Build the Future with Action and Vision

Rtn. M. Ali Mahbub, PHF
District Governor 1996-97

Rtn M A Mahbub
District Governor, 3280

It is a great feeling to begin a new Rotary year. As the District Governor of the Rotary International (R.I.) District 3280 Bangladesh, I have the privilege and honour to exchange my vision with the 2,500 dedicated Rotarians of Bangladesh so that we can join hands to carry forward the good work of Rotary into yet another year.

At the 1996 RI Assembly at Anaheim, like all the fellow governors I was reposed with a trust by the 1996-97 RI President, Rtn. Luis Vicente Gai. He called us the Governors "Plus." I, in turn, would name the Rotarians of Bangladesh as the Rotarian Plus. The word "Plus" - which has become so familiar to Rotarians since 1985, thanks to the PolioPlus programme - signifies the challenge to maximum effort, additional output, the extra mile, achievements never before achieved that all of us hope for and need. I am confident that Rotarians of Bangladesh would once again prove to be just that and even more by providing services in our communities. The Rotarians of Bangladesh would work hand-in-hand with the Government, NGOs, and other service providers to help alleviate the sufferings of our people.

In 1996-97, I wish and hope for us to be a motivated, vibrant, active, and visionary generation. We must carry Rotary's flag and its principles of service to all corners of Bangladesh. We must lead our Rotary District with dedication, responsibility, and commitment. We should reinforce Rotary in all areas, giving special emphasis to the membership development campaign and improve the level of information to the new Rotarians since a substantial number of Rotarians in our District have been club members for less than two years. We shall commemorate three important dates: the 50th anniversary of Rotary's founder Paul Harris' death, the 80th anniversary of the endowment fund called The Rotary Foundation, and 50 years of success in the Scholarships programme of our Foundation. Above all, we shall support The Rotary Foundation by all available means, especially achieving the eradication of polio. These we wish to undertake both at the club and the district levels during the 1996-97 Rotary year.

This year, the RI President chose "red brick" as the colour for the jackets that would be worn by the 1996-97 class of Rotary leaders. To him, civilization is like a big building made out of bricks - thousands and thousands of bricks. Each of us is a brick supporting the grand structure we call humanity. Brick is the most versatile and vital element of any structure. In essence, it has the potential of becoming something more. Its potential is endless. Placed just right, bricks can become a supreme creation of the human spirit. The only limitations are those imposed on it by the builder - the creativity, energy, and talent of the architect. My fellow Rotarian Plus: we are the bricks of Rotary. We are the base, the pillars, and the foundation of the building we call Rotary.

Today we have no way of changing the past, but today we have endless ways of changing the future. Destiny is not a matter of chance; it is a matter of choice. The future is not an opportunity to be wasted but rather a work to be built.

Nobel scientist Jonas Salk once said, "Our greatest responsibility is to be good ancestors." We can best pay our own debt to the past by building a better future for new generations on the framework our forebears established.

Rotary has a vital role to play in the times that lie ahead. Our ideals are universal. Our global organization is effective, and our programmes address the basic needs of humankind. As Rotarians, we are indeed architects of the future to the extent that we act on our commitment to service. If we are to achieve our destiny, if we are to participate as architects in the 21st century, it is time now to unfold a new blueprint. We must affix our personal stamp to a design for tomorrow.

Our first task as architects is to give our dream for the future a solid underpinning. As a living organization, our pillars are built on action. Every service we undertake is part of our testimony that Rotary's true value lies in the work we do. Our actions have always spoken more forcefully than words.

As Rotarians, we are indeed architects of the future if we act on our commitment to service. Our Rotary year is not an opportunity to be wasted but rather a work to be built. I give a clarion call to all of you to join with me as we work together to: BUILD THE FUTURE WITH ACTION AND VISION. Without action, "service above self" is merely an idealistic phrase. That's why the full participation of every Rotarian is the only way we can genuinely build the future with action. But we also need vision. Action without vision is often wasted, and vision without action is just a dream. Action with vision brings hope to the world.

