Combined Service Delivery Programme opens

Health and Family Welfare Adviser Maj Gen (Retd) Abdur Rahman Khan has underlined the need for Combined Service Delivery Programme to save valuable time and work-force in health and family welfare sectors, reports UNB.

The combined programme can play a pivotal role in ensuring better service to mother and children, and the able couple by checking waste of time and workforce," he said while inaugurating the "Combined Service Delivery Programme" yesterday.

Health Ministry organised the programme in collaboration of UNICEF for 14 districts of the country, said a PID handout.

Some 1,08,000 immunisation centres (outreach) and 36,000 satellite clinics are separately providing medicare service to the country's mother and children.

In near future the mother and children will be provided health service from a specific centre by involving the satellite clinics and outreach centres through the Combined Service Delivery Programme, the handout said.
