MSSK to set up 500 libraries

The Mukti Juddha Smriti Sangrakkhan Kendra (MSSK) (centre for preservation of Liberation War memories) has a plan to set up at least 500 libraries across the country in order to preserve the memories of Liberation War in 1971, reports BSS.

Speaking at a news conference in the city, chairman of the centre Professor Kabir Chowdhury said, "we have given the priority to the areas, where the anti-liberation communal forces are active, to set up the library initially as it is quite expensive one."

The central library of the project has been set up at Mirpur in the city and 45 branches have already been established in different areas, he said.

The remaining libraries would be set up as early as possible, he further said.

Vice chairmen of the centre poet Shamsur Rahman and artist Aminul Islam and secretary Shahriar Kabir also spoke on the occasion.

Prof Chowdhury said, "we would like to set up libraries at least one at every thana so that the new generation might be aware of Liberation War."

Publications at home and abroad on Liberation War, films, photographs and paintings would be preserved at the libraries. Documentaries would be shown, and seminars and workshops on Liberation War activities would be arranged time to time, he said.

Accusing the past government, Prof Kabir Chowdhury said after 25 years of Liberation such initiative was not taken by the government.

He said the museum on Liberation War was set up by this centre and the library project would also be implemented by the centre though we don't get the government support.
