Blackburn takes 5th place in Hungary

Italian Guido Cappellini notched up his second successive victory in the IJM Formula 1 World Championship after claiming first place in the Grand Prix of Hungary. The win makes it two out of two for the reigning world champion after his victory in Sardinia a fortnight ago, says a press release.

Jones' teammate, Paul Blackburn, failed to take advantage of his excellent performance in the shoot-out with a poor start from third position on the grid, but drove superbly to climb from 9th position from the start to the 5th — one better than his first ever FI Grand Prix in Sardinia.

An AFP file photo shows Wembley Stadium. It will stage the opening match of the 1996 European soccer championship — England vs Switzerland on June 8. Besides, two of England's Group A matches against Scotland and the Netherlands, a quarterfinal, semifinal and final will be held there.

The beleaguered Brazilian

A boisterous submission

SEOUL, June 1: The day after being told to join hands to put on world soccer's main event, South Korea and Japan on Saturday expressed hope that it could be a golden opportunity to mend ties — and fear that their feud could continue into the next millennium, report agencies.

The 15 cities and provinces, which have agreed to build or renovate soccer stadiums to get a share of World Cup profits, also expressed disappointment as some of them were likely to be weeded out from the list of hosts.

UN awards Samaranch

GENEVA, June 1: International Olympic Committee chief Juan Antonio Samaranch of Spain and US opera star Barbara Hendricks were on Friday presented with United Nations medals for their role in Anti-Smoking campaigns, reports Reuters.

Japanese dailies reacted with mixed feelings to the decision with some welcoming it and others regretting the "bitter choice". The FIFA decision on co-hosting was "unusual," but Japan's accepting it was "unavoidable," the conservative Yomiuri Shimbun said.

The ceremony was held to mark the WHO's "World No-Tobacco Day," celebrated annually on May 31 to combat what the agency describes as a worldwide scourge costing hundreds of thousands of lives.

The Yomiuri story noted the South Korea had pushed Japan out of a plan to host the World Cup along with regretting Japanese politicians failure to back up their nation's campaign to host the event.

Delta Airlines won its award for becoming in 1995 the first US carrier totally ban smoking on its flights. The Kuwaiti Minister was honoured for a decree last year which banned smoking in hospitals and health centres in the Emirate.