In 1996-97, we can Build the Future with Action and Vision if we

- build the future by honouring our past;
- build the future by strengthening our clubs and increasing membership;
- build the future by bringing quality into vocational service;
- build the future by supporting The Rotary Foundation; and above all,
- build the future by preparing the new generations.

We stand at the threshold of making significant changes in all our lives if we all cared to reach out and touch those who need our support most. Rotary is a wonderful forum for fellowship and service. Let us spread the message of Rotary's Service Above Self and help bring smiles in the face of people in our respective communities. The ideals, plans and tools for our year are in your hands. Just as in your life you are the architects of your destiny, you are now the architects of Rotary's destiny.

The future is not out there, waiting to be met. The future is here, waiting to be created. It is in our hands. Today Rotarians can act as good ancestors by linking our ideal of service with the generations to come. Join me as we work together to BUILD THE FUTURE WITH ACTION AND VISION.

My wife, Gul Afruz joins me in wishing you and your family joy, happiness, and prosperity. May the Almighty guide us to a great Rotary year. Khoda Hafez.

Rotary's programme for new generations in Bangladesh

Rtn. Dr. Ishtiaque Zaman
District Editor

Not been exposed to the many options and opportunities that exist in today's complex world. Many Rotary clubs help out by maintaining career information shelves in schools and public libraries stocking them with guidebooks to careers and jobs, and relevant pamphlets, trade journals and audio-visual materials.

i. Service to youth is essential since...

Serving youth keeps Rotarians in step with the changing character of the society and community in which they live.

ii. Involvement with young people helps integrate club members into their communities.

iii. Keeping in step with the young helps Rotarians stay flexible and hopeful - two vital qualities that become renewed whenever youth and Rotary work together.

No matter how ardently Rotarians pursue their good works in the local and world community, these efforts will recede into history unless young people are prepared to assume the mantle of leadership and service when their time comes. Thus, Rotarians take special interest in developing the talent and enthusiasm of youth, giving them a sense of personal and civic responsibility.

The Rotary International President, Luis Vicente Gai's worldwide theme for 1996-97 is to Build the Future with Action and Vision. He has highlighted the need to build the future by preparing the New Generations. When we speak of children, adolescents, and young adults, we are referring to nearly half of the world's population. And for all of them, the time is today because tomorrow is often too late.

Our vision of the future, now more than ever, is the difference between success and failure. The New Generations are our investment in the future. Let us begin to build that future today.

District Governor Rtn. M. Ali Mahbub has urged upon all the Rotary Club Presidents to motivate their club members and community to sponsor their own programme for the new generations, including an open forum to listen to the concerns of our young people and to share our experiences with them. He has also challenged every Rotary club in the District to sponsor at least one interact or Rotaract club. For the first time, members of Interact and Rotaract clubs will receive presidential challenges. The areas targeted are internal growth, expanded service activities and increased contributions to The Rotary Foundation. It is hoped that with our combined ACTION and VISION the "Rotary Programmes for New Generations" will serve as the basis for building the future we all hope for in Bangladesh.

Building at Victoria Park (renamed Bahadur Shah Park), Dhaka. The Club was admitted to Rotary International on 26th February, 1938. Those charter members displayed worthiness of their selection in encouraging and fostering the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise in response to the need of the society. Instead of weekly meetings, in those days the regular club meetings were held fortnightly and the Founder Members used to meet at each member's place by rotation - in real Rotary fashion. It was indeed an exciting beginning.

The success of Rotary in Bangladesh is indeed a tribute to the worthy pioneers, who founded the first Club - the Rotary Club of Dhaka. These pioneers have been succeeded year after year by persons, whose leadership faith and devotion has built a glorious tradition of selfless service, fellowship, goodwill and understanding. To know the past is to build for the future. Contemporary Rotary - the present-day Rotary in Bangladesh is a dynamic, evolving movement, which has left a mark of excellence by providing services to those who need it most.

In January 1995, The Rotary International Council on Legislation, with representatives of all Rotary clubs in the world, declared the eradication of polio to be a goal of the highest priority. It was proposed by the Trustees of The Rotary Foundation and the Board of Directors of Rotary International. It passed unanimously. The significance is great. The Council is the same body that in 1986 authorised the campaign to raise the most ambitious that the representatives of 27,370 clubs said highest; not just the International leaders although they agreed.

