Sheikh Hasina: A profile

Sheikh Hasina was born on 28th September 1947 at Tungipara, a remote village under Gopalganj district which is also birth place of the Father of the Nation Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman. She is the eldest daughter of Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, the founder of independent Bangladesh and the democratically elected Head of the State. Her mother Begum Fazilatunnesa was widely respected as a tender hearted lady and for love for the poor and oppressed people.

In 1968 Sheikh Hasina was married to an eminent scientist of Bangladesh M A Wazed Miah and they are now the parents of one son and a daughter. After her marriage Sheikh Hasina continued her studies and she graduated from the University of Dhaka in 1973. Scion of a political family, she survived the carnage as they were then on a visit to West Germany. Her divine fate led her to escape the conspiracy of eliminating the entire family of the father and subsequently bringing her to the leadership of the largest political organisation in Bangladesh.

Sheikh Hasina was unanimously elected the President of the Awami League in 1981, while she was still in exile. She was forced to live in exile because of the restrictions put on her return home by the then government in Bangladesh. Ending six years in exile she returned home finally on 17 May 1981 to tumultuous welcome by million of people when she declared, "I have nothing to lose, I pledge you to fight for restoration of the democratic rights of my people."

In 1992, Sheikh Hasina was once again elected unanimously the president of the party.

Sheikh Hasina earned when she converted the historic house 'Bangabandhu Bhavan' into 'Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman Memorial Museum' which is a silent witness of many historic events including the Nation's Liberation War and the assassination of its founding father Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman. Sheikh Hasina constituted a Trustee Board with herself as its Chairperson.

She is an avid reader of books and journals on international politics, literature and social changes. Author of several books, one on 'The plight of the street children', the origin of autocracy and the other one 'Elimination of poverty and some thoughts'. She has written numerous articles on different Socio-Economic and political issues of the country. She was a prominent member of a cultural organisation called 'Culture and Literature Sangha' and a founding member of Abul Krira Chakra, a leading sports club of the country.
