended."

The initiative would require a limited number of countries whose debt has been deemed to be unsustainable over the long-term to meet certain conditions over six years before relief would be available from both multilateral institutions and government creditors in the club of Paris.

"The proposed periods for the establishment of a track record were excessively long and rigid," the ministers found.

The meeting yesterday, which precedes the annual spring gathering Tuesday of the IMF and World Bank, was chaired by Qazi Alimullah Deputy Chairman of the Planning Commission of Pakistan.

EU urges US to drop trade policy on Cuba

LUXEMBOURG, Apr 23: European Union Foreign Ministers called on the United States yesterday to drop trade policy to stop foreign investment in Cuba, Iran and Libya, reports Reuters.

In a statement, ministers from the 15-nation bloc said they had "deep concern" about the effect of US policies on transatlantic trade.

They ordered EU officials to look into legal or other actions that the bloc might take at a later date if necessary, including a formal complaint to the World Trade Organisation.

Key among the ministers concerns was the Cuban Liberty and democratic solidarity act or Cuba Law recently enacted by Washington.

Under the legislation, US citizens could take foreign companies to court if they made profits from property deemed to have been expropriated from individuals by the Cuban government after the Cuban revolution.

"The law is contrary to international law and to the interest of the EU concerning trade and investment," the statement said.

The ministers also criticised US plans for proposed sanctions legislation against non-US companies doing oil and gas business in Iran and Libya.

Dr. Sadaat Hossain, Chairman, National Board of Revenue and Secretary, Internal Resources Division of the Ministry of Finance speaking at the monthly luncheon meeting of the Foreign Investors' Chamber of Commerce & Industry at the Dhaka Sheraton Hotel yesterday. Seated next to him are: Mahub Jamil, President, FICCI and Jahangir Bin Alam, Secretary of the Chamber.

Iraq accuses UN of changing oil-for-food agreement term

UNITED NATIONS, Apr 23: Iraq accused the United Nations of changing the terms of the oil-for-food agreement they were negotiating, but said it would not break off the talks, reports AP.

US Ambassador Madeleine Albright met with UN Secretary-General Boutros Boutros-Ghali on Friday and Monday to express concern that the United Nations and Iraq were moving toward an agreement that was too flexible.

UN officials gave Abdul Amir al-Anbari, the chief Iraqi negotiator, a new negotiating document on Monday.

"We were given a new document which does not take into consideration all the negotiations which we have been conducting over the last two months," al-Anbari said.

"They changed almost every paragraph."

"I will have to contact my government," al-Anbari said. "Everything will be decided tomorrow."

The UN proposal would allow Iraq to sell dollars 1 billion in oil every 90 days to pay for food and humanitarian aid. The funds would be placed in an escrow account and would not be available to Saddam Hussein's government.

Iraqi and UN negotiators began their third round of talks on the details of the proposal earlier this month.

The United Nations imposed sanctions against Iraq in 1990, after Baghdad's invasion of Kuwait and the United States has insisted that the UN proposal must be an exemption to the sanctions and not a partial lifting of the trade embargo.

Diplomats have said they will not consider lifting the sanctions until Iraq fully cooperates with arms monitors dismantling Baghdad's programmes for weapons of mass destruction.

A US official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said that under the emerging agreement, there were fears that it would be possible for Iraq to manipulate funds in the UN account and there were concerns that Iraq might have used food distribution in the north, home to the Kurdish minority, to further its control over the area.

Siemens subsidiary plans expansion in China, SEA

HANOVER, Germany, Apr 23: The President of ASI, a subsidiary of German electronics giant Siemens, said Monday his company is pursuing big expansion plans in China and Southeast Asia, reports AP.

Calling the plans "ambitious" ASI president Herbert Steffen also told reporters at the Hannover Industrial Fair. "We expect that by the turn of the millennium our sales in China and Southeast Asia will reach one billion marks (667 million dollars)," he annually.

ASI has seven Chinese joint ventures that are or will be soon operating in the Chinese and Southeast Asian markets.

Steffen didn't say how much his company's annual sales in China and Southeast Asia currently are, but said he expects the sales of ASI, Siemens drives and standard products group, are expected to grow annually by 6 per cent through the year 2000.

With sales of 7.4 billion marks (4.9 billion dollars) and new orders of 7.8 billion marks (5.2 billion dollars) in fiscal year 1995, ASI is the fifth largest of the 17 Siemens operating groups.

Siemens is Germany's largest electronics company, with operations in rail transport, components, computers, semiconductors, telecommunications and power plants.

The company reported a net profit of 2.08 billion marks (1.4 billion dollars) in the fiscal year ending Sep 30, 1995, up from 1.99 billion marks (1.3 billion dollars) the previous year.

CDC raises new investments worldwide by 15 pc in '95

LONDON, Apr 23: The British Commonwealth Development Corporation (CDC) increased new investments worldwide by 15 per cent in 1995 to 276 million sterling and achieved a pre-tax return on capital of 9.2 per cent, the annual report said, reports Reuters.

Investments at the end of 1995 were 1.48 billion sterling (from 1.37 billion sterling in 1994) in 369 enterprises in 50 countries.

CDC, Britain's overseas development finance institution, said 90 per cent of new approvals were in poorer countries and 47 per cent of that was in Sub-Saharan Africa.

The corporation operates primarily, but since 1969 no longer exclusively, in commonwealth countries. It opened new offices in Mozambique, Uganda, Bangladesh and a second office in India in 1995, and received permission to operate in Laos and Cuba.

The corporation said it was now focusing more on "pre-emerging markets" including Vietnam, Nicaragua and Mozambique, as countries like Hong Kong, Singapore and Malaysia "have outgrown the need for CDC input," the report said.

Wheat flour price rises 4 pc in Sri Lanka

COLOMBO, Apr 23: The Sri Lankan government yesterday increased the price of wheat flour by nearly four per cent, officials here said, reports AFP.

The price rise is bound to have a major impact on the official cost of living index, which gives substantial weightage to the price of bread and is subsidised to elect a low inflation figure, private bankers said.

The retail price of a kilo of wheat flour was raised from 13,000 rupees to 13,500 rupees (27 US cents) with immediate effect, the governments announced.