While the nations themselves are providing about 80% of the cost to eradicate polio in their countries, it is not enough alone to immunise all their children. The shortage will amount, worldwide, to a about 650-750 million dollars in the critical years from now until the year 2000. Most of the money will be needed to purchase vaccines. Where will it come from? Some from Rotary International, may be as much as $85,000,000. Rotary is the largest non-governmental donor and there are other donors. The polio-endemic country governments themselves do the most. However, it must be the governments of presently polio-free countries, the governments of those people who will benefit the most. For instance, the United States can save a quarter of a billion dollars a year, every year after polio is eradicated, when it no longer needs to immunise its children. Large amounts also can be saved by the governments of polio-free Japan, Korea, Taiwan, France, Germany, Canada, Italy, Great Britain, and others.

Polio is preventable
Polio is a virus disease and is preventable. Government of Bangladesh and Rotarians are jointly working together with EPI to eradicate Polio from Bangladesh. Even if we remove Polio by the year 2000 yet remains the post polio problems and effects.

Polio usually affects the children below 5 years and may occur in some children even after the vaccine duly taken. It affects the nervous system and the muscles of the body. Mostly the lower limbs are effected or paralysed. This polio virus was isolated in 1957 and the injectable vaccine was invented in the year 1954 and in 1958 polio vaccine oral drops was invented.

are partly affected, 30% patients are severely paralysed and the rest 10% dies. The affected limbs may be surgically corrected. Another method is to give aid by calipers (Surgery). Rehabilitation and physical medicine is one of the important method of treatment. Cold orthopaedic cases may be treated by very little expenditures.

Both events underscore commitment to achieving a polio-free world. But eradicating the disease also poses a tremendous challenge. Vaccine shortages in Asia and the former Soviet Union could hamper eradication, according to the World Health Organisation (WHO). China, Bangladesh, India and Pakistan account for about 70 percent of the world's polio cases. India is making progress in reducing the incidence of polio and achieved a Switzerland, in May, member nations unanimously reaffirmed the goal of eradicating polio worldwide by the year 2000. At Rotary International's 1993 Convention in Melbourne, Australia also in May, Rotarians celebrated the symbolic immunisation of the world's 93-percent level of child immunisation in 1992. As for other countries "the problem is not political will or organization," says Dr. Ralph Henderson, assistant director-general of WHO. "The only thing they need is vaccine to move forward and we have not been able to mobilise that for

Foundation Committee 1996-97 Arch Klumph, the sixth President of Rotary International, called for the establishment of an endowment fund for the purpose of "doing good in the world." He said, "...we should look at the Foundation as being not something of today or tomorrow, but think of it in terms of the years and generations to come. Rotary is a movement for the centuries."

name of Paul P. Harris as the Founder of Rotary. Less known, even to the Rotarians, is the name of Arch Klumph. He was President of Rotary International in 1916-17. It was he who proposed to the 1917 convention of Rotary in Atlanta, Georgia, USA, the creation of an endowment fund for the purpose of promoting education and other services for community progress. The fund started with a contribution of only US dollar 26.50 from Rotary club of Kansas City, Missouri, USA, the surplus of funds left over from the 1918 Convention of Rotary. The initial years did not show any encouraging sign of big success. But since the death of Paul Harris in 1947, Rotarians all over the world started making contributions to the Rotary Foundation in honour of their founder. The first significant International Service Programme The Foundation was the grant of 18 Graduate Scholarships. Since then, millions of dollars has been spent on programmed Today, those who continue the tradition of honoring Paul Harris by contributing US$ 1,000 - or for whom US$ 1,000 is donated in their honour or memory - are designated Paul Harris Fellows.

The Foundation is supported by voluntary contributions from Rotarians and friends of Rotary world over. Such contributions are initially invested for a three-year period before they are expended on programmed.

All Rotary Foundation awards and grants are made in conjunction with Rotary clubs' and Districts' international service activities. Application for funding must be initiated by a Rotary Club or a Rotary District.

Rotary Foundation programmes support various humanitarian services, such as, Ambassadorial Scholarships, Grants for University Teachers to serve in developing countries, Group Study Exchange, Matching Grants, Health, Hunger and Humanity Grants, Rotary Volunteers to serve in countries other than their own, Polio eradication, Peace Forum, etc.

Scholarships
Started in 1947, The Rotary Foundation Scholarships programme supports about 1,200 scholars each year for graduate or undergraduate study in various disciplines. So far approximately 25,000 scholars from about 130 countries have received scholarships at a cost of about US Dollar 250 million. The scholarships are ambassadorial in nature, and scholars have a responsibility to speak to Rotary Clubs in their home and host countries.

Rotary movement in Bangladesh

PDG Dr. Mohammad Moniruzzaman
District Trainer 1996-97

Bangladesh in 1971 stalled the progress of Rotary at relevant times but the indomitable spirit of voluntary personal involvement in selfless service enabled Rotarians not only to survive but also to move forward with determination and commitment.

Rotary Club of Dhaka was organized by Rtn. Herbert Bryant under the sponsorship of Rotary Club of Calcutta, India of R.I. District 329 (the then District 89). Rtn. Phiroze Sethna was the District Governor of R.I. District 89 (India) at that time. The club held its first ever meeting, attended by 17 Rotarians, on 22nd December 1937 of the first floor of the Imperial Bank of India the worthy pioneers, who founded the first Club - the Rotary Club of Dhaka. These pioneers have been succeeded year after year by persons, whose leadership faith and devotion has built a glorious tradition of selfless service, fellowship, goodwill and understanding. To know the past is to build for the future. Contemporary Rotary - the present-day Rotary in Bangladesh is a dynamic, evolving movement, which has left a mark of excellence by providing services to those who need it most.

The spirit of Rotary's selfless service found in Bangladesh as a land ready for speedy and steady growth. While it took 38 years since 1937 to establish seven Rotary Clubs, it took only 20 year to establish 84 new Rotary Clubs. This speaks eloquently for the acceptance of this message of Rotary by the people of Bangladesh. Today, Bangladesh has a Rotary District and boasts a membership of 2500 dedicated Rotarians united in the ideal of service.

Rotarians have played vital roles in community service in Bangladesh. It is not possible to describe them in details. The significance of the endeavours of the Rotarians lies in the fact that they played the role of pioneers in many fields. In 1955, there was no facility in the country for providing education to the blind. Rotary Club of Dhaka established the first School for the blind. It had a very humble beginning but the school succeeded in providing much-needed education to blind children. It is worth mentioning that, a young blind boy, who got his education in the Rotary School, is now a successful young man and a dedicated Rotarian. The school has been handed over to the Government.

Education has always received keen attention of Rotarians. About 40 years ago, Rotary Club of Dhaka established the first Adult Literacy Centre in Dhaka. At first, the Centre did not receive the expected response but gradually succeeded in attracting interested adults. Later Rotary Club founded a Night School for the adults also.

Rotary is the biggest service organization of all times. It made a very humble beginning in 1905 with four men in Chicago. Its founder, Paul P. Harris, thought of building eternity. He added to our everyday life the idea that every man has a positive obligation - concern for the well-being of his neighbour. "Service above self" has been the guiding spirit of Rotary to inspire millions in 170 Nations and geographical areas to dedicate themselves to create world neighbourhood into a world brotherhood.

In Bangladesh Rotary symbolises new horizons of hope, with a humble beginning through the founding of Rotary Club of Dhaka in 1937. Rotary has recorded a steady growth despite difficulties, which at times seemed unsurmountable. The 2nd World War, the partition of India, the creation of Pakistan and the War of Liberation of

Vocational Service
For example, vocational service can be a service to youth. As respected representatives of a wide variety of professions and business concerns within our community, Rotarians have many opportunities to help young people who are preparing to enter the work force. Rotarians have much to offer the youth in our communities. Our individual skills and training may vary, and the way we choose to aid young people might differ. Some of us might prefer to work through Rotary's organised programmes such as Interact and Youth Exchange. Others might seek out opportunities on an individual basis.

Selecting vocation is not always an easy matter for young people, especially those who have
